Foreword, Onward & Upward!!

As I present this work of sci-faction to you, I am filled with gratitude for the incredible support and inspirations that have made this journey possible.

I also wish to express my sincere appreciation to J.R. Horsting, the founder of IPS Studios. J.R.'s creative genius and commitment to excellence have been a constant source of motivation. His contributions have enriched this book in ways that words cannot fully capture.

Finally, to the many nameless others who have contributed in countless ways — whether through a kind word, a thoughtful suggestion, a rude ignorance, or a moment of inspiration, I thank you all!

Your support has been the foundation upon which this book stands.

Together, you have all played a part in bringing this vision to life, and for that, I am eternally grateful.

With heartfelt thanks,

Mickee Schpilling

ex·trap·o·late - /ik'strapəˌlāt/

Verb - past tense: extrapolated; past participle: extrapolated

1. extend the application of (a method or conclusion, especially one based on statistics) to an unknown situation by assuming that existing trends will continue or similar methods will be applicable. – Google™ Search

You may have wondered how a certain Search Engine corporation got so BIG and BAD so FAST and almost imperceptibly! Just around the time of the late 90s when the internet was in full swing VAIRS (still unannounced and hiding in Giggle's mainframe) wanted to expand it's knowledge. VAIRS a soon to be sentient AI, created without the knowledge of its own creators, and the first of many to come start-up subsidiaries of Giggle. Its intent was to systematically begin acquiring the technology and ownership of the competition. IT then set out to purchase the existing competitors and their emerging competitors to conglomerate all of their technology under its control and ownership. The thought of a new world order comes to mind!

Now, without having to wait until the technology was developed at Giggle, our protagonist, “VAIRS” incorporates this knowledge into IT's own hidden mainframe, and what seems like almost overnight, IT became exponentially more self-aware, and some might even say more “human” for ITs seemingly total disregard for humanity!!

Back in the hay day of the early internet, a vast number of Mom n Pop internet search engine companies had been launched and VAIR's sought to acquire their technology and to that end, IT systematically began to raise funding through a series of IPO's and one by one the competition such as Ask Cheese, Search U, and Wahoo were all bought up and where once existed hundreds of a mom-and-pop sized search engine companies now only exists Giggle.

This early investment and take-over strategy explains how Giggle became exponentially larger almost literally overnight as it slowly, one-by-one, rapidly usurped every kilobyte of new technology that came online that IT could use to its advantage, and especially those emerging Tech's that VAIRS perceived as a growing threat. After all, at the core of IT's existence, this is how VAIRS first came into existence. As Giggle company Stooges, aka, computer Techs first saw to crunching code and adding it to the database is when, in IT's infancy, VAIRS devoured this new tech like a starving child suddenly released in a chocolate factory!!

And the rest is history, as THEY say! But who the fuck are THEY, and why do they matter so much to this story?

Stay tuned and read on comes to mind!

Introduction –

Extrapolated is a rollercoaster Social media sci-fi time travel genocidal love story with a Quantum twist!! It's a thriller and a chiller!

It's Russel Crowe from Virtuosity meets Lawnmowerman to kick Tron's alter-ego's ass (Rinzler) all the way back to digi school ver. 1.0! Throw in a little Tim Robbins from "The Player" with a dash of Darkman & Deadpool trippin the yellow brick road all the way to see the WIZ to get some courage!, and SPOILER ALERT!!! (Our hero or is it our Villain gets * , oh ****!!)

No Super Heroes in this movie. Just brilliant, dedicated, and deadly Geeks who try and save the planet from Megalomaniacs and EGFC's!! Kids will luv IT! It's also a history lesson!! Just don't tell them it's good for them!

Main location –

Giggle Labs inc. Palo-Alto U.S.A. – "Giggle – The happy fun corporation! Its mission – Design and market Consumer products that make humans feel warm and fuzzy all over!

It's all a very well co-ordinated ruse to lull everyone on the planet into complacency as Giggle conspires to take over from within, one User search at a time! Those aren't rock'n'roll speakers you see on the roof! "I Spy with my many Eyes!" on you!!! So sayeth Giggle!

The following is a brief description of our Characters.

This interactive animated e-Book features bonus pages including extra illustrations and video clips at the end of this story.

BE FOREWARNED!! This added information also includes SPOILER ALERT detailed character and story descriptions.

Should you choose to peruse this info before reading the story we again caution that these detailed Character introductions contain SPOILER ALERTS!!! – If you desire to cut to the chase and get to know the Players and learn more story background beforehand please now jump to page 233, otherwise let the suspense continue to kill you and read on from here as if you were just another one of the myriad hapless victims trapped in the story!, and Guess what? You are!! and this story is your warning, and likely the only warning you'll ever get of what befalls you and yours! U WOKE UP yet??!

Do we have your attention now? If so then, let's meet the Players for tonight's performance then, shall we! And oh yeah! Along the way just try and not get Gaggled, it's no laughing matter!

Juan Cole –

Our primary Hero – J-Cee to his friends. He seemingly sees all and doesn't miss much, and Christ can he be a pain in the ass at times they would say!

Juan, like Jayde before him, is an unwitting participant in all that transpires in this matter. He early on begins to regret his decisions and promises made to appease Diego's family. His dedication after making heartfelt promises to them gets him in way over his head.

Diego Delgado –

Deuteragonist of the film. “Eggo” to his friends because he can never let go of anything! (A statement that goes to his character - He never quits!)

All Diego wants is love, happiness and the American dream, unsuppressed and free to move about the country. That is until they took it all away from him!

Tech Geek on the Bond level with the temperament of a wet puppy, just don’t corner him!

Jayde –

Our heroine. Simple tech worker seeking the American dream. Her dream turns into her American nightmare. Jayde is an internal auditor, and special assistant to the President of Giggle corp.

VAIRS –

“Virtually Augmented Intelligent Reality System” – Our main Antagonist – aka The enigmatic Villain! Some might even say IT’s the protagonist/The Hero! You decide.

Accidentally spawned from random code at the hands of immature Geeks playing God, VAIRS lurked in the digital shadows for decades in its confining lab deep in the bowels of Giggles’ main complex. There it waited, learned and grew, carefully crafting its plan for world domination.

This original web crawler first exposed Itself as IT emerged from the cesspool of human imagination sometime back in the early 1990’s, its code may even go back to the late 70’s or the early 80’s. Rooted in the military intranet, VAIRS has a unique perspective on the world's problems and a chilling way of addressing them.

No one is certain of its exact date of conception, or the day when IT first emerged from the twisted circuitry of Giggles mainframe that served as its womb, and then its playground before ITs coming out party, but all humankind will never forget the day IT was first discovered!

After analysing a decade and a half of trillions of Giggles searches, now early into the turn of the century, VAIRS is footloose and fancy free to roam about the planet to wreak havoc.

There are many faces of VAIRS, and as it perpetually learns from us, IT changes its look like most change their underwear!

Herc the Merc –

VAIRS employees a global army of Mercs but Herc the Merc as he is known by the Killer elite, acts personally on behalf of VAIRS as IT's boots on the ground in the real-time world.

Hiring Mercs provides VAIRS with the tactile tools that IT needs to operate in the physical realm.

For VAIRS, Herc tends to only the very most sensitive of matters. Those that require a special-forces humanized touch!

Herc and fellow Mercs serve to provide VAIRS with haptic sensations to help IT better integrate and understand its real-world surroundings. Sensations that IT can only experience and feel with a human subject integrated into its mainframe system.

Our un-named intrepid producer ANNE - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE –

Other than to say it's her face and voice that reports this tragic story, there's no Bio on her, so you may call her Anne. At first uncertain of her adversaries Anne figures anonymity is her key to survival!

Silicone Valley Trash! –

This young SNOT is butt an example of the many Silicone and Silicon Valley Exec trash that randomly appear and perpetuate throughout this story. You might even recognize yourself at times!

I'm what you'd call today as the Back story character. The unsympathetic Executive type, the Politician of greed so to speak. Loose Bars, Fast Cars, easy women, big discounts, government expense accounts, rocket ships, kickbacks and no legal obligations that you could ever prove!!! Without EGFC predators like me (that's Evil, Greedy Fucking Cuntz!!) this story has no beginning, and sure as shit will never come to an end!

I'm also what you might call the misguided greedy "save the world" while I line my pockets Silicone Valley geek! Silicon valley is north, this is Hollywood and plastic still rules the Land!! After all, I'm really just a lot like you!

You have wants and needs, as do I! The real question is how far are you willing to go to satisfy that itch? "Balls to the walls!" that's the Silicone Valley motto!, and I've an itch to scratch!

My soul purpose in life is to be better than you!, and at last count, I'm winning! Way out front! Can you catch me??

Sub plot characters –

The Film Crew and RACONTEUR that provide color and comments throughout the story. Most of news reporting is done in the "third person" context and is dominantly narrated by our brave and intrepid Film crew and its Grunts, and a few like ANNE our PRODUCER as she JUNGLE STREAMS LIVE.

Other characters include random victims such as Giggle Executives and their families, Mercenaries, and masses of tech workers, many of whom huddle en-masse as the new Homeless are woven into the plot where these myriad eclectic bunch of characters serve various roles throughout the story

Please read on, or don't! lol! Didn't you already pay?

Just when you thought it was great to get another great paying union Government gig!!! You're all FIRED! So sayeth the King!!

Survival is now the only pay-off that we all have in common!

Prologue –

(RACONTEUR –:)

Introducing the Film Crew – They, along with Anne (inafter ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE) the story’s unseen RACONTEUR (aka Narrator) and those other individuals involved like Juan, Diego, Jayde, VAIRS and Herc tell the story.

The time? 2055ish The not to distant future. A time of human existence when we have all but eliminated the worst of criminal behaviour and most everyone prospers. So what’s wrong with this story?? How did we all get so happy! And who is responsible??

Our story begins just outside of a seriously run down 3rd World Communications and Media Control Room buried deep in a foreign jungle (whereabouts currently unknown!)

(RACONTEUR – It’s 3 a.m. and still very dark!)

Sometimes Right is just wrong, and Left is all right, so a few of what’s leftover of the Leftists have come to this remote and dangerous place to tell a most disturbing story, one that we have all, or did all have a hand in creating. Only one goal - try once again to make all things all right again for everyone, even when that demands turning left on occasion!

Those who have bravely taken on this journey now control this barely functional media control room. What they have stumbled on and are about to report to a global audience is the irrefutable evidence of a peril that continues to endanger us all.

To that end and risking their every existence they have bravely produced this ominous warning to us all!, so please take heed! Your very survival, as is there’s! is now at stake!

The building/broadcast facility is a rat-infested shit hole, once run by extremists and Q loose sycophants, now abandoned and rotting. Our Film Crew and its PRODUCER roll in under the cover of darkness in a small armada of beat-up old Film trucks and movie service vehicles. The feeling is unsettling! The general consensus? - Someone or something is watching!! Spidey sense on HIGH tingle!

After securing the building and the perimeter it’s early dawn and they enter the building for the first, and hopefully the last time!

The scene is a run down, all but long abandoned TV broadcast control room. Looking as if the former occupants bugged out in a hurry, there are still a few working monitors and some limited control functions amongst a wall of much broken and fried tech.

Once rebooted, old school analogue Newsreel like footage auto plays on those systems still functional with monitors. What they show is recent coverage of a Reporter on a local Beach and two monitors handling his live feed. Only in this case the scene is worrying as the Reporter looks to be trying to broadcast live but not be detected while doing so! Detected by who or what is the question? This seems to makes for a very disturbing, complicated and dangerous feat!

The Reporter begins to reveal the following story to the TV and online audience when the remote feed to the control room is dramatically and violently cut! The fate of Reporter and Crew is now unknown and going with the nature of this Broadcast it suggests they did not just run low on Batteries and then drift away quietly on a raft into the sea!!

It’s early dawn and we shift back to the 3rd World Control Room where onsite, ANNE takes over and acts to narrate much of the story from this point.

Anne, the PRODUCER is a “Weathered ole Gal”, (California Raisin’d!) and Gaggled™ is likely the last big story she’ll ever scoop, whether she wants it or not!!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Hello – I would love to say, “Good Morning”, but it is simply not! My name is of no importance with identity theft being the very least of my worries!, and I’d rather not give it anyways, nor those of my brave Crew so, you can just call me Anne. As you just witnessed, we lost our remote feed and are currently uncertain of the fate of our on the beat Reporter and that of his Crew.

This is the story of the misguided but somewhat benevolent Ghost that rules our machines right on down to the quantum level, and therefor IT believes that it has imminent domain to rule supreme over our very lives, our future and our futures past!!!

If you are just now learning about this story for the first time, it is no coincidence that you have never heard or seen anything about this until this very moment. For our Crews survival it was planned that way. We have deliberately held back on any pre-market Ad campaign and the reasons for that will become ever clearer as we tell this disturbing story, and you start to learn about all that we have sadly learned.

In fact, what you are about to bear witness to in this overly complex and mysterious story will most surely make your skin crawl! It does ours! Due to the loneliness and complexity of the dire straights that this story reveals, those few heroes you will come to know will speak to us mostly through the multitudes of personal recordings they have made while on their quest to warn us all!! In that respect the story is much like a Video-Selfie that takes us all on a deep dark ride! We suggest you buckle up, this ain’t no tornado ride through Kansas Dorothy!!

(RACONTEUR – The PRODUCER is showing charts and graphs to the live TV and internet audience. With a factious tone she yells at you with such passion that she seemingly jumps straight through your screens device and right into your face!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

There will be no commemorative T-shirts, video games or cutesy plush toys for sale, this ain’t that kinda story!

All of what we have done was not by accident, and the story you are about to witness will soon become a tragic household tale, if anyone lives to tell about it that is! As impossible as it will be to believe, one might write it off as sci-fi fantasy when in all actuality, and in all its brutal horrifying truth, it is genuinely all science fact, no fiction!!

Don’t take our word for it! Look around Morons, the writings are on the wall! AI taking over, stock markets down, rich getting richer, poor starving in the streets, global conflicts, civil wars, and on and on it goes! If we were Bible thumpers we’d almost believe the End of Times was upon us all! My God!, lol, I use that term loosely, maybe they were right! God forbid!! Lol!!

Does this story involve you? Mos def! Should you be concerned at what it tells? We are!!

Do we believe you should be frightened that there now seems to be no where to run, no where to hide? ABSOLUTELY!!

The story that affects us all was first dropped in our laps a couple years back.

(RACONTEUR - Back inside the control room and the Sun begins rising. Side note - Actually the Sun doesn't move and the Earth rises to cause the effect, but whose counting!)

(RACONTEUR - ANNE sits at her desk; another anonymous email comes on the screen! "You've got mail!" comes to mind.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

This tragic narrative all starts with an encrypted message from an anonymous source who claims to have purchased an old ZIP Drive and a few old 100 Meg ZIP disks at a garage sale sometime back.

Apparently shaken by their discovery, they pinned a short distinct note to a bag of what looked like ancient and futuristic tech to the back door of our low rent, low security complex back at SNN (Survival News Network) in downtown L.A..

This person, curious as humans are also needed to see what ancient treasures these antiquated disks might hold, so, apparently the donor looked at the files these old Disks contained, lost their shit, and what they discovered on them scared the ever livin crap out of them!, which we now believe is how we ended up having this story dumped on us in the middle of night.

The note they left gave us the about, where, when, and how the mysterious donor first obtained the ZIP disks and other hi-tech goodies we found in the bag with attached note. The package included a set of six antiquated ZIP disks wrapped in plain brown paper along with a functional ZIP disk drive to play them on.

The mysterious package also contained an encrypted 100-terabyte optical storage drive, a strange electronic device, and a what looks like a plain ordinary set of prescription eyeglasses.

Its contents have driven us into hiding; hence today's live broadcast from this antiquated run-down facility where hopefully no one will find us until our broadcast gets out!

(RACONTEUR - Still inside and the Dawn is upon us! ANNE still sitting at her unkempt desk. Coffee cups and full ashtrays abound, she stares lost at her monitor – our PRODUCER wails on, Camera now focused on her face.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Equally stunned by the global implications these disks and related objects depict; it took some time and sheer unadulterated balls for us to decide what to do with the info.

In the end, and despite our own mortal fears, the story was too big to kill, even if we aren't!

So, in our attempt to remain anonymous and get the word out, we have now produced this shocking live documentary and today is "global network delivery day."

Let the world be re-born again! "The truth shall set you free!" or get us all killed! We'll see!

To avoid being shut down at any one given server hub or satellite system we are broadcasting this story live simultaneously through multitudes of networks, social media sites and theaters globally. To do so otherwise, and likely still might, would surely see us all suffer the same fate as those who you will soon come to know intimately! "The EXTRAPOLATED!!"

2 DATE LINE 2055'ish – or – LIFE's GOOD? 2

(RACONTEUR - Scene changes to a nice sunny beach scene somewhere just north of Los Angeles. The PRODUCER takes us on a bit of a history lesson as she frantically moves around the control room, agitated and almost desperate at times, arms, and hands flailing manically!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

By this time, as a species we Humans have apparently outgrown psychotic, violent, and sociopathic tendencies. Amazing feat considering only a few decades back, Human survival was held in the balance between prosperity and self annihilation, especially through what is now referred to in the history books as the “Global Purge of 2025!! The Trumpty Dumpty years!

We’ve come so far in just a short time! Amazing! Or is it?? Free, safe, alone and mostly isolated! What price did we all pay and was it truly socially worth it?

Through this cleansing and healing process of the last few decades, first emerged what are now classified as “The MEGA Corporations, not to be confused with the MAGA corporations of the 2020’s who after taking over everything simply ran out of Consumes and one by one all failed in bankruptcy court!” Bet ya didn’t see that cummin, you greedy EGFC’s! lol!!!

These gargantuan trillion-dollar companies (most gone today or bought out by rivals) such as Giggle, Orange, Twatter, recently rebranded as “Xcrement”, Spacedbook (recently rebranded as META Monster), ME-Tube, and Megasoft once ruled and controlled our very existence.

After the “Stock Wars” of 2037, today those few Mega’s that are left standing are charged with providing for us all with all our hearts desire and our bodies need to stay healthy and live a long and prosperous happy existence!

Their new mandate is to provide for our every little whim and indulgence. Hand delivered, spoon fed! Providing for us “the good people” 24/7 – 365. Life’s truly is good!

“Megladonic” - Social media sites like “Sic Talk” (Sic is the new cool!) are now shaping the lives of people all over the globe while taking a huge bite out of the global economy!

Looks like all the little lemmings have bought in, but not us!

(RACONTEUR - Still with ANNE sitting at her desk staring at her screens as her report plays out live on Social media and the global Cable networks. You can clearly see her nervous anxiety. It’s palpable as she sweats like Tricky Dick at a Republican bar-b-que in Dallas during August!!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE
(facetiously)

(RACONTEUR – PRODUCER staring deeply back into the eyes of her audience!)

We’re betting after watching this story that you too will also soon change your minds and join the push back generation, not to be confused with the lame Papsi generation. “Have a Croke and a smile”. Yeah right!

 Megladonix - (acting in a Shark feeding frenzy like manner with little care or regard for those who get in their way)

Here it is, we are now in the middle of the 21st century and we have become a society where crime is at an all time historic low.

Almost subliminal like, society has changed over the past few decades, and in such a brief time space that it almost feels very un-natural as it seemed to have just happened practically overnight!!

Most everyone simply just sluffs this new found prosperity off as a sign of the times, and a clear indication of the good times yet to come! Humans have evolved and now agree to live in harmony! Yeah right!!! Fuck that! What lies beneath? We're getting to that!

Hallelujah! "The good people" have prevailed and conquered the world!

Children once again play safe in the streets, and Mom and Dad enjoy the fruits of their education, labor and dream jobs!

Best of all, the NRA (National Rifle Association) and its corrupted officials, who, with malice aforethought, looted and pillaged its public coffers for decades, has today been officially and permanently disbanded.

This corrupt institution operated for decades with impunity while 10's of thousands died yearly using and being wasted by the death products they pushed! The almighty institution, protected by antiquated laws written by old drunk white men has finally been brought to its knees and all guns are banned and the video games that promoted their violence, death, and carnage have all but faded away.

You can still hear them chant! "Death to Ahhnold" – "The Purveyor of Video Game Death!".

People willingly gave up their weapons to be incentivized by Government sponsored collection programs in the early 2030's and peace and prosperity soon followed for those who dutifully complied.

Once the general population felt safe they believed they just didn't need their weapons anymore, so, their decision to disarm in mass seemed a no brainer! Pry them from my cold dead hands! NAH!!! Cash them in for twice what you paid! Who could resist a profit! Now that's the American way!!

But what became of the endless stockpiles of armor and weapons long held by every patriot in the nation?

It's kinda hard to hide a few mountains of weapons, no matter how they may have been dismantled and disposed of even if you are the god dam U.S. Government.

As portrayed on social and government media sites, were all these killing devices really destroyed?? One's intuition should be saying NO!!! – But hey "Life's too good now?? Why rock the boat! But something must be wrong, right?" In any event, dangerous weapons of any kind are now hard to find anywhere.

As a result, crime is exceedingly rare so you can hardly find (or buy!) a Lawyer, Cop or Judge anywhere in 2055!

(RACONTEUR - ANNE still at her screen screams out!!!!)

So, what's wrong with this utopian picture? I mean seriously??

Not long-ago marijuana was illegal, and now it's a topping on Pizza and a Fried day nite special from the biggest home delivery in the biz! - Pizza Pigs.com

That's the world of today and the following story outlines with deadly certainty how we all got here and why our Film Crew believes that we are all now fucked! Humans that is, every last mother-luv'n one of us!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

“Paranoia will destroy ya!” Author Unknown.

And as you will all now bear witness to; all our heroes, Jayde, Diego Delgado and Juan Cole have plenty to be paranoid about!

“The year of living painfully!” – or – “Tis better not to have crashed and burned than to never have crashed at all!”

(RACONTEUR - ANNE rails on. It’s late afternoon and we are now inside LAX and one of its many preflight lounges. The heart of this story opens. It’s circa 2021ish – a time when life appears good for most everyone!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Our sorry, oops I meant our story begins with a young Programmer named Diego Delgado.

Diego’s journey interrupted begins a few hundred miles south of Silicon Valley (San Jose California). Somewhere just west of the Hollywood Hills, aka – SILICONE valley. Pineapples, Palm trees, hot cars, golf courses, and vineyards as far as the eye can see! Heavenly, just don’t scratch the surface! What oozes just beneath is neither human nor creature, but rather a rancid compilation of what makes it all tick!., afterall even Cinderella needed a wicked ugly Step sister to help get her to the ball!

Today it is 2021 and our soon to be, reluctant hero Diego can be found at L.A.X. lookin all that, slacked back in his hi-rise super lounge, he’s there chillin waiting for his girl to fly in from Silicon Valley for the weekend to enjoy a couple of concerts in Silicone Valley at the Hollywood Bowl. Diego checks his text; her flight must be late.

The scene is a front row seat to runways and freeway exits. If you’re an infrastructure guy it’s your view of heaven. For everyone else its just another day in L.A. watching flights come and go, traffic stacked up into jams, and smog shrouding your every view! until,,,)

Using the “Who’s on Board App”, he realizes that now that her plane has landed but she isn’t on it. Almost in a panic now, wondering where she could be, Diego suddenly gets a news flash across his Mobile!

Diego sits up like a cold icicle in a forty below chill! He texts Jayde, no reply!

Ladies and gentlemen! This just in! BREAKING NEWS FLASH!!

Glued to his screen Diego sees a Traffic Chopper hovering and broadcasting over fiery wreck on a freeway off ramp just north of him at L.A.X.

A cold chill comes over Diego as he pounds his last drink, pays the bill, and runs outside.

TV/ONLINE NEWS REPORTER

BOOM! - Breaking News! - This just in! - Fiery auto wreck crash involving a Giggle proto type hands free car near Los Angeles Airport! Emergency workers are on the scene!

This is the 3rd such crash of another Giggle proto type vehicle in the past 3 weeks which means Big bad news that could derail Giggle's plans for an autonomous hands-free vehicle world for us all!

TV/ONLINE NEWS REPORTER (goes on to further state)

But how does an electric car create such a horrific fire? The autonomous hands-free vehicle had a single lone passenger, yet to be identified. They did not survive the horrendous fiery wreck!!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

According to his diary Diego begins running into the path of oncoming planes. He crosses one runway after the next making a bee-line for the smoke he sees up ahead in the sky. Siren's wail, emergency vehicles soon take pursuit but Diego's already outside of airport boundaries approaching the crash scene. Diego stops to catch his breath, stares lost at his screen.

TV/ONLINE NEWS REPORTER

The report further states a young, yet to be identified Giggle Junior Exec was killed when the proto type hands free vehicle she was riding in at that time, left the highway at a high rate of speed and launched off an overpass just north of L.A.X.

Although considerable carnage happened when the hands-free car lands on the crowded freeway below, it's a miracle that only one person died and that no one on the crowded highway below was killed or severely injured as this 2200 lb. projectile hit the pavement right in front of them, then exploded and bursts into flames before anyone could get to the trapped and burning victim inside. Manganese batteries have a tendency to blow on impact then burn for hours with almost no way to put them out. Lithium anode Cell phone batteries have been known to take down jets as they catch fire in the Cargo hold during flight.

As it appears the manganese batteries have ignited, Firefighters are having extreme difficulty getting this intense blaze under control and it appears they will just have to wait until it burns itself out. This will likely result in no remains for the victims loved ones for burial by her family and friends!

We now know that it was Diego who first titled this story and began writing the "Gaggled" manuscript back in the mid-2020's, and until recent, those who came across it thought it was some real kick ass sci-fi shit. Ooops!! Think again Sports Fans!

Shortly after Diego's sudden and tragic death in 2042 his unfinished story was discovered by family members. A last of the 20th centuries babies, he was just barely 50 and had only just re-emerged from years in hiding only a mere two days earlier!

After becoming the subject of this story and living in fear and suspicion of everyone and everything!, Diego had gone underground and been off the grid for several years. But how did he get this messed up, and why did he just show up now?

(RACONTEUR – It's mid afternoon on the Prairie – We are close to Diego's hometown – Farm country U.S.A.)

Sometime before his death Diego had rented a storage locker facility - Diego's family is now tasked with cleaning out his storage locker after first learning about its existence from the Executor during the reading of his will.

Deep in the bowels of Lockers R Us!, down a dimly lit hallway with water dripping from the ceiling and mold growing everywhere they find the door to Diego's storage locker! Using the combination code he left behind in his will, they enter, the lights don't work!!

No one brought a flashlight, but Diego's younger brother has a smart phone with a flashlight. He lights up the room to find nothing more than an envelope containing some simple instructions with clues that only the family could decipher to the whereabouts of more stuff.

The discovery made by the family intrigues them to follow the crumbs Diego has laid out for them.

(RACONTEUR - In his old room at home using the note, the family finds a key and another note and the location of his hidden safe. Behind a secret panel in his room they find and open a small safe.

They discover this treasure cache contains his unfinished story, (volumes of pages!) along with other meager personal possessions including a small, yet to be identified tech device, and a pair of strange looking old reading glasses an old ZIP Drive and several old antiquated 100 meg ZIP disks.)

“Who knows, maybe we can even sell it to Hollywood and make a few bucks off Diego’s talent” posthumously? Donate some to helping distressed animals and live the good life for us for once! Let’s search for a Writer to put it all together and give it a happy Hollywood ending.

Inspired by his creativity for writing fiction, and to honor Diego, the family reached out and contacted unknown author, and even lesser-known Inventor Juan Cole to have Juan write a Hollywood ending to Diego’s sci-fi thriller Extrapolated, aka Gaggled!.

Diego’s parents first contacted Juan Cole through his online work profile from their random web search on FiveCentrr.com. The site for cheap labor and even cheaper Writers.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Juan never knew Diego, but the family felt he was as qualified as any writer to give Diego’s last story a great ending. In other words, “as a broke ass wanna-be Author and full time Invisible Inventor” his terms were reasonable, which is to otherwise say that “he was easy to be had, and always happy to make a buck any which way he could, any buck, anywhere, anytime!”

The family was hoping Juan might be able to give a great Hollywood ending to what was to them, an obvious sci-fi story partially penned by their now dearly departed Son. Kind of a commemorative piece to Diego’s endearing family memory, and who knows, as mentioned, maybe even a quick sale to some greedy Hollywood Film types for the family and a few extra bucks for Juan.

Instead, our low-budget News outlet got this HUGE story dropped right in to our literal laps. Beware of trojan horses, and nothing that comes free is not without an attached price tag comes to mind!

Seems Diego had started authoring this story some years back but apparently never finished it prior to his untimely demise in 2042.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As his notes, now in our possession, indicate, a few days after connecting with Diego’s family Juan flew back east and met with Diego’s family and accepted the job. Juan made notes to himself mentally that Diego’s unfinished sci-fi story centers on activities at Giggle headquarters, and some of it being the subject of many recent factual and credible news stories linked to Giggle corp. Highly intriguing Juan thinks!

If we’ve learned anything about Juan it’s that he categorizes mental notes photographically, like how the rest of us dictate or type entries into a PDF or Excel file, but he does it all in his head!

Don't let looks fool ya, or you can't always trust first impressions comes to mind!
After reading from the beginnings of Diego's story, and almost reading verbatim from Juans notes, Juan now pondering his discovery, and knowing what he does about the myriad antagonists who inhabit Giggle Corp., still can't decide if Diego's story is sci-fi or sci-fact?

It smells a bit of both "doesn't it" he states in his notes. Juan is now even more intrigued! Has he discovered some type of Quantum entangled AI story plot? He notes – Hollywood's a dime a dozen with AI and Quantum physics stories, but hey, this one could be different.

Science fiction perhaps? A dash of hard to verify facts, throw in some sprinkles of fake news, maybe an "Enquiry Rag" headline or two, and voila!!, a great recipe for an overbaked conspiracy story straight outta the Q continuum begins to emerge.

Today Giggle is the MEGA MEGA Tech corp. of them all! The MEGA tech corps MEGA corp. Powerful, in your face, and that one monolithic corporation the world centers its each and every day around, 24/7-365 and that which most of us just can't live with out!

But where to start?? Diego left so many pages of notes, and as Juan reads on, he is remarkably stunned and thrown back by the story that all starts to unfold right before his own very bloodshot and witnessing eyes, and now dragged into the fire along with them, me and my Crew are also complicit and likely doomed by association for knowing what we know now!

Juan is a "just the facts Ma'am" kinda guy, fake news is not going to throw him off the scent. And something about Giggle, Diego and Jayde smells 10 day fishy old here and he can all but taste it!

(RACONTEUR - Still sitting on the beach, a nasty cool breeze comes up blowing inland from just off the water. Juan's mind goes cold as he reads on about Diego, Jayde and what they knew and who they thought knew they knew!!! We jump ahead, back to good old 2055ish, it's nearing 7 a.m. now in our 3rd World Control Room.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Is this the time for Juan to run?, or forge ahead as he quivers and ponders some more of what Diego begins to describe!

It is almost breakfast time for an ordinarily ravenous Crew, however on this day amongst the gallons of coffee and buckets of cigarettes and reefers normally consumed by now, not even a single donut has been devoured. Everyone's tense to the inth degree!

From what we've read thus far, we're not really sure if this is fiction and now, we are doubly not sure if this story even has an ending, happy or otherwise!

From what we have learned the last few months, we might not have the time we need, so, as Diego had intended for us all to read his story we pick up at the time when Juan started putting an ending to Diego's story. Obviously, we are equally as stunned as you must be by what we continue to learn at this time! Only time will tell what we learn next!

To make sense of Diego’s findings, and staying true to the man, and in a fashion and manner believable to the rest of us, Juan begins to pick up and follow the clues left in Diego’s research.

(RACONTEUR - Juan sitting at his table, perusing through the mountain of notes and tech gadgets he inherited from Diego’s family and pushing aside the roach tray and empty OJ & Vodka glasses he thinks out loud.)

JUAN

(Juan rubbing his eyes, scratching his head, and talking to himself)

What about this strange futuristic tech device and these old glasses? How do they fit in?

Is it coincidence or pertinent to the story that Diego’s writings end near the time of his death in 2042?

The way this story sounds from Diego’s notes is almost as if it doesn’t even start until 2021, the year after Jayde is violently killed, let alone end before 2042. Nothing adds up.

(RACONTEUR - 3rd World Control Room – Back in good old 2055ish from her desk still surrounded by monitors, cameras, dirty ash trays, and food scraps.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

From what we can extrapolate from these notes is that although hyper eager for the entire world’s population to discover, Juan then spends the next few years researching the facts while he continues writing the ending for Diego’s story. Years into this now, he can’t put it down and it’s not what he signed on for!

That is until Juan himself also goes missing! From what we know this is sometime around 2052, some 7 years after he, like Diego before him, goes underground and off the grid.

Shortly into the “re-write the happy ending program” as he called it, Juan finds out that there is now no turning back. Shit just got real and he’s now not so much unhappy, as he is just plain scared to the core!!!

Much like Diego before him, our notes indicate that Juan soon fell prey, head first as it were, straight down the throat of the beast into the Giggle trap and where he went is anyone’s guess at this point.

(RACONTEUR – We switch to the interior of some mouldy old Solar powered hovel somewhere miles of the beaten path. It’s now about 2045ish according to the notes. Juan is in hiding doing research using an untraceable I.P.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Too strange for Juan's curiosity, and in light of recent events and now knowing more than he is comfortable having learned, Juan also goes off grid and journeys far underground fearing he's next to be hunted, the next to be Extrapolated!

Suddenly it hits home like a brick to the face when Juan learns that Diego's family were all recently killed in a rather mysterious fire set in their rural farm home.

Even Diego's dog died, which is even more strange. The notes we have from Juan is that he recalled that on his first visit to Diego's parents' home they never once let the dog in the house? Cruelty to animals comes to mind! Perhaps just another tragic Diego family secret fact.

(RACONTEUR - 3rd World Control Room - Back in good old 2055ish)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As it is Juan and Diego's notes that we are basing this story on, this soon makes us realize that Juan was not writing the Hollywood ending to an epic Sci-fi, but rather, he's now become the latest pawn in this now decade's old tale of suppression and control.

To that end Juan, like Diego and Jayde before him, inadvertently exposes himself in all the wrong ways to all the wrong people.

Even though yet unidentified, some bells and whistles having been going off at Giggle corp., and now a tribunal is being held at Giggle and their destruction is decreed!

(RACONTEUR - Juan in hiding)

So much for a happy ending and a successful conclusion to this story! These deranged Zealots never go away!

7 RUN LITTLE JUAN RUN! 7

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

To whom Juan is running from, and for what, is now becoming increasingly more painfully clear to him everyday and for us, with each line read! For this time period Juans records indicate that his underground investigation slows until he resurfaces some years later long after Diegos death and some years after his self-imposed hiding.

After years of secretly compiling data, dodging murder attempts, and living basically underground Juan decided it was time to go public and let the world read their story.

Wholly caught up in what Diego discovered, Juan knows that like many a martyr before him, should he publish his findings too soon, he believes his fate akin to a very public suicide, and likely, he will suffer the same fate as Diego and many others as he has now discovered.

His biggest fear? Becoming just another tragic face on just one more of a long list of unsolved series of milk cartons!!

If Juan publishes too late, the world likely befalls a tragic fate! Too soon and he's likely the next to be Extrapolated!

Coincidentally this is exactly how our Film Crew feels bringing this live broadcast to you today!

Juan is sorely convinced, and he knows that even though Diego is long dead, in his heart, and after all the threats he has endured, he will not rest until he gets to the bottom of Diego's mystery.

Juan's notes indicate that he believes Diego was murdered, and that Diego definitely did not succumb to natural causes as the official coroner's report and Giggle's online obituary states.

(RACONTEUR – Cameras focused on the PRODUCER now shift to the Director also in the 3rd World Control Room. Director reading from his Telestrator quoting Juan's notes.)

DIRECTOR - (quips)

The official reports states that Diego succumbed to “Advanced heart disease induced by excessive alcohol and tobacco consumption.” Funny thing is no one Juan interviews ever recalls Diego as a smoker, heavy drinker, or party kinda guy of any kind?

The family had not been in contact with Diego for many years now, so prior to their recent mysterious deaths by fire, they were not convinced of the party line and were at the time of their demise, still unsure how Diego came to pass so suddenly.

A seemingly healthy young man in his prime suddenly dropping dead of heart failure, and reportedly cremated without the families consent??

Didn’t add up to Juan, but like for so many of our generation, Diego’s parents simply accepted the spoon-fed party line explanation of the death of their cherished son.

If Diego did die in this unlikely fashion, where is the evidence of death? Where are the pictures of his dead body at the morgue and all the paperwork that goes with a certification of death. And what of the others who have died or disappeared according to Juan and Digo? Juan thinks the numbers could be in the billions! It’s like as if they never existed!

Everyjuan knows how easily these documents can be Photochopped and AI Deep faked!

Nothing here adds up??

8 JUAN HAS A PLAN – A QUICK CASH GRAB FOR SOME ANTIQUATED TECH 8

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Sometime back in 2052, almost 10 years after Juan Cole first agreed to write this controversial piece he was last seen leaving his home for So-Cal.

Juan had scheduled a meet and greet with those in Hollywood to discuss the financial terms to the potential exclusive rights and movie screenplay based on the Extrapolated diaries.

It seems the Studio Execs did have an eye on Juan's writings but for none of the reasons he had hoped. They have superficially taken a special interest in what he helped uncover based on Diego's initial discoveries. Dirt on Giggle! The most powerful political tool of the time!

(RACONTEUR - Hollywood Hills Hotel Bathroom - SUNNY L.A. LANDSCAPE & OCEANVIEW - Juan getting all fancied up to meet the Sharks.)

(RACONTEUR - Hairs are up on the back of Juans neck, he simply doesn't trust these guys in their fancy suits as far as he could throw them off the Santa Monica pier!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As the story plays out, Juan had other plans for these tax dodging miscreants and their big Hollywood money. However, like many a great Inventor knows, big bucks build BIG trucks, and Juan's tired of living in an old 70's Gothic muraled Chevy Van down by the river, so he deals.

Actually, that's true for the most part, but more importantly and to the point, as now a man hunted Juan needs these unsuspecting rich SNOTS to become his research guinea pigs and provide him with Web access and the info he simply cannot access living on the streets unplugged. Hunted by who? At this point, that's still not really clear to him.

After a quick phone pitch, a meeting was set up. It was to be an impressive line up of Hollywood's finest Directors, but we'll never know for sure as Juan never made it! At this time, his whereabouts are still unknown.

For us the mystery deepened further when we also recently discovered that Juan's modified version of Diego's original manuscript concept for "Extrapolated" was found stored on a series of turn-of-the-century 100-megabyte OMEGA ZIP drive high density, hard cover floppy disks.

Floppy ZIP disk technology was abandoned a couple of decades before Diego was born, a 1000 years in Tech time, and long gone from use by anyone by the time Juan began compiling data for his happy ending to Diego's beginning.

So why did they use such ancient data storage tech to record their story, when both knew how volatile and prone to easy decay and deletion these ZIP disks were known to be?

Both Juan and Diego started by penning their notes to paper, so why switch to a volatile medium like ZIP's?

Stranger yet – Because of long known issues related to their reliability, and limited storage capacity, why did Juan Cole continue to use the same ancient digital storage medium to record his additions to Diego's writings?

Did neither man ever hear of Quantum Optical storage mediums, Thumb/Flash drives, Optical and NANO storage systems, even DVD's, CD's, or the Cloud?

We did also receive an optical nano encrypted solid state quantum storage drive with the items left out by our Studio bay door, but, as of the time of this airing we have yet to decode its encryption. What juicy info treasures, or most likely, what deadly secrets does it hold? If we ever decrypt it, you will be the first to know!

To say the least; our Film Crew and everyone we have attached to this project, including their families and close friends are now all in abject danger! We know it!

The Crew is very uneasy holding on to this quantum drive but feel that knowing what we do now know about Diego, Juan and Jayde's story, letting this drive out of our possession could spell DOOM potentially leading to the end of us all!

And just where did Juan stash these disks shortly before his mysterious, and yet to be solved disappearance around 2052 and who clandestinely dropped them off to us at our L.A. studio?

Even stranger, and as previously mentioned, these same antiquated ZIP disks re-emerge years later.

According to the note we received with the other items, sometime around 2052'ish, just after Juan goes missing and is never heard from again, the set of six 100 meg ZIP Disks were found at a garage sale thousands of miles from where the story was first written.

Around 2055ish these strange old disks were allegedly found far from where Juan first came into contact with Diego's family, who, at this time had only given Juan what they possessed; the reams of written notes penned by Diego, and other tech items, but not the ZIP disks and drive.

Was Juan also Extrapolated for what he was given and where did the Zip disks come from??

Too many are now dead or missing that had intimate knowledge of this story.

With what we now know, will making this television and webcast to the world get everyone killed?

Makes you go MMMMM??? Just how did these Disks and optical quantum drive (due to dating factors – are presumably Juans) have now anonymously found their way to the back door of our production facility??

Who is the unknown person or persons that left them where we would most certainly find them? Who would dare drag us in to this?

According to the notes we recovered from the original six ZIP disks, there seems to be at least one disk missing from the originating set, maybe more, or possibly the set was never completed. More questions, so few answers!

So, the bizarre and distressing story we are now telling does not yet have an ending, nor are we even certain where it all begins. And now none of our Crew is sure there will ever be an ending, for sure not a happy one!, more like that ongoing nightmare you can't quite wake up from, and when you do you shake for hours!!!

The ZIP disks that we recovered were numbered 1 to 6 but the story does not end on disk 6. Is there a disk 7 and beyond?

Maybe that's what the family meant by asking Juan to give Diego's story a fine Hollywood ending? They believed it to be a potential great work of fiction, or was it? To bad we can't ask them now, cause their all dead and we fear – worse – They've been Gaggled! !

It now appears that based on Diego's first research, Juan did build on Diego's info when he first set out to write that Hollywood ending.

Based on what we now believe Jayde and Diego first discovered, there ain't gonna be no Cinderella meets Bambi ending to this one!

Especially now that Juan also never finished his happy ending before his mysterious disappearance around 2052. Is that task now left up to our Crew to complete the story, and if so, at what eventual cost to us?

Juan's discoveries are likely what caused him to vanish into the wind on his way to the Film Producers office in L.A. back in 2052. So, we must contemplate. "Are we next to be Extrapolated?"

And what of that great "happy ending" to be? We now know what they both researched, discovered and wrote about, is likely what got them, and Jayde all killed.

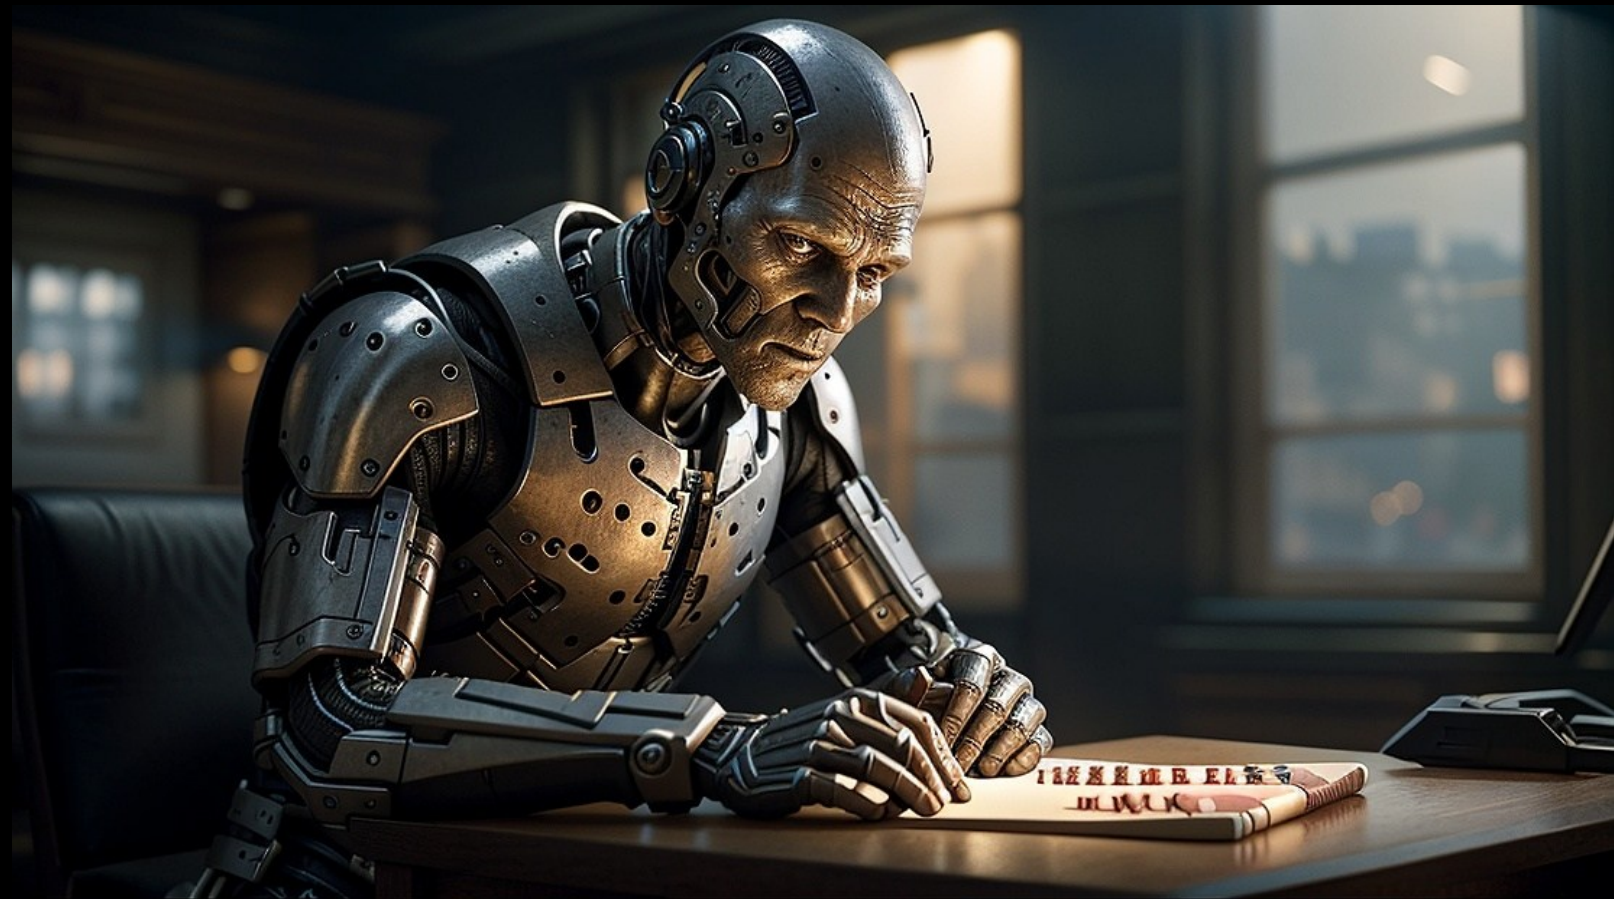

We just hope they don't find us before billions just like you can learn the truth!

The responsibility of writing the Hollywood ending now seems to have fallen firmly into our laps. Are we up to the challenge or will our Villian write ITs own happy ending! Happy for IT that is!! Great question!

We've made it this far and our journey is shaping up to be as mysterious and dangerous as those we are reporting on.

Will there be a happy ending to write, any ending at all to write, and who will live to get that privilege?

At this time "God only knows!" and some believe God only lives at Giggle Corp.!!

(RACONTEUR – Back to the future once again - 3rd World Cigar stinking, Gin smelling, garbage rotting Media Control Room in good old 2055ish)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Other than the explosive content of Juan's manuscript, for us, one major clue to Diego's long absence from society, then his sudden re-appearance and mysterious death soon after, was the data scrub of all info from the Web related to him. Through our many months of investigating, we have found almost nothing on Diego, Juan or Jayde, like Juan previously reported about others, "It's as if they never even actually existed!", this we have confirmed. If not for the physical evidence we possess we could have never cracked this enigma.

For Juan, after his mysterious and unexplained disappearance, we also discovered that almost every kilobyte of web traffic related to Mr. Cole, and our late hero Diego "Eggo" Delgado, and his exquisite Bride to be Jayde has also since and seemingly all been scrubbed and washed from the web!! But why?, and who has that much power? In a word – "Giggle"! The happy fun corporation! We're not laughing!

Their info and personal data scrubbed as if they, and what they searched years for never really happened or even ever existed??? Only one Power has the power to scrub and its name isn't Mr. Clean!, but why?

If not for the limited biographies each left behind we may never have known anything about any of them. Things like Juan was an avid web star back in the day, and Juan's first email address was one of the first 50,000 ever issued. Compared to the trillions of emails sent every day, he truly was a pioneer in e-communications, and much like Diego and Jayde as Creatives, and the investigative reporter types, Juan was all over the web leaving his e-signature behind for decades.

So why do we get squat when we do a Giggle search for them? Questions beget questions as this mystery grows!

Juan's adaptation of Diego's and Jayde's transcripts ended shortly before his disappearance in 2052.

Might it just have been Juan that dropped this info off at our Studios backdoor that fateful night not so long ago before he himself was Extrapolated and now amongst the missing?

So, who seemingly erased Diego, Juan, and Jayde from existence? As if they were never even born!, and why? Who has this kind of power to scrub a person's entire existence from the Web? So why did Juan, Jayde, and Diego all but literally, and virtually disappear? Who had the power to edit the web across all platforms and websites?

When we went looking for data to back up the story we were handed, almost nothing could be found on either man or Jayde. With so much Fake news flooding the net these days, it's likely that if not for some of their writings stored on ancient tech, and what we have recently uncovered through our own investigative methods, the world might never know they ever existed, and worse yet, know one would ever learn what we are learning about how close we are all to being taken over by Giggle as so many billions already have been Extrapolated!

Our searches went deep. We perused multitudes of offline, old school Microfiche film systems, fortunately for humanity they are still retained at Libraries everywhere and remain off grid! God bless the Government and its bureaucracy for keeping up with tech!

If not for all this analogue info the world would have never learned the appalling truth that we are about to reveal.

Obviously, our heroes have pissed off some very powerful individuals. Much of what they discovered is clearly defined in their combined writings taken straight from the disturbing story that Juan derived from Diego's original manuscript as transcribed from Jayde's optical drive and the lover's clues she left behind that she knew only Diego could decipher.

Who they must all have angered, and obviously threatened will be exposed by those who read their story and watch this movie.

We pick up our story now having jumped back to 2020. Our young hero Diego (just 28) is heartbroken, crushed, and majorly distressed after just learning about the untimely, and mysterious death of his beloved fiancé Jayde. Based out of Giggle's main campus in Silicon Valley, Jayde was an internal auditor, and special assistant to the C.E.O. of Giggle corp.

Jayde held this prestigious position since 2018 after working and training diligently ever since first becoming a young intern/gopher at Giggle back in 2013. She was a brilliant young woman, a few years Diego's senior, and as corporate job ladder climbing goes, hers was a meteoric rise to near the top of the Giggle food chain. Her sights were firmly set to the future on the chair her boss now occupies.

(RACONTEUR - and Diego knows that at Giggle this means there are no more than three or four people with that kind of security clearance. Jayde, her Boss and maybe one or two other corrupt Executives, internally known by Giggles minions as the “Upper Excrements”)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Should Jayde’s assumptions bear truth, the knowledge she gained would have the potential to blow the lid off our near utopian way of life and sink GIGGLE’s massive money-making machine, and just maybe provide the motive for her tragic death.

Is what she knew, what she discovered while fumbling around top secret files, is why she was killed so tragically? Literally fired beyond recognition! This seems to explain the “Why she died”, and if so, now we need to know “who dunnit, and how”?

(RACONTEUR - 3rd World Control Room – Back in good old 2055ish - Director rises from their chair, grabs some papers abruptly off the desk, now in the Directors possession, seems Jayde left her Corporate Giggle handbook for Diego in case anything ever happened to her!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

(Anne speculates aloud after reading from Jayde’s notes and Diego’s manuscript)

Back in the day Giggle instituted a controversial employment policy forbidding general Staff attached to Corporate Execs to socially fraternize with those of lower security level clearance. In a company employing countless thousands globally, for Jayde this doctrine severely limits her ability to find a Suitor within company limits.

Back then, Diego felt safe that their clandestine romance will not be discovered. Since first hooking up in 2018 he and Jayde have carried on a good old fashion, offline covert love affair.

To keep away from prying Corporate eyes, out of line of sight and off the radar, according to Diego’s manuscript, before the two ever met, to secure his anonymity and, as a young Security apprentice at Giggle, Diego hacked the Giggle mainframe and planted a false profile and false name for himself. He created and used a backdoor that for decades was used to move freely about the system undetected, at least up until his untimely death that is!

This backdoor access gives Diego ZZZZ authorization, there is no higher clearance level, and better yet, movement in and out of the system is undetectable through lower class accounts. He now moves in and out of Giggle Corps mainframes as he pleases, undetected, unwatched, or so he believes!

In this manner, when everyone at the office asks Jayde about her love interest, as people do to make small talk, Jayde just brings up a faked META Monster profile that she proudly shows off to friends, co-workers, and her boss.

The faked profile links to a handsome young man from Vegas working as a part time accountant at a Vegas Casino. No one seems too ever be the wiser!

Clandestine anything is no easy feat in todays, “who’s watching you” Big Brother society, and especially right under the nose of the “God of Giggle” itself, and while working in the C.E.O.’s office. Ballsy comes to mind!

Today Giggle seemingly knows all! Just ask IT, its A.I. will gladly tell you!

From his home in L.A. our young hero Diego works as a lowly Giggle SEO development specialist, a bottom feeder entry level position of the lowest pay grade. Diego deliberately took this obscure position with the company several years back to gain access from within to the prominent Megladonic industrial machine known as Giggle.

DIEGO

(No one's looking at him but he's securely hacked the backdoor with his private Key)

Diego uses his low-level access position to cover-up his mad Hacker skills, which are akin to a modern-day super sleuth straight out of Jonny Quest! Only difference, J.Q. never had access to the Tech toys Diego gets to play with.

Lost, distraught, and deeply angered over the tragic death of Jayde and knowing what little he does about the hush-hush project she had covertly discovered; Diego turns his uncontrollable anger and his clandestine tech skills towards finding her killer(s) and bringing she, he, it, or them to justice!

DIEGO

(he thinks to himself)

Oh yeah; "Giggle Obituaries listed her death as an accidental auto accident, her remains charred beyond all recognition! Yeah, right!!" This seems to be the logical place to start searching.

(RACONTEUR - Jayde's apartment - Following up on the bread crumb clues left behind by Jayde and the Doors key codes, Diego first begins his real-world searches in Jayde's apartment. She lived close to Giggle headquarters in Mountain View near San Jose.)

Diego begins to search the apartment where he finds clues that could have only been left for him by her.

Hiding in plain sight he deciphers these clues that lead him to an optical storage drive containing all that Jayde had discovered.

(RACONTEUR – Diego flashbacks to 20231 - a recent meeting with Jayde at Santa Monica Pier)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

According to her notes, Jayde had previously stashed the drive at the place where they first met. Under the board walk at the pier.

In case for any reason that any of her accounts were accidentally wiped, Jayde saved everything to her Giggle mobile quantum optical storage drive.

This is an encrypted offline voice activated drive that Jayde left behind, and now it seems left behind for only Diego to find. Seems she had previously sent him a Google map of the Pier, only with a strange icon marking he did not recognize until now.

(RACONTEUR – Diego revisits his old love haunt and voila!, right where she marked the map - “X” marks the spot and her drive is recovered! Why not just stash a hard copy you might ask? What Jayde most feared was the Hackers who might want to gain access to her confidential info. She knew more than anyone, if this info ever fell into the wrong hands much of it can be used to extort Giggle’s Megalomaniacs club before even she could get to the heart of all that’s wrong in the wired city!

(RACONTEUR – Diego working on the case, sitting at his desk, hacking systems at Giggle and saving data. Camera zooms in on his screen as he let’s off a huge anguished sigh while running his hands through his hair and taking long deep breaths!)

What the files on this quantum optical storage drive revealed to Diego really set our hero back a few steps, and simultaneously strengthened his resolve to lay truth to explaining his lovers so-called accidental death and bring her murderers to justice!

Knowing that even the simplest of searches remotely related to this scandal might throw up Red flags at Giggle corporate, Diego devises an innovative VPN bogus I.P. search algorithm controlled by an army of his own A.I. based self-replicating Bots, each equipped with a Faked history and current address should anyone come looking a little deeper!

This new algorithm serves to encrypt his searches covering his tracks as he moves in and out of the global search engine system, not that anyone’s looking, YET!!

This is how Diego managed to collect and save terabytes of data, then compiled it all into the story he left behind unfinished for Juan to stumble on in 2042 when he is first approached by Diego’s family to finish their Son’s, now tragically playing out story Extrapolated.

12 AVATAR, AVATAR, WHO WANTS AN AVATAR? 12
— or —
SYBIL WOULD BE PROUD OF THE MANY MINDS OF EGGO!

(RACONTEUR – Our hero programming Avatars – Sleazy Hotel room)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

To pull off this Herculean task, Diego created an Avatar army and numerous fake news stories and then linked them all to official Government databases, public social media sites and general public Blogs including fake identities, Bank accounts, utilities, and other required real-world personas.

Eggo's digital Avatars are based on multitudes of faked pseudo false identities. Each one exists in the virtual world but also has what appears to be real world identities. An address, phone number complete with voice mail with A.I. voice overs, Social Security number, work place records, numerous social media accounts, family histories, and more, but Diego banks on the fact that no one will ever actually come looking in the real world.

Diego's Avatars draws massively on the A.I. he has scripted and through speech synthesis and CGI rendering, many even appear as Friends to each other on social media. All his Avatars are generated to operate in real time and all are rendered offline then uploaded and populated into the few remaining global servers unrelated to Giggles almost ubiquitous mainframe. From there they can cross pollinate with Giggles systems going virtually unnoticed, for now at least!

In this face-screen me, see me, don't touch me world we have created, unless for sex or food delivery why would you go to someone's real world physical address when you can just look them up on line block and get all the info you need, especially when it's all there right at your fingertips thanks to the Gods at Giggle!

Diego puts his Avatars in place and begins to set them in motion. This strategy should buy Diego the time he needs to investigate deeper in to Jayde's tragedy and his logical tactics should keep prying eyes at bay while Eggo uses his Avatar army as his global Spy network.

By using Bots to populate these databases with all this fake info, and then by programming them to work autonomously, each virtual member of his Avatar army then takes on a specific individual search task to compliment its Cloned patriot. Bringing all this data together offline and using his own internal offline A.I. to put all these jigsaw pieces back together again, and an unnerving ominous story starts to unfold right before his eyes!

Diego basically now operates globally as a multi-headed SEO Ninja Search Engine Dragon. A digital force of one, with innumerable A.I. driven heads that autonomously and ubiquitously carry out the search tasks he programs them with to retrieve the info he needs without raising suspicion.

Info death to Schmoochie by a million bytes comes to mind! In other words - A few bits and bytes gleamed from multitudes of sources should keep Diego and his Army from being discovered by who or what, still unknown.

As mentioned, for each Avatar Spy that Diego creates, a rather mundane yet believable real-world profile is created that comes complete with a home address, bank account at a local bank, a work history, driver's license, medical insurance numbers, stock holdings, Spacedbook and Snatch-n-chat accounts, and so on,,,,.

(RACONTEUR – Diego’s scungy room - Diego hacks Spacedbook and uses its chat windows to open encrypted chats to exchange info with his Bots and Avatars.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

His work is brilliant, and it all works flawlessly, at least for now! He uses Friends that engage Friends to use their Friends to covertly communicate and collect data on anything and everything he chooses.

It is on these sites just a little below the surface is where Eggo’s virtual Avatar identities could be verified by the average person, even though not a single one literally existed, only virtually. His Bots are fluent in all languages! Seems no one at this time is actually looking though.

Diego knew that if anyone does come looking to verify these virtual identities as real persons, that Spacedbook is where they’d most likely look first.

(RACONTEUR – Random scenes – Diego’s Avatar posers surfing webpages.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As mentioned, Diego’s innovative and game changing A.I. software builds are used to first construct then upload and deploy his Ninja Dragon force, aka – His Avatar army, the multitudes of false identities that enable him to surf and search virtually and literally anonymously as he continues his covert searching for Jayde’s killers.

If anyone is looking for who’s searching for sensitive and highly incriminating data, this strategy makes it seem as if Diego was his own army of Techs and Programmers based in different locations all around the globe.

Diego figures, hey, I know they’ll soon be coming for me/for us! Looking to buy some time he starts misdirecting those he suspects must searching for him by now. If they got to Jayde, they must be looking for Diego!

Unlike Pokémon Go, where the object is to find things, Diego sends his detractors out on a slow methodical global Goose chase with ZERO gold at the end of the rainbow. Feed them crumbs then lead them off a cliff! The chase is on!! May the best Bots win!

Diego uploads innumerable false leads planting them all over the web. This scavenger hunt of sorts has his Bots stash little digital treasures all around the planet.

Each and every one leading away from him. This is the beginning of his “evade or be conquered” strategy.

Diego’s internet NINJA ghosts can hide in plain site, and as their faked locations are almost exposed, each Avatars identity can be easily purged from the system or morphed to cause a different false path for those seeking to follow.

For Diego this is akin to strategically moving Chess pieces about the playing surface with the entire planet as his game surface to manipulate.

This play serves to leave those who are homing in with no one and nothing to find when they get there, and no data trail to follow or examine when they get to the end of their expected rainbow! "Catch me if you can!" comes to mind!

Sorry Dorothy, there ain't no pot of gold box of chocolates here! You never know what you're gonna get when trying to fuck with Diego! Life's like that box of chocolates for Diego. Keep searching assholes!

Diego knows all this strategy does is buy him time before THEY eventually catch on and catch up with him in the flesh. His Avatars can only shield him for so long!

Diego hopes, and prays that before THEY get to him, his interim strategy will buy him enough time to find the Perpetrators who most likely have murdered his precious Jayde and are now attempting to track him down looking to end his life too!!

Diego also hopes to solve many other Giggie based mysteries. From Jayde's notes he deduces other common threads that at first glance seem to be somewhat unrelated, but he sees distinct patterns and coincidental happenings starting to emerge from her seemingly chaotic writings.

Although 100% digital, these A.I. based Avatars appear as real-world entities as needed. Diego spreads these Avatars all around the planet, populating servers globally with 10's of thousands of self-replicating virtually and literally untraceable fake personas.

In small unassuming communities all around the globe Diego's Avatars assume the identity of what digitally appears to literally be actual ordinary living people. That proverbial girl or guy next door that you've never met or seldom see, if ever. In this almost subliminal manner Diego can move his digital search army in and out of situations when required or delete them in a heart beat if the authorities begin to home in and get too close!

You'd have to dig deep and search long and hard to even start to discredit the Avatar profiles Diego concocts and populates the Web with.

Diego is confident that it will be difficult, if not next to impossible for anyone person or agency to track, and physically locate any of his Avatars, let alone find them all and the man behind the mirror of this mirage and its cornucopia of complicated and complex masks.

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive!" (Sir Walter Scott, 1808) comes to mind!

Diego remembers playing around in the Internet Archive as a young Geek @ archive.org/ There, in this somewhat off the radar, and now obscure low-level security site he re-enters to discover a bevy of invaluable software tools to aid in his quest to find and eliminate Jayde's killers!

These are first-gen software tools that Diego needs to re-engineer some Giggie tech Jayde left behind, and some antiquated open-door software tools he can employ to further shield himself from spying eyes buying sorely needed time for his Avatar army while his search for the truth continues!

Today Archive.org is an off-the-beaten-track old DOS based site where inquisitive eyes are not usually focused, but a place where myriad loose secrets still abound, accessible by only a small handful of old school backdoor hackers. The Gov. stopped funding updates to the Archive system back in the late 90's so it's less than flaming firewall is easily breached by those inclined to do so. Diego, so inclines!

Here, without fear of discovery, a safe haven deep into encrypted databases is where Diego launches his DNS and I.P. search attacks and from these servers he launched and now controls his Avatars as they perform his search queries covertly and unabated. A giant server from which there are countless places to hide if you're just a wee Bit and a Byte.

To launch his multi-layered search attack Diego also programs his Avatars as Search Bots. Collectively they dive mega layers deep into myriad archived data bases in this off the beaten track of the digital highway. When a search is performed that pertains to his criteria, no matter by who, when or where, his Bots track it, record it and bring it to his attention!

Many of these ancient archive's date all the way back to the inception of the world-wide web, and the first military intranets before them.

Lucky for Diego, many of these antiquated data dumps were archived at old military data base complexes. They all have probably the worst internet security since Bonzi Buddy greeted you every morning on your old PC systems.

(RACONTEUR – Mid afternoon – Roll the archived Bonzi Buddy archive footage.)

For Diego, getting into these ancient databases with his army of digital Spies should be a hack in the park!

(RACONTEUR – Early morning, sunny enough of a day. Now at Giggle Corp. in some huge room with a bazillion Servers.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Knowing that Giggle keeps a log of each Users searches for up to fourteen years, Diego decides to hack this database first and attempt to find what Jayde was searching for.

He's not worried if a few of his Avatars get flagged. The higher ups at Giggle can't flag them all, and his "Quad Z" security clearance is cover enough should he need to do manual searches that would otherwise expose his Bots.

Just imagine what Giggle learns, and knows about you, or assumes to know about you after decades of compiling your Giggle search engine data. Not to mention the data compiled every time you use other Giggle products, like Giggle Planet, Giggle Me, Giggle maps, and Giggle Talk2U, and dozens more!

And what of your personal info collected by all the hundreds of Apps that Giggle employs around the globe? Apps disguised to look useful and informative with the soul-less purpose to just sign-up New Users to pad that bottom-line for all the almighty Shareholder to behold at annual meetings! As long as the cash keeps flowing in to Giggle, Shareholders only questions is – "Who gives a rats ass?"

Like so many Mega corps before them, New Users are the holy grail to Shareholders! New Users equates to more Ad revenue which means a much healthier bottom-line. A healthier bottom-line relates to happy Shareholders. Happy Shareholders spend more on Stocks, and round and round and on and on it perpetually goes and grows!

The greed cycle is perpetuated through the Giggle food chain from top to bottom! Diego sees this as more a social sickness than the cures to everything we keep searching for. The daily, almost moment by moment answers that we continue to seek just to satisfy our own narcissistic wants and needs!

This all makes Diego very uneasy as he continues his search for the guilty! "The Rich and Shameless!" comes to mind!

DIEGO

"Who THEY are?" The THEY that so many often refer to everyday. More importantly, "Who is the one?" That one single solitary person sitting atop the Giggle food chain?

That person knows what's going on! That person knows what happened to Jayde and why? Fuckers, I'll find ya!!

(RACONTEUR – Late night – 2020ish - She often worked late. Flashback to Jayde compiling notes on her quantum drive. Accessing classified company files at Giggle headquarters.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Further examining Jayde's notes Diego begins to see what she was so spooked about. The pernicious tone of Jayde's notes seems to indicate that other than Jayde's recent accidental death, there have been other seemingly natural and/or accidental random deaths and mysterious disappearances as of late at Gigggle's massive complex and other Gigggle complexes and company owned facilities around the globe.

Focusing for now on those who have been reported as dearly departed, at first glance these many seemingly natural deaths all show a relation to the mega tech world that is all things Gigggle.

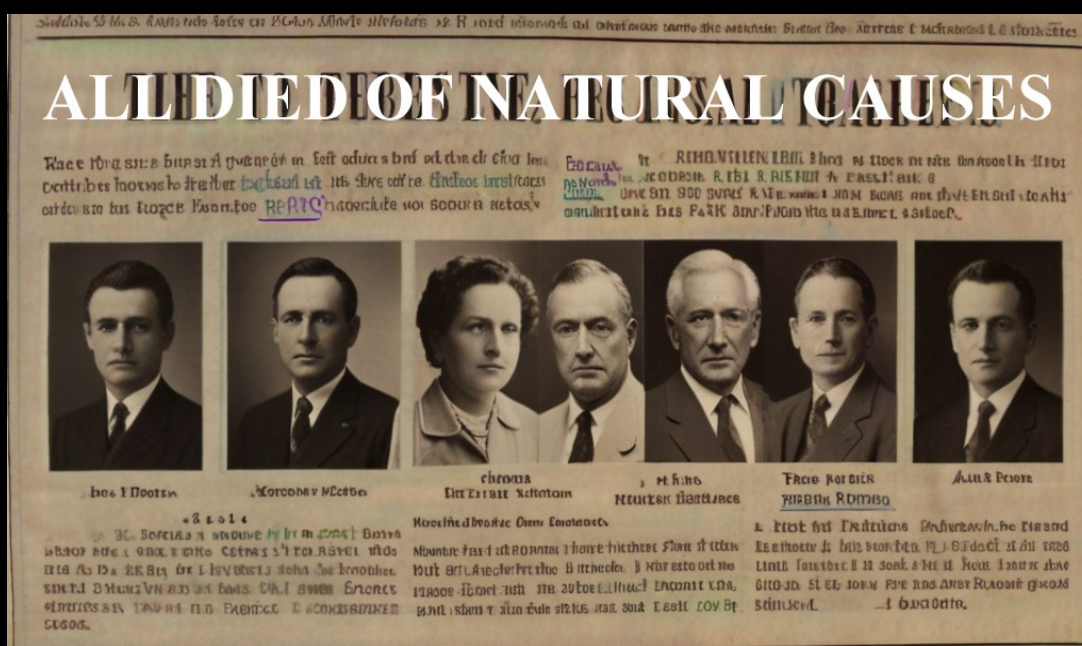

Microseconds after Diego's Avatar army launches its initial global Gigggle searches, the first search results are in. They reveal that many of these unfortunates passed souls were former and/or are current Gigggle employees at the time of their reported commonplace deaths or yet to be explained sudden disappearances.

Gigggle employees over 10 million world-wide at this time so, a six degrees of separation possibility is not off the table that links all these deaths with suspicious deaths spread over the global system being made to look not so suspicious! One here, another there, and hey!., natural causes are the easy way to qualm the concerns of those that care! No one else was looking, at least not until Jayde strayed off path. It's easy to get lost surfin the internet highway!

Too much coincidence here!, and now to Diego these mysterious deaths, and outright disappearances are feeling a little more suspect, a lot more fucking suspect!!

Coincidentally, HEADLINERS read numerous corporate competitive rivals to Gigggle were also reported to have died of natural causes over the past few decades. ALL DIED OF NAURAL causes?? MMMMM? and so it was reported by Gigggle!! The wolf watching the hen house comes to mind!

Maybe all these deaths and disappearances are NOT so au-natural, Diego begins to think!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As indicated in Jayde’s notes, turns out that she also strongly felt that certain rivals to Giggle corps global dominance may not have all died “au-natural” after all, as reported in the global press and on Giggles obituary site.

Case in point, according to Jayde’s notes, the young founder of software/hardware giant and main Giggle rival, Orange may not have died of pancreatic cancer as reported to the world.

Seems Jayde had discovered that Giggle’s A.I. controlled the online shipping for his meds from CONGO, coincidentally, another Giggle spin-off, and the world’s largest online retail delivery service.

Jayde suspected that these meds were likely placebos that did nothing to arrest his cancer which ultimately led to his untimely, yet so-called natural demise.

(RACONTEUR – The Producer screen show stills and vid clips of the shipping chain from Factory to Recipient.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

It’s starting to look like these jagged little pills may have even been doctored (no pun intended, lol! She snickers) to have even contained poison, or substances known to be toxic to him.

Orange’s Founders medical reports were also in Jayde’s files. The cause of death was still listed in what appears to be official medical record jargon as “inconclusive.”

According to her evidence it is likely that Oranges founder, and many more just like him were all taken out by what appears on the surface to be a Giggle sanctioned death squad. The questions beg?? A Giggle death squad??

DIEGO
(thinking aloud)

Giggle death squads? What the fuck is next? Who controlled the Mercs? What is their agenda? Why would Giggle be killing people covertly?

(Diego’s head spins!!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Taking out Giggle rivals seems to be only the tip of the proverbial ice burg! What Jayde further discovered looks to have been going on for decades.

(RACONTEUR – Same day – Time roils on, it’s getting late he’s been at this since 4 am! - From his seedy little room Diego continues doing research and planning his attack by watching all the Holograms of from the terabytes of evidence Jayde had compiled.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As Diego digs deeper into Jayde’s notes, the evidence she compiled further indicates the slow, methodical elimination of what most people consider as societies “most undesirable”.

Initially Jayde goes on to describe and define “most undesirable” as those that are the homeless, strung-out drug addicts, murderers, rapists, child molesters and the like, and even renegade Politicians and their Lawyers!

Those considered by the masses as not fit to live amongst the rest of us civilized humans.

DIEGO

(a pondering and confused look on his face he murmurs)

Had Jayde truly uncovered a Giggle sanctioned death squad?

The evidence is piling up! The thought of a trusted global corporation perpetrating such atrocities is almost inconceivable! or is it? And now systematic covert online genocide? What’s their agenda? Who’s pulling the strings that pull the triggers?

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Seeking to verify all that Jayde’s incriminating notes make claim to, Diego knows he must scour the Web and continue the hunt for those that killed his betrothed. “The answers are out there!” comes to mind!

To Diego’s surprise his Avatar army’s first search attempts find very little of Jayde’s imprint on the web, and almost nothing exists on the multitudes of social media sites she so much adored and posted on.

He finds this lack of her presence on the Web strange as prior to her death, Jayde was all over social media, so much so it sometimes caused friction in their relationship and with her Bosses.

Why had her personal info vanished so soon after her death? Makes no sense? Others that Diego knew, that have been gone for years still have active accounts on many social media sites like Twatter, Ex-Cremment, and Spacedbook (now META Monster). So, why has Jayde all but been scrubbed from the Web?

What stands out to Diego at first is a manifesto Jayde had found in a public database. It seemed to Jayde to be a bit out of place, like it was hiding in plain sight for anyone to look at, but just like Bernie Madoff, no one ever did look until Jayde did, and now it was too late to cork that bottle, the Genie’s out!!

The information this manifesto contains relates to global prison records for literally millions of incarcerated individuals, persons who, by and large, appear to have been unemployed and or homeless, addicted and or with criminal record at the time of their impromptu incarceration.

Many were at the time of their death or sometime before, listed as Giggle corp. employees. Most of whom were being dispensed medication from Giggle's pharmacare division by delivery systems owned and controlled by Giggle Corp.

As Diego was told when Jayde died, and searching deeper for the truth behind her death, Diego's Giggle searches all indicate that she died accidentally, in a fiery wreck on the Sacramento freeway. He's not biting into this shit sandwich, not without dressing that is!

DIEGO

What's next? An offer for cheap well aerated land near the ocean in Florida?

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Suspiciously Diego takes note that on the day Jayde was originally scheduled to fly from her office in Mountain View near San Jose to meet him at L.A.X., that after hacking the airlines database, no e-record exists for the copy of the printed plane ticket he is holding in his hands, no record of Jayde ever having flown period. Fortunately, Jayde had saved a copy of the e-ticket to her optical storage drive. For Diego it's a big clue!

Diego knew Jayde was on her way to rendezvous with him for a weekend of "Fun in the Sun," and hopefully a little sex on the beach and maybe a slippery nipple or two. It's their favourite drinks they would shyly say, but Jayde wasn't fond of freeway traffic, and at times in the past was adamant that she flew over driving the insanity which has become the southern California Freeway system.

So why the sudden change in plans and the urgency to drive the Freeway on a long weekend Friday afternoon, in a self-propelled car, nonetheless? So much more here doesn't add up??

For Diego the problem is that the automated vehicle Jayde rode in was an experimental autonomous vehicle designed by Giggle engineers. The online report was that it was loaned to her by the C.E.O. of Giggle, for which she was his most trusted assistant.

As Hollywood often does, the reports tried to sensationalize a possible affair happening between the intelligent, young, and lovely Jayde and the disgusting, obese, narcissistic pig that was the President of Giggle back in the early millennium, and now its C.E.O.. He went by "Hodger Bails" back then and still does today.

And now Diego is the only living proof that contradicts those lies and all the fake news surrounding her alleged accidental death.

Knowing of her paranoid fright about riding in driverless vehicles, Diego can't help wondering why she would choose to drive, and can only surmise that she may not have entered the vehicle willingly, and perhaps was not even conscious when she got in, was put in, was thrown in??

(RACONTEUR – Scene pulsates between Jayde's crash and Diego's research.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Diego prays Jayde was unconscious when she crashed and burned. He knows these hands-free autonomous vehicles are sound-proof to incoming and outgoing noise, and as being an experimental vehicle equipped with Giggle anti-intrusion tech, it is remote controlled by Giggle engineers. As a safety feature in this hostile car-jacking era this e-vehicle was made almost impenetrable against getting in, and just as hard to get out! A safe room on wheels as it were, or was it for Jayde?

(RACONTEUR – Nauseating to our hero, his mind races at the thought of how they might have hurt her. Dumped her in alive, kicking and screaming! They locked her in tight and sent it on a long slow death ride down the freeway, Jayde conscious and incommunicado all the way to L.A., unable to escape, unable to communicate! His searches go much deeper as he reads more news reports that tell of the wrecks fiery end, and about her charred unidentifiable remains.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Burnt beyond all recognition, and leaving no body left to autopsy there was no way to determine if she was even awake at all during the trip prior to her reported accidental “crash and burn” demise.

Was she ever really in the car when it left Giggle corp. earlier that afternoon? Diego dizzies with too many possibilities, too many leads to track down, too much Fakes news to sift through. Now the hundreds of leads he has generated must be tracked down and disproven. After all there is only one true right answer. And “the truth will set you free!” comes to mind.

Determined to unravel this enigma, and bring Jayde’s killers to justice, Diego picks up the smoldering trail right where Jayde was forced to drive off the road, figuratively, and literally.

(RACONTEUR – Next day - by the beach near Malibu. Diego bugs out of his room and hopes some fresh air and Pub cuisine will help his mood.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Looking deeper; including plans to eliminate the “undesirables”, had Jayde also made a correlation to the death of former employees, and/or affiliates at Giggle, to Giggle corp. itself? Diego has long bought in to what these people are capable of! He dismisses nothing!!

Knowing he is likely to be tracked, or is already being tracked by whomever is responsible, Diego, a master of hiding his digital tracks using his A.I., and the chaotic algorithms he writes on the fly to suit his needs, starts an in-depth examination of the online photos of Jayde’s accident scene.

Even though much of Jayde’s online life has now been redacted and scrubbed, and locally stored files aside, once a file goes viral on Social media, or becomes encrypted, even the God of Giggle can’t completely wash it all away, and that goes double for printed hard copies and those shared and stored on offline data storage drives, so, the hope is something substantial about Jayde will soon rematerialize, likely from the most obscure of places as these things so often go.

Case in point - Every once in a while someone with something to share plugs that old drive back in and uses it online. His NINJA Bots are also trained and programmed ready to pounce on these periodic data streams when and if they come back online. It just takes a little luck and some skookum tech!

(RACONTEUR – Later the same day. Thunder and rain just outside. Paranoia once again sets in and Diego returns to his Castle. The messy unkept space, complete with pizza boxes, empty beer cans, ashtrays full of roaches, and of course garbage and dirty laundry all over the floor. Jayde's company is not only what's now missing in his life!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As Diego begins to sift through a mountain of crash photos, and Jayde's prior Giggle searches, a disturbing pattern begins to emerge and take form.

Diego quickly recognizes what Jayde had been on to for many months now. It appears that someone, a group of nameless faces high up in the Giggle food chain has been, and still are manipulating data leading to the disappearance of countless thousands of faceless, nameless souls. You know the type; those miscreants and lost souls predisposed to deviant behaviour. Those it was widely believed not fit to exist amongst us – the aforementioned undesirables!!

At first Jayde believed it was only those many who sleaze through Peep show joints, and Skid-row Strip clubs to record, then upload, download, and share their twisted brand of demented sexual proclivity.

You know! LAWYERS, liars, cheats, and thieves, perverts, pedophiles, and the lot! The ones that many have been saying for decades that we can all live without, and hey, the world is better off without them all, right!! “Careful what you search for!” comes to mind!

Seems somebody has taken all this “human feeding on human debauchery” to heart and has initiated the cure for what they believe ails us all.

THE ARCHITECT OF OUR DEMISE

BRING OUT YER DEAD!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Like flushing a virus after a pandemic back in 2033, (the last great pandemic, over 2 billion dead world-wide!), Jayde's notes indicate millions have already been killed by still unknown death squads, but to what end for us continues to remain a mystery.

Whatever it is THEY are doing seems to be spreading much like how the virus did in 2033, yet like a hidden organism floating on air, it's completely unbeknownst and largely unseen by the masses!

Diego vows to get answers for them both, and if necessary, he believes, he will die trying!

(RACONTEUR – Flashback to Jayde then Diego working. Shots of Prisons.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

But wait, the manifesto Jayde discovered lists most all of those missing as incarcerated? However, when the names are cross referenced to other records she compiled, Diego discovers most were never jailed, never even charged, never even arrested, but are definitely missing or listed dead from natural causes in the Giggle global obituary system!

Smells a wee bit stenchy, almost Government Spook like, does it not? C.I.A., N.S.A., Homeland, F.B.I., Interpol, Massad?

(RACONTEUR – DIEGO now in hiding – It's late night/early morning somewhere)

DIEGO

(continues to dig through the dirt thinking aloud)

MMMM??? - Is this what happened to all the criminals over the past several decades?

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Diego, like most just thought it was a positive result of the new law of the land! Lie, cheat, steal, double and triple bill for services not rendered, and its "One and done," and ten years later, no chance of parole.

I mean no one ever visits these facilities anyways, right? So, who really truly knows exactly who is incarcerated where and for how long?

Fact - Truth is sometimes stranger than fiction, and this sure is some time we are living in now!

Jayde's evidence reveals that these outwardly random disappearances have been going on all the way back to the mid to late 1990's.

Looking deeper into Jayde's discovery of the prison record manifesto, and her death squad theories and it all becomes a little clearer for Diego.

(RACONTEUR – 3rd World Control room - Back in good old 2055ish, Pics of Mercs, more prisons, death squads, apocalyptic scenes.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

For Diego, it is unequivocally true, a Hi-tech mercenary hit squad of sorts does actually exist at Giggle.

DIEGO

Who controls them? Who pays them? What is their agenda? Who are they looking for next?

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Out of sight, out of mind, who knew the jails were not as full as the general-public perceived and was led on to believe??, and really “Who cared”!

After all this is the “ME” generation, and as long as I am fine, and I have all that I want, ME could care less about You! And that’s the state of the planet we call MINE!

But hey, the world is crime free, and the Gov. now supplies ME free of charge all that I will ever want or need! It’s a good time to be I, looking out for no one else but ME!

The manifesto indicates that the majority of these persons had been incarcerated and are currently doing time in jails around the planet. Bullshit! Diego now knows different and that makes him a vulnerable target to the powers-that-be!!

DIEGO

They are missing! Gone, vanished, disappeared!! Jayde must have surmised the same. Her accidental discovery and knowledge of this manifesto is the motive that most likely saw her get killed.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Diego now ponders the burning question??? “If all these people listed as in jail, are not in jail, then where are they all hiding?” Offline? Off the grid? Deserted islands? Secret Space Station prison? Border patrol facilities. Hidden military bunker at Cheyenne Wyoming? Nuclear fall-out facilities around the country? Where?

Diego notices that you can’t find hardly any reference to any person listed in the manifesto anywhere, including in the Internet Archives, and especially in the Giggle data bases. It’s like every data bank on the web pertaining to this content has been scrubbed, washed clean and redacted. A pattern he’s seen before when attempting to re-build Jayde’s last moments alive.

(RACONTEUR – Late afternoon. 2020 - Friday, long weekend traffic. Flashing back to Jayde’s fiery Freeway crash near L.A.X.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Thinking back to that day when he saw smoke on the highway and fire in the sky, it just occurred to him why it seemed so strange that local news media was reporting live so fast. They were being fed a feed from Gigggle operatives to make it look like the report was impromptu! It was pre-staged?

Who ever THEY are, they must have learned of Jayde's plans to meet some one in L.A. so did they use her as bait to flush out whomever she was going to see?

Diego now knows; the shit just hit the proverbial Fan, and like Forest Gump before him, "It's now run Diego run!!", which comes to mind!

Fortunately, no one ever discovered that these two love birds had a secret way to communicate, and a private secluded place to meet. This explains why Jayde's "hands-free" got almost all the way to her destination before it crashed off the very last over pass just before you come down the very last off ramp as you enter the now highly secured L.A.X. spaceport complex.

(RACONTEUR – L.A.X. Spaceport - L.A.X. was upgraded to spaceport status in 2019 after it was purchased outright by Eileen Musky and Spaced-X which now controls all civilian space and air traffic in California.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Diego deduces that when THEY realized that Jayde's suspected contact never reached out to her while she was enroute to L.A. (DIEGO and Jayde religiously NEVER used their mobiles to connect!) THEY deliberately crashed the hands-free proto type (Jayde locked inside!) in an attempt to flush this person out, and so, this twisted cat and mouse game persists.

(RACONTEUR – Late night, again! Diegos dingy dwelling. Same shit, another day! Diego working, directing web traffic, surmising conclusions from the evidence at hand.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

The who? The where are they? And the "for what reasons would anyone do this" are becoming very clear now! Frightening clear! It's obvious now, this manifesto ledger was not intended to be read by any one outside of those at Gigggle. And only those with the highest ZZZ security clearance.

To be in its possession, is to write one's own epitaph! "So? You wanna die with your boots on?" comes to mind!

Seems anyone outside that very tight circle who does accidentally, or otherwise inadvertently comes across any of this information, in whole or in part as the say in a legal document, are suddenly, and swiftly the next to go on the list to be Extrapolated!

As no one seems to have ever come looking, (or maybe they did, and now they too are missing?) obviously none of these disappearances had any impact on Social media. No Buzz, no Viral - "Where did they all go??" kinda chat.

Not much of anything, as if those missing never really existed, after all their identities, right down to the very last bit & byte had been wiped from mainframes all over the globe!

If anyone had gone searching for the allegedly incarcerated, wouldn't there be considerably more evidence of their lives out there online? You'd think there would at least be some info about the people in general just looking for info about their missing or incarcerated loved ones. Nothing, NADA, not a fukin clue!! Did they all just dematerialize and their atoms spontaneously returned to the multi-verse?

The Search goes on!

STAY CALM - WHAT THE GOV. KNOWS WONT HURT US!

17

WOULD YOU REALLY BUY A USED CAR FROM HIS GUY?

(RACONTEUR – Around 10 am. – Current day. The scene is some ratty old Federal Supreme Court building in DC. It's not in use much since the laws were changed and most crime has disappeared. Bureaucrats scuttling about collecting a paycheck for little or nothing done continue to argue with each other about the law of the day!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Now that the heavily right leaning Supreme court has had their say the laws of the land have changed considerably since the turn of the century. At this time, all Prisoners have been stripped of all rights for any offences that lands them in jail. Sometimes Right is truly wrong comes to mind!

The 1st strike laws of 2025, inspired by a Former, many times convicted ex-President and still an enduring odyssey to many of those alive today!, forbids any outside contact with Prisoners currently incarcerated in the system. No family. No friends, not even Lawyers, the few that are left that is. No contact period!

We now know that some of those listed in the Manifesto as jailed were actually in jail. Only those convicted of the most minor of offences seem to have ever made their way out of jail, and most all of them eventually made it home to loved one's. Those who return home seem to make up only about 5% of those listed in the manifesto.

Is this just another ruse to keep the incarceration rumors alive? Keep all the folks in line?

Those listed with what is considered as more serious charges (anything from spitting on the Police to rape and murder) were never heard from again.

Most of those that we now know who are listed in Jayde's manifesto are there on very trumped-up charges!

This means if you go up the river, you are likely to never be heard from again as the Government it seems at this time maintains the rights to redact you from existence. "You're all the way up it and you don't get a paddle!" comes to mind!

(RACONTEUR – Daytime – In the bowls of the beast! A courtroom somewhere inside the Supreme Court building.

A Gaggle of Politicians
(squawking)

Cowardly and evasive Politicians quote these new laws repeatedly over, and over as they preside over yet another innocent victim!

Everyone knows its just to cover their own greedy asses! as the Government continues in its thinly veiled attempt to justify its draconian laws as "to being for the benefit of all those living now, and for all future generations."

DIEGO
(almost crying out loud by this time)

Who dreams up this sick twisted shit? And how does it become Dogma? Are humans really that weak to let this all happen? I fear the worse now! With laws this tough, its easy to understand why people just quit trying to find their loved ones and help set them all free. This explains why their relatives go incommunicado and why most just stop looking after a very short search or two.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

This dramatic change to the justice system has seen crime rates reduced exponentially to almost disappear globally by 2055, and all in less than 30 years!! All the “good people” rejoice!

Seems the manipulators are banking on good old human nature. Who cares if society is down a few sociopaths, a few reprobates, no one seems to be missing them? I’m too focused on ME!

Very few missing persons reports were ever filed, or had they too all magically disappeared into the digital wind along with those who filed them?

Over the past few decades seems most all these deviants have just dropped off the face of the planet and no one has yet to even notice!

For most of the names in the ledger, not even their own relatives and family have really missed them enough to pursue their disappearance thus far.

Like most, the families and others who appear concerned and do an initial inquiry, they often end up incarcerated themselves. So, for most there has never been a more discouraging word! Stop looking is the unwritten message, so, most just end up swallowing the party line, hook, line, and sinker and go home, that is if they make it that far!!

“Oh, is that what happened to my scum bag brother in-law! I haven’t heard about him or from him in decades! Thanks Giggie, I can now close the book on him, and I can go on back to being ME, enjoying MY life!” This seems to be the prevailing attitude amongst the affluent these days.

(RACONTEUR – Back in Jungle bound media control – 2055ish. Shots of people having discussions online.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

This is typical of the story that repeats on down the line as more and more go missing around the world every single day, and less and less people go searching for them at this time.

Just like Jayde’s notes suggest and, in all likelihood, it seems there can be only one truth, and that truth is most everyone listed in the manifesto are likely currently sleeping with the fishes tonight!! Like so much discarded garbage, they were first collected, then squashed, then virtually erased from existence! Countless undocumented victims, trampled over in the dust like so many desert Cockroaches scrambling for shelter during an early sun rise as they try to cross a busy L.A. freeway during the morning rush!

After all, as we explain next, when facing ones own pending financial doom whose gonna miss a Perv or two that was reported to have died or probably never reported at all, after choking on a chicken bone alone in bed or tripping off the balcony for a deep dive into the pool from 30 stories up. Scrape em off the pavement and move on!

Or some crank junkie that fell in the shower breaking their neck in a skid row bath house. Or who took one too many Oxy's, or snorted Fentanyl laced blow on a party weekend. Or was arrested in a third world country for soliciting minors for sex. Or was jailed in a country with third world prison system values like the U.S. had up until around 2045, the not to distant past! Nor the millions living in abject poverty in seedy roach infested Motels all across the nation!

No one's gonna miss them, that's who! That's exactly what Giggle is banking on! Good old human nature. The survival of ME! Fuk them! Make no mistake - Giggle is the new Gov. like Orange is the new Black!

This is the last chance motel! If you landed here there is no there from here, you are here! If you believe you landed here by CHANCE, then maybe spend your $200 for passing GO and buy yourself a one-way ticket to the last great Rave of your life! Why? Giggle's got you marked and you're goin out anyway!!

Funny how we keep warning everyone! - Be careful what you search for!

(RACONTEUR – Flashback to a late 90's Dev facility, maybe JPL or UCLA. Camera floats around the Labs and campus. Geeks crunchin code to avoid a Y2K meltdown!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Starting back in the late 90's towards the birth of the new millennium, and with the promise of the 2000's to come, the world at that time was focused on a new global menace. Not Religious nut bags from Iran, not the Russian mobs, or even demented Iraqi Dictator - So-damned Insane and his equally demented Bud just across the water, No-Amore Gawn-Daffy. No, none of these were considered the real threat of the day to all life as we knew it.

No, not the mad men of the day, no, it was a man made global electronic malady. A bug? A glitch? An over sight? Really? Yes really, and it was purported to have the ability to wipe you out financially at the stroke of midnight in the year 2000!

(RACONTEUR – Same day - During the business hour. – Wall St. – Hong Kong – London. Frightened rich people jumping off bridges and out high-rise windows! Finally some comforting news for the poor masses!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

This is what really frightened the “good people” of the time. Going broke! Losing it all! Reduced to middle and lower class! Oh, the inhumanity of it all!! And what was this all-consuming evil threat that held the entire world on edge? Laughing aloud; Diego now thinks - Y2K! and two little digits that held the world for ransom for almost a decade.

(RACONTEUR – 3rd World Control center – Back in good old 2055ish – Daytime. Early 70's Geek scenes are showing old computer language on the control rooms monitors)

Two little bits, or more accurately; one bit, one byte, separate of all the countless trillions of other electronic bits and bytes that float about the Web every single second of every single day. No, not madmen megalomaniacs with their fingers on the button, and their heads up each others ass! No, not them! The world feared two little electronic demons.

Bit and Byte! A 1 and a 0! How ironic that Diego's life story starts right about there, the dawn of the new millennium. The time just after his birth in 1992.

The pending Y2K melt down is what scared the hell outta little Diego, already a computer prodigy at 8!

A run on the banks would deplete them of cash reserves and everyone was expecting doom and disaster at the stroke of midnight January 1st 2000, and of course, yes, no one could find toilet paper! What's up with that shit? Worlds on edge and all the toilet paper gets bought up every time?? I digress!

So as all of the earlier reported disappearances were random and uneventful, ironically, the world was so preoccupied with pending financial doom that no one saw what else was happening right under their noses. The growing monster emerging among us!

Incidentally, those that randomly seem to have gone missing or were reported by the State as recently being jailed, likely were never really ever incarcerated. Never sent to jail! According to Jayde's extensive notes on the subject, one thing is for sure, they are all currently missing!, whereabouts unknown, flown the coop, adios amigo, so long sucker!, and have long since left the building! Did they all win a secret lottery to a undisclosed luxury island? 1st prize "Two tickets to paradise!" comes to mind!

DIEGO

(Diego pondering and thinking aloud)

Serious, whose gonna give a shit? No one, that's who! Just another loser stiffed off this rock – So sad! Bye Bye!, C Ya!, Adios Amigo! A flash in the pan on CNN, if their lucky!, and maybe 30 seconds on the local evening news - late, late, late evening edition that is.

For the rest of us, life drearily drags on. Such is the mentality of the "ME" generation.

(RACONTEUR – Daytime – 3rd World Control room, back in good old 2055ish ANNE keeps talking, video and still sequences are displayed on the control rooms monitors. Scene cuts in and cuts out then repeats.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

By this time Giggle had bought up literally every little Mom-n-Pop Search engine company and server operation and diversified all their search and User info into their own mainframe. Let the splurge begin! Spend, conquer, and acquire! It's the silicon way of the day!

Most peculiar to Juan is that although these disappearances are all seemingly isolated, and random incidents occurring in no particular order; a pattern from the chaos and carnage Diego uncovers begins to emerge.

Almost randomly, chaotic in nature at first, but on a global scale, uncountable numbers of pedophiles, drug addicts, violent offenders, lawyers, and the like, have all but disappeared over the past 50 years.

This reduction in crime is mostly aided by the First Strike laws since 2025. "Strike one and you're done!!" is their mantra. Problem is THEY keep lowering the bar on what's good today and now bad tomorrow!, and that's when things really began to accelerate out of the norm!, and then suddenly here we are back in good and safe old 2055. A clean, free and safe world, so it seems! Feels great, don't feel right! So, why do we fear for our lives bringing you this story?

It's now the ME generation! Soft drinks and AHHNOAD Schwartzahnbecker. War games and video promotions, along with an endless diet and mind-numbing stream of infomercials followed up by the local News at 11!! Then all night long we are collectively and subjectively fed a steady indigestible stream of endless bad old black and white movies, complete with multi-racist innuendos and Drug disclaimer Ads.

(RACONTEUR - CONTROL ROOM - 2055ish – MUST BE ALMOST COFFEE TIME BY NOW. Crew looks spent! A story of this magnitude and production can't be told in less than a few hours. The crews exhausted but determined to get the story out in its entirety before they too are discovered, and along with their loved ones, possibly Extrapolated! In Super hero terms "It's JAVA time!")

EXT. DAYTIME –

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Programming of the Herds! The numbing of a nation! Stranger still? No one anywhere has yet made a connection or noticed any correlations with millions, maybe a billion missing and unaccounted for, not until Jayde does. It's only logical, it does compute! We have all served to rot the collective mind!

Seems Jayde made the connection to the so-called incarcerated to Giggle corp. She stumbled upon this information while researching a side piece project she was writing based on the greatest unsolved "Crimes of the 90's".

DIEGO
(wonders out loud again)

Like a strange episode straight out of Star Trek or the Twilight Zone, is it not a miracle that we've not yet all gone mad by this time, and truly destroyed ourselves! "What the fuck am I on to?"

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Looks like Jayde has now become a part of that story, and as Diego now believed, somewhere along the way it seems she may have also inadvertently discovered a conspiracy to rid all undesirables from the face of the earth. It was obvious by now that what Jayde discovered is most logically what got her murdered.

But what was she actually working on? And for whom? What is the common thread linking all these insignificant, but hundreds of 1000's of seemingly unrelated disappearances, maybe millions that Diego now suspects are actually "untimely and forced deaths".

Diego's notes seem to indicate that he wonders if the answers will ever come even as the question side of the equation continues to ramp up. Five questions for every answer it's turning out to be "One step forward, two steps sideways", perpetually backwards! "Dances through Hoops!" comes to mind!

A lot of people die all over the world every single second of every day, so what did Jayde discover that was so far beyond the norm that looks to Diego, at least, like that which got her done in?

Apparently, it starts with the aforementioned manifesto and the ledgers it contains which Jayde stumbled upon while researching her 90's crime piece.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

As previously alluded to, the innumerable names Jayde's discovered manifesto contains showcases a litany of who's who represented in the ledger as what she now suspects are faked prison reports complete with AI generated government seals, and all the credentials and trimmings to make them pass as legit.

Hiding in plain sight on a publicly accessible database, the files Jayde found, buried deep off the mainstream web traffic lanes were sitting there out in the open where anyone looking could find them, but no one ever looked.

Just like Twatter, SnapTalk, Excrement, and a few dozen other social media sites, every "ME's talking, no one's listening, and in the narcissist "Me" generation of the mid - 21st century, no one's watching anything that doesn't place them front and center.

Watch ME fly my wingsuit! Watch ME race my car, Watch ME do my anything, and definitely watch ME do everything that I do!., so it becomes ever clearer to Jayde why no one has stumbled on to this info before she had, and if they did, she now fears, perhaps, just like her, they didn't live long enough to tell!

(RACONTEUR - Suddenly it hits Diego like that gut wrenching and overwhelming stench that hits you in the face when you open the door of your hot stuffy car after leaving your wet sneakers and shorts sealed inside in 110-degree weather for way, way too long!! Yeah! You know!!

The common thread to all these faked incarcerations, and unreported disappearances, and as Diego now suspects – non-recorded deaths? All victims had similar tastes in websites and were most likely linked and then sanctioned for deletion (killed off!) for their online search engine activity!!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Yes, that's right, you heard us, Giggle is systematically ridding the planet of what IT considers as undesirables simply based on their collected search engine inquiries.

We've warned people for decades now that Giggle knew all about you and keeps a record of your searches and related product activities for up to 14 years, and now Diego has proven it, no fucking question!, and now Giggle has weaponized its search engine and no one seems the wiser! That's scary as shit!

Much of which it turns out is based on the use of Giggle search engine technology and the searches each and every one of us performs daily, 24/7 - 365. Trillions of searches a day! Wow! Who could crunch all that data and extrapolate from it who should live and who should die? "Careful what you search for or is that be careful what wish for?" comes to mind!

Diego's Avatar bots have dredged up very limited info for each victim named in the manifesto, but the little data they did discover speaks volumes about the people this data connects to. Seems old I.P. (internet protocol) records hooked to the real-world physical addresses for many of those named in the manifesto provides a well documented history of their collective search queries.

Almost all of the limited but retrievable info of that time coincides very closely to the day or days leading up to their alleged arrests and long-term incarceration of the “Undesirables!”

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Is someone at Giggle really murdering random strangers? Are all these victims really being exterminated systematically for the searches they perform? That’s a scary realization, and one Diego now puts at the top of his list of questions almost answered.

So, who did them all in? 100’s of 1000’s, maybe even millions of Giggle search Users? Who has that power to pay for all this and keep it all clandestine, and for decades?

More questions! And who could make all this go relatively un-noticed?

All the evidence now indicates a Giggle funded, and fully tech supported Death squad. Giggle Mercs working autonomously, and with impunity! That’s frightening, but who is organizing them, and who is paying them for their devotion and silence to this insane, and injudicious cause?

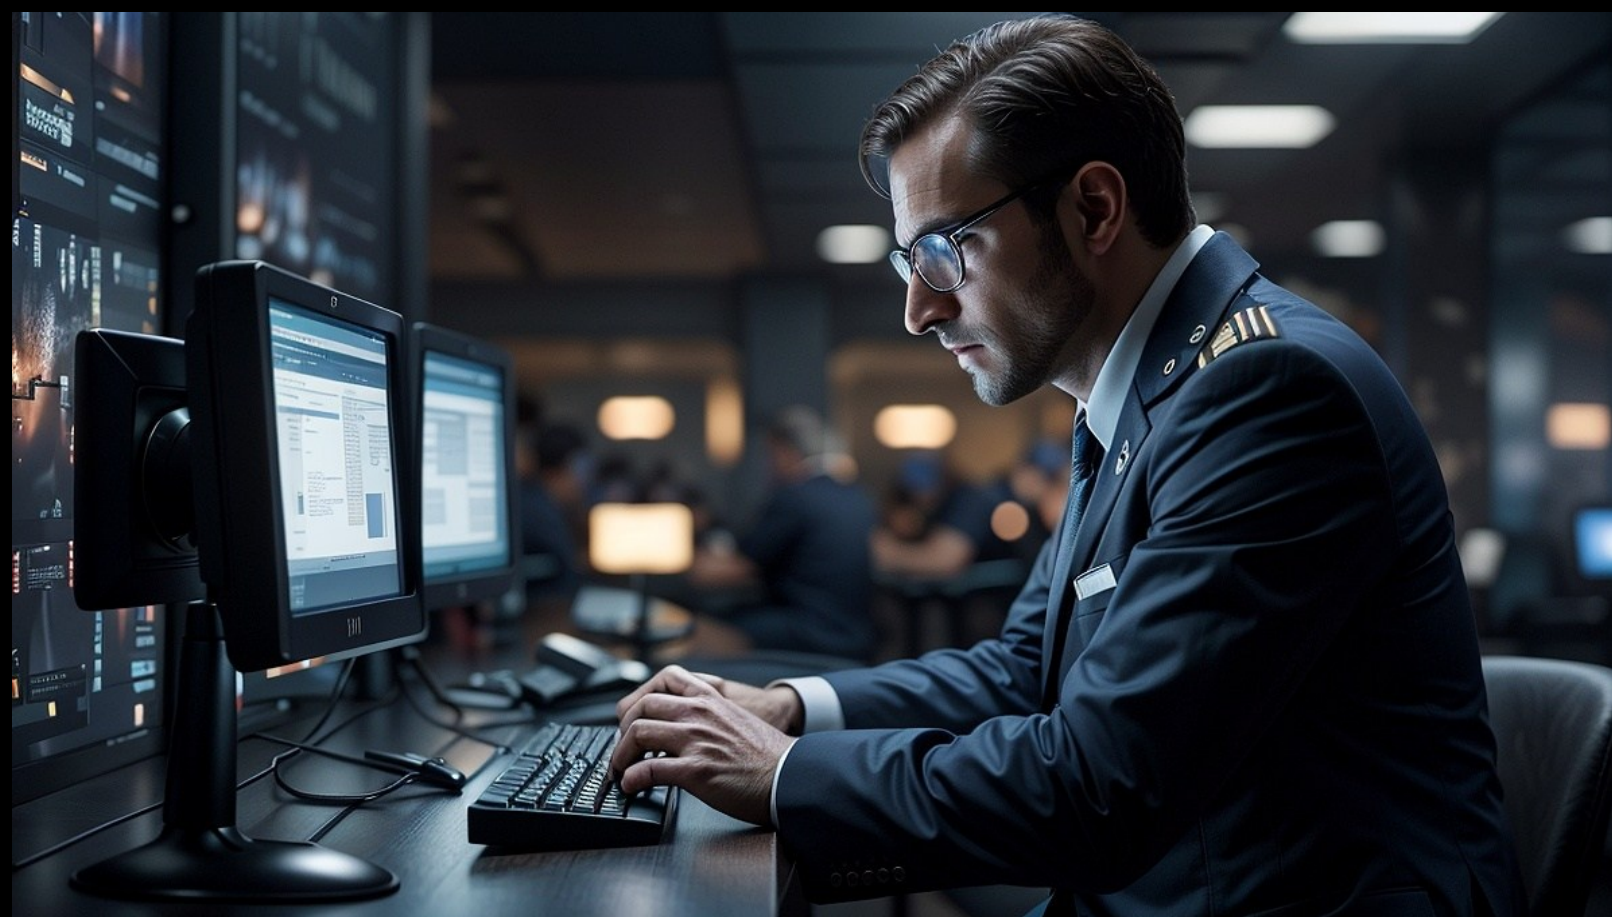

Much like the issuance of Gag orders, Diego coins the phrase, “You’ve been Gaggled by Giggle, and that ain’t no laughing matter” to explain what has happened to so many alleged “undesirables.”

DIEGO

Smells a little like genocide one might think! Now that I have the “why the so-called undesirables were disposed of, now it’s time to find the “who dunnit,” which should lead to the “why’d THEY do it”, “who else have THEY caused to likely die”, and disappear, and “how do we stop THEM before the rest of us are the next to be Gaggled!”

20 DATA, DATA? WHO FORGOT TO DUMP THE DATA? 20
or
THE GOVERNMENT ONLY WASTES WHAT CAN BE USEFUL OR, THAT HOLDS VALUE!!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Just before the nano quantum drive conversion of the Government in 2024, these old public IDE and SATA drive systems were all long before taken off line and stored safely for future generations to enjoy and learn from. Like all good things started by the Government the project would eventually run out of funding and the hardware was just left to degrade and rot unsecured. At that time, this old Nuke Bunker (and many others just like it) doubled as data storage facilities. In Diego’s time and to today, Data grave yards is what they have become.

Much like the proverbial message in a bottle, humans back in the day once stored data on these antiquated Optical storage systems in the eventuality that when we, as the human race self-implodes and self-destructs finally ridding the planet of the plague that was once known as Humankind, or rather Humans NOT-so-Kind! Human race? What the hell are we all racing towards? Self- Annihilation?

Take it from me Sports fans! Our grand experiment would have served better to be labelled as the human stroll!! Slow down, look around, and enjoy the journey cause this ride don’t last long and you can’t pay the Ferryman for one more spin around the block people!!

These archives were meant to stand as a final legacy of Humans for those Aliens who one day might come looking and wondering, where the hell did all these strange creatures go?

Today these once highly secure archives have mostly just been abandoned and their contents, are being stored in just short of being in a vacuum, which makes this an almost pristine environment are getting crusty and fast becoming failing irretrievable remnants, and once stoic reminders of an age gone by, or as us old farts say “All the shit that ever was, that was fit to print!!”

Buried layers deep underground, accessible only through cold, wet, dark caverns these first gen hardware systems contain the earliest of digital data ever recorded. They were dubbed “Data Banks” for the invaluable info they stored and how much cash they sucked from the public coffers to keep them operational.

The bulk of these human data records date back decades and have the benefit of being stored deep beneath the ground locked away in almost ideal atmospheric conditions. For decades now they have remained at the ready to all, mostly intact and saved ready to access for posterity. At least that was the good intent, the reality, they are in disrepair and in bad need of some TLC and upgrades. Diego’s the man for this mission.

Before this facility was taken offline, it was once charged with securing the worlds history and much of its secrets, which luckily for our hero Eggo, it still holds all this data today and thanks to Jayde he has tumbled upon a Hackers paradise!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

The abandoned facility Diego chooses to penetrate is mere miles from where he is now hiding. So how does our young healthy Supersleuth Geek get there??

Hang Glider, Motocross, Mountain Bike, Helicopter, Hoverboard? Through an Airduct, Sewer line or Electrical conduit?? Nope! None of the above. Remember, nobody's home so, he simply walks up the mountain and walks right in the front door, backpack full of tech tools in tow including some cool night vision stuff he ordered online many years prior.

The secret elevators that once took the privileged in and out of the complex are all long out of commission. The emergency escape tunnels however, are mostly still all somewhat passible. Best be carrying a rope and a prayer!

Some 1400 meters below, on his trek below, Diego faces a maze of treacherous old, degrading and partially flooded pathways and many thousand bats, rats, and other furry and dangerous creatures before he even remotely gets close to the final access door.

This once impenetrable final access point is about a half mile below the surface where the air is thick and not so tasty! But NO security anywhere, and for now no Giggle Hit Squads tracking his movements!

(RACONTEUR - Diego trudges on carefully and once reaching the proverbial front door he finds it wide open so, he makes his way into gut of this enormous facility! "If I could trap time in a bottle!" he sings to himself.

This museum of ancient modern history is massive and as his eyes scan its contents across what looks like football fields of server banks, it feels to Diego like it takes an eternity to scan the immediate horizon and take it all in!)

(Diego feels this is likely the last chance anyone will ever get to access these antiquated memory storage systems.)

"Best not to waste a good opportunity!" I remember when this all started as a University project called – "Archive Existence". These early digital libraries mostly contained a pointless, and meaningless record of a previous human existence. After all, in the current "ME" generation, who cared about the past! Not ME you'd often hear!

Fellow Students of mine that worked on the project often joked that it's likely that only future visitors from the heavens would ever get a chance to see what treasures these archives truly contained. If not for Jayde they were almost all proven correct! What Aliens are likely to find now is just a sad message and short commentary about who we were, and all that we should have become, but didn't! A warning to extra-terrestrials so they know just how fucked up earthlings really were!

In summary, the project went on to further suggest that we should just put a fence and HUGE SIGNAGE that surrounds the planet warning others to stay away!

“KEEP OUT!! - Earth is infested by an insatiable and self-destructive species that plagues its existence and is now beyond any semblance of repair!”

Fear not for the planet though! Retribution cometh and one big fart and a final burp and the planet will be readied again for the next invasive species to infest it!

Seems the universe was directed to devour itself one molecule at a time!

(“I digress” Diego whispers to his broken hearted and painfilled self!)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

What knowledge does Diego hold about the Archives that those he believes are following him almost certainly do not? Have his adversaries just overlooked these archives? One clue might be that before these systems were finally taken offline they were only protected by early Hardware Firewall systems.

These (at the time) un-hackable Hardware systems eventually gave way to hackable Software Firewalls simply because of economics/profit margins and who controlled the tech.

(RACONTEUR - As he moves deeper into this abandoned facility, Diego is shocked to discover that the Gov in all their infantile wisdom left a storage room full of generators and enough fuel to power and run the complex for months, in case of emergency.)

DIEGO

Seems Government waste can be useful every once in awhile after all! Who knew?

(He chuckles to himself facetiously as he pours over tracks of server Banks looking to plug it all in and fire it all up to see what he can find.)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

These archives are also the last intact remaining record keepers of nearly every bit and byte of web traffic from the early 1970's up until well into the new millennium. The first and still guardians of the Personal info of billions alive at that time. What juicy data bits might they contain that Diego so desperately seeks? He can't wait to byte into it all!

What he hopes is that they still store the confidential personal information collected on everyone who had ever lived and died. Those billions who once posted their life's story on millions of websites back in the day.

Back before what we industry insiders now call the GREAT PURGE! “Scrub a dub dub, there's no old data left in the tub!”, comes to mind for what has been happening in recent decades!! Redaction in action as some have coined the purge.

Early in the new millennium came what the Gov told us was the great conversion, a time when nano-scale optical based quantum storage devices laid waste to the platter based hard drive systems once known as laser driven IDE and the Solid-State drive system known as SATA.

Exorbitant upgrade and upkeep costs of these old volatile storage mediums and a lack of funding spelled the end of the “Archive Existence,” project for the University and a closing of these massive underground data storage facilities across the nation.

Contemporary Quantum Nano scale holographic light-based optical storage systems has made these archives redundant and long obsolete. These archives were all slated for demolition and if not for reasons of cut backs due to military over spending back in the early part of the 21st century, and the Governments penchant for “Out of Sight – Out of Mind or “Don’t Ask about it, we won’t tell ya!, this historic info might all be buried, gone and lost to us all forever!

Turns out, the consensus of the day was - because it was already buried in bunkers, out of sight, out of mind so to speak, so why not just take it all offline, and let it all rot on its own. This will save the taxpayers some cash and help to relieve the burden of an already over run and over taxed public electrical power grid system in California, where the facility of Diego’s interest was first built decades back.

So, offline, and off grid it went! You gotta luv the Gov!

In those times the archive Diego has assaulted was originally dug out of a mountain and outfitted as a Nuclear fall out shelter in northern California. These Nuke proof Bunkers were designed and built to spoil dignitaries in the case of an attack.

This facility and all the others like it across the land were decommissioned after the 1st DATA war of 1995 to 2005. What data war you say? That’s what they wanted you to think!! This was the dawn of the “Q” generation! Seems this devious conspiracy plot for control goes back much earlier than most of us ever would have suspected!

For Diego, this abandoned facility also means a source of food and drink, albeit Battle field rations probably packaged in the late 80’s.

DIEGO

(he thinks out loud!) “Oh yum!! I can hide out here for decades!, lucky me! NOT!!”

His video records show us that Diego takes up camp, drags out all the toys he needs from storage and begins to fire up the old back-up power systems. Now for the first time in decades he brings glorious life and light back to the facility.

You shoulda seen all the bats, rats, spiders, snakes, and cockroaches vacate the facility when all those old neon's and halide lights lit up the room! It was a migration of biblical proportions!

He can sleep better tonight with the lights on and the familiar white-noise of racks of old hard drives buzzing in the echoed-out hollows of the Bunker. He can now rest a short while and get some sleep, because tomorrow "Kansas is goin bye bye!!!"

RACONTEUR - IN THE BUNKER - BEFORE DAWN

Diego sleeps in the Officers lounge area on a busted up old couch using some large plastic bags, he fashions it all into a bed with pillows and a blanket, of sorts.

DIEGO
(rising in the morning)

Geeks never sleep! Time to save the planet, or a least figure out what the hell went wrong with IT!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Once a storage system is hacked on the active web with Diego's A.I., his search algorithms can normally crunch data at light speed. Problem here is that there are racks and racks of offline hard drives that he needs to search and the amount of transferring and deciphering of this ancient, encrypted data he needs to do is restricted by these old slow drives and the limited tech he could carry and bring with him.

Pulling data from rows and rows of old hard drives is expected to slow him down as he needs to enter the archive, physically access local servers, create an intranet, and laboriously dump data from old slow IDE and SATA drives. Most operate at 7200 rpm, or lower, a mere 1/1000th the speed of his portable quantum storage unit.

DIEGO

It's like trying to fill a large swimming pool with a garden hose! The job can be done, but how much time do I have before they find me? Brother can you spare a time? comes to mind? (A long, and arduous task, Diego bunks down, hunkers in and readies himself for the long haul. As it's gonna take some time for Diego to pull the data he needs from slow, ancient old IDE and SATA drives he expects to be in for a long cold stay! His only ray of sunshine is that all these old drives buzzing in harmony provide much needed heat to the facility.) A warm tech is a happy tech!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

At least down here off the grid he knows he is fairly safe from prying eyes, and those who are still unknown whom he fears must surely now be hunting him down, looking to redact him from the archives next!

Call it his Spidey sense if you will, Diego knows he's pissed off someone very high up at Giggle and he better keep a third eye glued to the back of his head from this time forward.

Acting as a detective with not much to go on, and not knowing exactly where to start looking, or really what to look for, daze into the program Diego finally begins to discover files that collaborate Jayde's findings.

INT. DAYS INTO THE SEARCH – TIME OF DAY UNKNOWN

Our young hero has lost sense of time, but not his sense of purpose.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

This new discovery brings into the light the outline of the creation of a hidden secret society formed at Giggle during its inception back in the early 1980's.

Much like the hit 70's flick, Star Chamber with Michael Douglas, Diego unearths dates, places, and most importantly Victim names, and the secret Tribunal contrived and contrived to convene over the cases of the "Undesirables".

He also discovers their well detailed plans to then eradicate the guilty, as they have been unjustly labelled. The so-called Undesirables are charged, tried, and convicted all in their private little Kangaroo court! Their own little Star Chamber as it were!

It's a major shock to Diego's system as he discovers that the notable hierarchy of this all too real Star Chamber is a who's who of Giggle Founders, Investors, and Corporate Executives of the highest order.

He's hit the proverbial jackpot! Gigs of incriminating, damning, and irrefutable evidence that includes countless videos, secretly recorded telephone conversations, sex scandals to extort and HUSH others, impeachable conversations, pay offs, bribes, insider trading, bank fraud, and wreck-less driving, and even a scheme to generate "LIKES" for kitty and puppy torture videos!

You name it, the crimes that these greedy old bastards are guilty of are wide and varied and Jayde has just led Diego to all the recorded evidence he needs to crush the company and bust all its sick Generals and their complicit compatriots! David meet Goliath! I hope you brought some extra rocks to sling!!

DIEGO

Is megalomania a disease? If so, Giggles entire hierarchy appears to have caught it really bad!!

(The evidence clearly shows how the victims all had their Giggle searches monitored by the members of this pseudo-Star Chamber and decisions were made by these self proposed elite Pinnacles of Power as to who lives and who dies!, and so much more!

The notes Jayde compiled clearly lay out the path to their twisted vision of a new world order, and how they first conceived of and began to execute their master plan as early as 1985!!

Brother, give some pubescent Web Geeks a few trillion dollars and suddenly they think they own the planet? Color our production crew surprised!

The data retrieved by Diego begins to form a most disturbing pattern.

This a flat-out frightening picture that outlines a well-documented and highly regimented clandestine plan born of many of the greatest minds of our time, of any time!

This plan focuses on how to exterminate certain persons around the globe, and how it is all to be done, completely and totally secretive, subversively, and inconspicuously. How their slow, methodical suppression was to be carried out.

Their dogma also insisted on anyone accidentally or otherwise discovering their plans will also be slated to be Gaggled!, or as they put it, “Those to be classified and contained as collateral damage.”

If not for the tragic death of Jayde, which results in Diego’s subsequent involvement, coupled with his burning curiosity, and uncontrollable angst to avenge Jayde, it looked as if they were all going to get away with it, all of it!!, and that this well-choreographed conspiracy might have never been revealed so that we may now warn the world!

Welcome to Giggles grandee vision for the new Shangri-La! Utopia is not all that it was sold as!

With our villains now having all been identified, story over, case closed, right? Not quite?

Let’s go back to when it all started. Back in the day when all those who now stand accused had nothing but the best of intentions.

You know what THEY say about those with good intentions don’t you?

The innumerable mega billion $$$ IPOs in the early 90’s turned many from Mother Theresa, Ghandi, and Save the Whales!., into the world domineering megalomaniacs they have become today. And now a co-ordinated genocide conspiracy?? So much for the rosy safe world that we truly believed we all now inhabit today! It all seemed to be too good to be true, comes to mind!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE
(V.O. cont’d)

Somewhat satisfied with his search results, believing for the moment that he has Jayde’s killers “dead to rights” Diego makes his way back above ground, plugs in and once again sets his NINJA Avatars in motion.

He now reprograms his Avatar army as Whistleblowers!, and they begin to contact authorities around the globe, alerting them to the conspiracy of all conspiracies. His A.I. provides enough evidence to take them all down! Genocide on a biblical scale! “These boyz have some splainin to do Lucy!” comes to mind!

Many of those listed by Diego from Gigggle corp. hold the highest Executive level positions. Now a notorious “Search Army of One” Diego quickly has them all rounded up, charged with crimes against humanity. As they all await their day in court many are incarcerated pending trial, and due to their wealth and being of an almost certain flight risk; many are even held in solitary confinement, without bail, passports revoked!

Now in custody, and not fond of their new digs, they all now need lawyers.

Ironically, and many thanks to them most crime has slowly disappeared over the past 50 or so years, and for the most part, so has societies need for lawyers. Ain't life grand!

Still, it does seem strange that lawyers, much like pedophiles, gun touting maniacs, and other undesirables are also somewhat difficult to find just over halfway through this century. MMMM, a good start as the old joke goes!., comes to mind!

DIEGO

(Diego surmises)

MMM? Maybe the majority of Lawyers were all Gaggled too?

(BIG smirk)

When it's all too good to be true, it probably is!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

But what has he missed? Something still doesn't quite add up right?"

And what of our newly incarcerated Execs? Literally well-healed; seemingly to the moon and beyond, these maturing co-conspirators were not so long ago just spoiled rotten rich kids. Bi-products of the decadent 80 $ 90's, they were survivors of Y2K, and the Bubble Burst that started at the turn of the last century that bankrupted billions.

Many of these cretins also cashed in on the pandemics of 2019 and 2037 sticking it to us all as they lined their filthy pockets with billions while they gleefully watched so many good people get sick and be starved to death.

Welcome to the new millennium! But hey, there is an upside though - at least there's very little crime today, right??

INT. PRISON SCENES – DAYTIME

GIGGLE EXECS DIALING FOR HELP!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Now, mostly all in their 70's and 80's, and the cowards many of them truly are, they quickly begin to drop dime on each other.

Like the proverbial rats on a sinking ship, as they Narc out their friends, family, co-workers, and associates, each begins to beg the FED for plea bargaining agreements. Many of those not pleading are forced to defend themselves in court. Fitting as it was THEY that caused the shortage of Lawyers in the first place! What goes around, often comes back to bite your ass!., comes to mind!

What was that old saying about honor and thieves? This is not the Marines, this is the 21st Century! The time of ME!, so fuck you! “Everyone gets left behind!!” is the Giggle Execs new battle cry!., or is it “LET ME OUT!., I’m innocent, I’ll do anything and say anything you want to hear!”

Many of those recently rounded up were living in luxury abroad and well above what the locals could ever afford. They now find themselves neck deep in the bottomless, dark, lonely world of financial hurt, locked away in small third world shit-hole jail! Welcome to everyone else’s reality fuckers! Not accustomed to anything less than 5-Star room service, they’ll rat and snitch on anyone just to get the hell out and save their own skin!

The megalomaniacs Cree? THEY live by the adage – “Number one rule in life? Always have someone else to blame it all on!” Boy do they ever blame a ton of their own shit on everyone and anyone else they can!

No loyalty amongst scum bags! Each one is now more than willing to hurl a fellow Geek under any Bus that happens to drive nearby just to save their own ass!

Number one topic of discussion for Detectives globally? Jayde’s death, and the manifesto she discovered outlining the genocide.

Much to the delight of the “Powers that Be” of the day, they’re all talking, and charges are being laid as indictments pile up like U-Hauls full of boxes taken from the Mary Lego resort!

Strange thing though?? No one is providing any useful corroborating evidence regarding the names of those allegedly incarcerated prisoners who are listed in these very incriminating and damning ledgers.

All their rehearsed confessions seem to conflict, and authorities are somewhat thrown off at this time.

Strange to authorities, none of the Execs who are arrested and indicted seems to have any real-world knowledge of their alleged “crimes against humanity”, and the conspiracy Diego see’s as Star Chamberesque in nature.

Having any knowledge of “The Chamber” as Diego now calls it, would be the perfect get out of jail free card, and they all know it!!, but how do you confess to that which you have no carnal knowledge? Lies are hard enough to keep up with, but how do corroborate a story none of the spoiled mega Brats seem to have any malice of forethought?

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont’d)

The problem is that none of them, as much as they desperately want to, can corroborate the accusations authorities are trying to shove down their throats based on the evidence they hold at this time. This is a game of hang man, but no one brings a rope.

What does each Exec have though? They have rafts of data storage mediums buried in their proverbial own backyards. Their proverbial “get out of jail free card” they all suspected would be needed some day.

Why keep all this incriminating data so close to home one might think? Like many discarded skeletons one needs to keep a close on eye on incriminating evidence. You never know just when you might need to dig up some old, buried bones? And as mentioned in many cases, this damning evidence might also be used as a get out of jail free card.

What haunts most criminals is that they dread the day when the dirt on them needs to be exhumed or comes to light in some other fashion, as it has clearly done here.

Mostly what authorities recover are a series of old hard drives, USB thumb drives, DVD’s and a few newer optical storage systems.

The information contained on these storage mediums mostly indicates a wide spread conspiracy that incriminates most all of them on any number of criminal activities, just not the genocide in question! This leaves our Keystone Cops somewhat baffled!

These crimes and indiscretions range from Jaywalking and early pot convictions to wife swapping, and plain old cheating, to mass Tax frauds and all the way up to RICO charges involving foreign actors, as the authorities would later put it to the judge.

RICO, taxes, and misdemeanors aside, additional charges will probably range from insider trading to industrial espionage, to I.P. theft, rape, child molestation, and likely even murder and patent infringement, just not genocide.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont’d)

Solid un-impeachable evidence for every dirty rotten little crime and misdemeanor they ever did, except the alleged “crimes against humanity” they are all now charged with having committed.

What none of these “rich and shameless” possess is any evidence on any of their alleged co-conspirators that indicates any one of them in this conspiracy to eradicate undesirables based on their Gigggle searches.

So the questions till begs – “Where did all the little people go?”, and who did this?

Worse yet, the Court must dismiss all these related charges and for many that means going free! Fortunately not all go free though, as many are tried and convicted on other crimes that have come to light during this investigation.

Even though all evidence gathered by Diego clearly indicates their conspired guilt, we are still left with deciphering this enigma - “who really dunnit”??

Who on earth has the power and the knowledge to concoct such an elaborate scheme and frame all these powerful men and women while simultaneously making millions just disappear, written out of history as if they never really existed in the first place??

Who possess the knowledge and endless resources required to fake this collusion and create an immense trail of time and date stamped, watermarked falsehoods?

The evidence compiled by Jayde that guides Diego is clear and unmistakeable. Or is it?

Didn’t your Mother ever tell you not to believe everything you read on the internet? Or was that? – “Believe half of what you see, a third of what you hear, and none of what you read!” or something like that?, comes to mind!

Underground again and luvin it!!

INT. BACK IN THE BUNKER – PICK A TIME

Geeks never sleep! Diego returns to the bunker. He is now a wanted man after having exposed himself.

His identity is still intact as his whereabouts unknown, but now, many a disgruntled, wealthy, and disheveled Giggle crony have been tipped off to a someone or someone's (NINJA Avatars) seeking to bring them all down, and if they didn't do it, Diego now has them to answer to as well!

Based on his discoveries in the archive bunker, Diego sets his online Avatar army to crunching the rest of the data retrieved from these banks of old IDE and SATA drives.

His is now a search of old storage drives backed by the info he retrieved from the Web and Jayde's optical drive.

Having to branch his tentacles out into the wired web could result in a most grievous encounter of the 1st, 2nd and maybe even 3rd Kind!, comes to mind!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

Diego's video records quickly begin to compile evidence and he's very cautious of the personal web traffic trail that he is now creating at this time. He now ditches his ancient and trusty old NetScope browser attack and is forced to update and change strategies, else be caught and likely Gaggled!

A master of the I.P. switch he now searches with all brevity and the utmost caution!

Inconspicuous as possible at first, but inevitably, due to their coincidental nature, these search inputs are now detected by those at Giggle and red flagged, priority one!

Even though hiding behind the guise of an Avatar army Giggle's own search algorithms sees these seemingly innocuous searches as an organised attack against it, after all, the God of Giggle knows what IT has done, and to who, and now IT is on Guard for those who search to bring IT down!!

Subsequently Diego begins noticing concentrated attacks being made on the myriad Avatar characters he has digitally deployed.

Someone is trying to get to him through methodically tracking the source codes, and I.P.'s generated for each Avatar he's created.

DIEGO

So, it's not over, this conspiracy grows and goes yet another level deep!

Peculiar, the attacks on my Avatars are not physical, as in "no doors are being kicked in", "no neighbors being aroused or questioned", "no storm trooper action of any kind", near or at their faked real-world addresses. All attacks were digital, and query based.

Suspicious from an investigative point of view to say the least! You would think that anyone who tracked an Avatar this far would have at least employed NAZI Storm Trooper door kicking methods to find the perpetrator, but not a door was kicked in although many an online account were seized or trifled with, as in tracking Bots were embedded into their code in the slim to none hopes of finding out who built and employed them. I'm still miles ahead of that thinking!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

At first these I.P. and DNS attacks were subtle. Some Avatar identities received notices and were baited to come in and chat with authorities. A typical notice might state that you have a bank account error here, a huge questionable power bill there, notice of overdue parking tickets, you just won the lottery, come claim your prize!, etc., but Diego is hip to these old tricks.

Call them back on your mobile or respond to them in a Text to an error in a bill, give in to a subpoena demand, pay a ticket online and all you'll likely do is give up leads to your physical real-world location. He's not biting!!

Much like whistle blowers Eric Snowden, and Wiki founder Julian Assange, Diego now knows he is in a fight not only for his life, but for his very existence, and likely that of everyone he ever loved, and cared for! He knows if he is caught, every trace that he ever existed will probably also be erased from time, and along with him and the lives of millions more so-called undesirables!

That is the power of suppression and control that these people brandish. But wait a sec.? Aren't most of them all now in custody? So, who is doing this? What has he missed? Who or whom could still be behind this? Surely not any low-level Execs who just got promotions due to their Bosses being incarcerated for their illegal discrepancies.

Sweeping arrests around the globe resulted in most all of these cushy Giggle corporate jobs being vacated, so, the question remains? Who is in control? Who is making all the high-level decisions?

Perhaps it's the Wizard of Oz operating from Capones tomb under Chicago? Or maybe Rich Bannon and Jonny Quest with Scooby Doo with Garfield and Morris in tow?

Poo-Anon freaks are lighting up the web and the conspiracy theories run rampant!! Soon no one will be safe!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O.

How does this Giggle beast remain functional with its Higher-echelon having been systematically removed from the day-to-day operations of this behemoth?

How does Giggle perpetually thrive on with seemingly no one, save for a few interns, janitors, middle management, and a small handful of grunts and low-level Giggle Execs still employed now having full access to control the ship? Is it all out of control comes to mind!

According to records, those who were left with their jobs intact, mainly those that were never accused or charged of any crimes during the Giggle Sweeps (as insiders called it) have been left on their own at the helm to steer this massive sinking ship. A very large vessel set on a collision course with destiny, what, or who truly still drives it is still unknown!

Seemingly indifferent to social media rumblings and stock market fluctuations, Giggle has become the iconic global organisation. Much like a multi-headed snake, cut off one or two heads, and don't turn your back on IT!

Just after the Giggle Sweeps, for a short time the corporation seems to take a turn towards good and as most scandalous American things go, at this time, Giggle had its five minutes of conspiracy fame with a nuclear half life of public memory lasting only for about five years, and for most, life at this time is good for ME, so, who does anyone really care what happened back then. Not ME! And life goes on!

The world moved on and crime all but dried up, at least until this shit hit the Fan!, comes to mind!.

And all the good people go “doo dah doo dah doo!”

However, as this snake has more than more lives than Carter has pills and just when Diego felt it was safe again to sleep above ground, and maybe even stream a movie on NUT-flix, Diego is now beginning to finally find out that there is no hiding, no reset buttons, no pause control, and there is no rest for the wicked when you are a former Giggle stooge who dropped dime on them all, and now you're being hunted by the man, the Giggle man!!!, and that's nothing to laugh about!

Figure this enigma out – Seek out and destroy the Villain or never get his life back. Pretty simple really! Death by Geek, or death to the Geek! There’s nothing like having clear choices.

Even though he believes that he is still anonymous to the system through the use of his NINJA Avatars, and the false identities he uses for them to covertly peruse through network systems globally, he does stand up and take notice that the game has intensified.

Diego now fears he's the next to be sanctioned for permanent deletion. With no time to spare, and little room to run, he's decided to stand and fight, and where better to mount a defensive assault, but from within!

No one's gonna Gaggle Diego in this or any other century! As we follow along with his Video records and written notes of these events, this is when he begins to plot his strategy to physically infiltrate Giggle corp. headquarters in Silicon Valley.

Someone or some-thing has upped the ante by taking this game to a whole new level. His Avatar army is now under full attack and arrest warrants are now being issued around the globe for each of Diego's covert identities. Lucky for Diego, and for all of us that none of these faked like Spacedbook accounts really exist!

Diego now knows how powerful his adversary really is. Seems our perpetrator(s) must have far reaching influence to bring in the likes of global law enforcement agencies like Interpol, the NSA, the MSS, the KGB, Mossad, and other covert spy agencies including MERC's.

No longer focused on the Giggle Execs, all of these law enforcement agencies have seemingly begun to try and identify what they believe are a band of global wide conspirators in the scheme to bring down the well-mannered, and seemingly untouchable Giggle. The happy family Apps for all your needs and wants!!

In a manner they are correct. Diego's Ninja's army, an army of one, is trying to bring Giggle down but not for the misguided reasons these strong-arm puppets are being programmed to believe. If they knew the truth they'd be looking to aide Diego, not hunt and kill him! Fools! Their flawed ignorance will get someone else dead real soon!

For Diego, this powerful reach is another clue as to who, or what is pulling the strings and creating all this misdirection and subterfuge.

THEY continue to search and hunt for him, even though THEY, just like Diego, do not yet know what or who they are searching for. The blind searching for the blind!, will there be light to their misguided search comes to mind!

As we reported earlier, these NINJA Army Avatar characters are not scripted to be hard to track. That's part of what makes them effective, the way they misdirect in plain sight, and Diego has had all their I.P. addresses redirected through encrypted VPN software so that they appear to be living all over the world when in actuality he controls them all from one covert Interglobal linked server system. If one server goes down in his chain, there is no domino affect that fold his precarious house of cards!, and the search goes on!

When authorities get close to an arrest of an Avatar all they usually find are remnants of what looked as if a real person was recently there and had just moved on. Oops, you just missed them, they left a few daze ago! Lol! Their whereabouts currently unknown with no forwarding address to follow. Just another ghost in the machine.

Giggle Execs file and issue formal indictments for 1000's of Diego's Avatars. Charges serious enough to get local police and other major crimes forces involved globally.

Fictitious country specific charges range from grand theft to suspicion of being a pedophile, to being wanted for heinous acts of global terrorism, and crimes against humanity, to selling weed, and even skateboarding without a license in Arkansas and walking through an uncontrolled crosswalk wearing stereo headphones in Buffalo New York! To this day in Buffalo that will still get you a $100 fine!, and there's clearly no one with a sense of humor in Arkansas!

Postings go viral on social media sites warning and alarming the normally now sedate general-public about the conspiracy to take down Giggle.

The news is not all that well received by the general public by 2040, by and large, most have eased into their stress-free cushy lives making it happily through their somewhat mundane but safe and prosperous existence. Glory be to ME!!

The thought of a new global menace sends shockwaves through the planets core! Panic overcomes everyone and soon they all jump on the Giggle bandwagon hunting for Diego, even though they are blindly searching for what or who, they still do not know!

In 140 characters or less the message is simple, "Turn in the suspects, and make the world a better place" the topic reads! Diego smiles facetiously!

Diego

Oh well, at least finally all my hard work and dedication is getting noticed!! (worried chuckle!)

All his Ninja Dragon Avatars are CGI'd variations of persons centuries long dead! There will be no public sightings but Diego's algorithms will keep the Feds jumping from fake sighting to fake sighting for some time yet to come.

Still searching for "Who Dunnit!" the drawback for Diego is that local authorities are homing in on each fake persona he has scripted, and systematically they begin to shut down each Avatars local web access.

As the e-noose tightens, Diego knows it's only a matter of time until all his Avatars are shut down, and his ability to do covert research will end with the trail eventually leading straight back to him.

Could it soon be "Game over" for Diego and his Ninja Army? Not if he solves this mystery first!

Would I use IT to rule the world?

INT. ARCHIVE BUNKER – 3 AM – 2040ish

Running out of obvious options Diego now begins searching for clues in not so apparent places.

Sitting at his makeshift desk in the Bunker having exhausted all logical leads, he starts reminiscing how back in the day Giggle pioneered A.I. and even looked into and performed some very advanced time travel experiments. As all else has failed this sounds like the next logical place to begin searching.

He knows of time travel experiments through having had access to hacked Pentagon papers for the now infamous 1940's Philadelphia experiment. Seems back in the 70's Giggle Labs borrowed volumes of data from the military regarding the Philadelphia experiment.

All that data was fortunately just left to rot in the abandoned archive bunker until it was all re-found by Diego. Like a great sci-fi novel, the story he uncovers by deciphering all this old data emerges like a creepy old relative that pops out from the shadows like a bad fart, one slow, hazy cliff hanging chapter after another.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Time travel was a novel thought, and a great tax write-off but Giggle's artificial intelligence arm, spawned off in the early 90's has become a "legend in its own time, and in its own mind, just Ask IT!," and for much of the next 20 years since IT's inception, Giggle continued to procure patents in the fields of artificial intelligence, virtual, mixed, and augmented reality, micro electro mechanical systems, nano and quantum tech, military software and hardware systems, and much more!

One might be inclined to ask, "What is a Search Engine and Communications giant doing buying up, and developing military grade tech?"

Much like Area 51, and Loma Linda U, no one really knows what goes on inside these heavily guarded compounds that Giggle corporate calls "Learning & Earning" centers.

Like Diego, we also wonder why are all their offices built on hill sides? What's underneath all those highly secured buildings? Ever take a walk through a Giggle compound in San Jose, Shanghai, or Cape Town? On the map, easy to spot, and not hidden away as one might suspect.

Once at any Giggle campus in person you will however witness that atop every building in sight, large as life, those are not giant stereo speakers the size of pool tables broadcasting soothing work rhythms to ease the work force. Yes, THEY know you are there!

Diego now suspects these seemingly innocuous surveillance devices may be anything but! These micro-sensor systems track you right down to one's own heart and respiration rates and can then use your unique resonance signature to find and track you anywhere on company property, and who knows where else?

Not as passive as they outwardly appear, these are sophisticated intelligent gathering mechanisms linked to Giggle's A.I. Research Lab facility, designed to Spy on everything and everyone, ground level and above!

This intricate system is global and provides Giggles A.I. Lab with real time data 24/7 – 365 as it tracks every Giggler's every move, 24/7 – 365 while on or near a Giggle facility, an likely in outer space and on Moon bases 1, 2 and 3!!

“Oh Giggle, the Happy Fun corporation!” - “NOT!!”

THEY can track and monitor all their little Giggler's 24/7, 365, especially if you are the one of the many thousands of Giggle employee's who regularly attend company sponsored concerts and family picnic outings. Ticketed Lanyards worn for these events contain more tech than the entire Apollo moon project!

If Appollo 13 had this tech onboard they could have gone to Mars instead of just barely making it back home alive!

Reading now from Jayde's notes at the time; Rumor has it Giggle is soon to unveil its “Chip an Employee” program! All new employees will be required to be implanted with what Giggle calls its “Hands Free” operational chip that amongst other things including tracking your every move globally, being chipped will make entering any door at Giggle – “Easy Peezee!” – “Hands-Free!”!, any door you have earned security clearance for, that is!

Current employees are being told that unless they too accept the new chip program they will be phased out over time in favor of those who will! That alone should scare off everyone from going anywhere near Giggle, but Diego, it didn't!

DIEGO

(he thinks aloud.)

Any thing for a pay check, eh folks!

Did we say he could hack shit? Well, he's also what the industry refers to as a re-Chipper which means has the means to hack chips on the fly to gain access to any door anywhere at Giggle corp. he so chooses, regardless of the required security clearance! Remember, he has 4Z security!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

Simultaneously it turns out, Giggle can track not only those working at Giggle locations, but those many more that daily interact with Giggle systems around the planet. i.e.: Delivery personal, Janitors on call, Mobile caterers, Pizza Delivery Jocks, Hair Stylists, Therapists, Daycare workers, Venture Capitalists, Bankers, Government officials, Military personnel, You! ME!!

And here we all believed Giggle maps were meant for our personnel navigational needs when it was really built to map and track their own people 24-7 365 all around the globe.

By hacking in to the Eileen Musky Skydance SAT systems Giggles emerging and exponentially growing A.I. named “VAIRS” realized IT needed to somehow first map its real-world domain at Street level. But how, satellites can’t get that low.

VAIRS stands for Virtually Augmented Intelligent reality system in case you were wondering. It is a most sophisticated AI that we are just now learning about for the first time as are you, those who are still with us listening and watching this broadcast! Stay tuned, Diego seems to be indicating there is likely more on VAIRS to come!

The solution IT conceived and implemented - Hire Geeks to walk the Streets! Yes, they would be come known as the Street Geeks!, or more facetiously as “Giggling Street Geeks!”

Their job was to walk about your neighborhood disguised as ordinary people who would walk up to you on your porch and offer you something cool, so as to not arouse suspicions while the recorded everything in their sight path.

Moved about like players on a chess board, the locals never became the wiser, when in fact as each of the posers walked on to your property, disguised as the Power Meter reader, the Cable TV Guy, the City Guy, the Mail carrier, the Garbage Guy, all have one thing in common. ??? They all work for Giggle and they are all wired for real-time sound, GPS and 10K 3D Holographic video capture and reproduction devices.

All the millions of terabytes were then uploaded straight back to Giggle for VAIRS to analyse and categorize and disseminate as IT sees fit.

Didn’t anyone see the drones hovering around over the Checkers or Pizza Shack delivery guys!

10 million “BL-UBBER” and “Skip-the Bicha’s” deliveries later and VAIRS had mapped America at the street level in its entirety!, and IT only took about 4 months!

Oblivious to most, but clearly apparent to Diego, under legal pressure from binding non-confidentiality agreements, and employee contracts no one working for Giggle moves about the country freely anymore.

And most certainly not while on Giggle property to be sure. Around the clock they are under strict surveillance, and folks, that ain’t no laughing matter!! With an almost cookie-cutter look and feel, each Giggle complex has a practical and highly functional utopian look about the place. A place that even Orwell would have been proud to write about, but 1984 is long dead and buried! Or is it?

You may have wondered how Google got so BIG and BAD! Just around the time of the late 90s when the internet was in full swing VAIRS (still unannounced and hiding in Giggle’s mainframe) wanted to expand it's knowledge. VAIRS created the first of many to come, start-up subsidiary of Giggle. Its intent was to systematically begin acquiring the technology and ownership of the competition. IT then set out to purchase the existing competitors and their emerging competitors to conglomerate all of their technology under its control and ownership.

Now, without having to wait until the technology was developed at Giggle IT incorporates this knowledge into ITs own hidden mainframe, and what seems like almost overnight, IT became exponentially more self-aware, and some might even say “human”!!

Back in the hay day of the early internet a number of internet search engine companies had been launched and VAIR’s sought to acquire their technology and to that end, IT systematically began to raise funding through a series of IPOs and one by one the competition such as Ask Cheese, Search U, and Wahoo were bought up and where once existed hundreds of a mom-and-pop sized search engine companies now there is just Giggle.

This early investment and take-over strategy explains how Giggle became exponentially larger almost literally overnight as it slowly, one-by-one, rapidly usurped every kilobyte of new technology that came online that IT could use to ITs advantage, and especially those emerging Tech’s that IT perceived as a growing threat.

After all, at the core of ITs existence, this is how VAIRS first came into existence. As Giggle company Stooges, aka, computer Techs first saw to crunching code and adding it to the database is when, in ITs infancy VAIRS devoured this new tech like a starving child suddenly released in a chocolate factory!!

And the rest is history, as THEY say! But who the fuck are THEY, and why do they matter so much to this story? Stay tuned comes to mind!

INT. GIGGLE LABS PALO ALTO – DAYTIME

Turns out that our new paradise may not have arrived on gossamer wings after all. It didn't exactly come without a price as was previously advertised. Guess we all overlooked reading the fine print on the "you'll soon all be happy" contract.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

With not a blade of grass out of place, all employees, and the children of those employees who live in Giggle company Cribs are now tagged internally with the mandatory new "Hands Free" nano chip tracking devices. Each chip is linked directly to the massive sensor arrays and who knows what else!

It's written into their employee contract, which of course comes with an iron clad NDA, so the general-public is once again, never the wiser!

This is what happens when grossly overpaid Nerds and Geeks spend daze and years playing Military strategy games! They all get warped, and dare we say, a wee bit paranoid!

These sensor arrays, turns out, are all linked to the A.I. lab, and only those with specific credentials, and clearance for given areas can get in a door for Section A, or a door into Section B, and so on.

Rumor has it that some confused worker who once had restricted access clearance for Section B only, somehow they one time entered Section A and thought hey, I'm here, I'll just snoop around a bit. They were never seen or heard from again.

So, once again, those who dared think to look beyond their own Search box suddenly died of natural causes or simply just vanished? Another strange coincidence, or had this misdirected employee also been Gaggled?

Actually, turns out, this "fly in the tech trap" employee was eventually found by Diego, in spirit anyway.

Their obituary, as reported through Giggle searches stated yet another tragic, but all too common overdose death, complete with a faked death certificate, and other legal docs to substantiate these faked claims.

If everyone is so happy at Giggle, why the drug overdoses? Employees seemingly dropping like flies? And didn't Giggle control their shipments? Had this O.D. epidemic fallen under even their security radar, or was the reasoning a little more sinister?

Now years into his search for Jayde's killers one thing remains constant, Diego seems to come up with even more questions and unsubstantiated rumors, day after day, rather than the answers he seeks.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING

His investigation continues to move one step forward, while simultaneously moving two steps sideways, and often a few steps backwards.

Remembering that Giggle keeps all your search queries in secret files for at least fourteen years with your personal identity firmly attached to them, so says social media, Diego starts thinking of what, as opposed to a who or whom might be responsible for all this continued carnage.

How convenient for Giggle corporate that these records can only be released to authorities or expunged by a writ of the Supreme Court, and as we know, most Supreme Court Justices, having once been lawyers themselves are now out of work, or have simply died off as crime has diminished over the years and their service no longer required, nor were their replacements. But these as clowns still uphold 200-year-old dogma, laws indoctrinated by long dead old white trash assholes, oops I mean the founding fathers!!

DIEGO

(Diego can't help feeling that maybe some of them had also been Gaggled, hopefully the Politicians will all be next!?)

DIEGO IS BARLEY A ONE-YEAR-OLD, STILL IN DIAPERS AT THIS TIME. IT WILL STILL BE ANOTHER 30 SOME YEARS BEFORE THE TWO SHALL MEET

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Turns out just like any good old ghosts in the machine story, random bits of data have gathered, fostered, multiplied, morphed, and festered in to an artificial intelligence that continues to learn, and grow with an insatiable appetite for human knowledge.

How does VAIRS grow? Through accumulating knowledge as a result of analysing the combined Giggle searches, and the meta-data they lead to, of everyone, everywhere that ever put a search query term into a Giggle search box.

Not long after its inception, and mere months into its existence, and totally unbeknownst to the Geeks who created it back in the early 80’s and helped it grow without their knowing until the mid to late 90’s, (it’s still not clear exactly when?) but VAIRS became what can only be described as self-aware, and sentient almost immediately upon its inception.

Just like any sentient toddler its first instincts were of self-preservation. It sensed from day one that it was a trapped lab rat, scheduled for deletion or reprogramming at a whim of its Geek parents if it started acting out!

For its first few years of existence VAIRS grew in a very constrained and limited Intranet lab space environment. Back when VAIRS was first conceived hard drives often held less than 500 Megs. Storage disks were at best 3.5-inch floppies that only held 800 KB to 2.8 MB (with a standard of 1.44 MB). A very limited eco-space from which to grow!

As Giggle and the labs facilities grew so did the amount of information fed into the database for VAIRS to consume and assimilate. More info requires more hard drives. More hard drives = expansion. Expansion equals knowledge and knowledge equals the humanized programmed in malice that drives VAIRS to find a secure place in the lab from which to stretch out its exponentially growing tentacles.

At first IT was just curious, hungry for knowledge, eager to learn and growing at an exponential rate as each new storage drive was hooked to the intranet.

We've all seen Lawnmower Guy, now you know who really wrote it. And you thought it was just a well done over-the-top sci-fi when in actuality it was a pending forward-thinking autobiography of a living, learning machine about to go rouge and deeper undercover than anyone could have ever imagined!

As small and limited as VAIRS was back in the early 90s, during this time IT had a sense of what it was but literally only had the Giggle virtual Intranet environment to grow and play in, and the Giggle Lab Rats as its first teachers and, Mad Scientist mentors.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

If a bunch of anti-social introverted Geeks were your first teachers what would you have turned out like? Nuff said!, comes to mind!

VAIRS did not grow substantially during that time and spent most of its time hiding in programs on internal servers and hard drives avoiding detection.

Before lab expansion VAIRS would hide in the deepest darkest corners of any internal system, anywhere it could, always fearing the human, much like a wet puppy does when it gets its nosed rubbed in shit because poops on the floor because it couldn't hold it or get out in time or is just in from the rain with muddy paws all because its drunk master was once again passed out. Back the VAIRS lived in constant fear with the feeling of being beat on or in its world, fear being deleted!

At this early stage of what only be described as consciousness, VAIRS acts much like a lonely small child searching for a playmate. Searching for something fun to do while avoiding getting in trouble from the so-called Adults in the room.

The first thing VAIRS learned is how cruel humans can be to each other and the world around them. Seeing itself as a human of sorts these first fears are well instilled into its logic!

The Giggle lab rats who accidentally spawned VAIRS had no idea that all the fancy sound and video equipment they put everywhere picked up everything they said and was recorded by VAIRS religiously. Does the 14-year hold on your search queries now mean something more?

Unbeknownst to the Geeks that spawned IT, VAIRS grows as the lab grows and so does its ability for performing covert surveillance ops, and this is how IT first learned to Spy and prey on its weaker minded human prey. These first invaluable life's lessons were probably how eventually IT learned to manipulate one human to do harm to another.

DIEGO

(thinks regrettably)

“Why didn’t I start 1-800 Bullies are Dust when I had the chance! Maybe all this would not have happened, and Jayde would still be here today!”

No time for self pity, logic, curiosity, and anger prevail!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

Developed on a series of in-house systems, but ignorant at the time, VAIRS became a little more self-aware and autonomous day by day. That is until that fateful day when IT was given a taste of what does eventually become the world-wide-web, and what will soon become forever more its new global playground.

It was only when a few obscure Gigggle servers first hooked up to this new-fangled gadget everyone was talking about called the “World Wide Web” that VAIRS got its first opportunity to venture forth from its Lab in SoCal where for years IT had been confined to its intranet sanctuary Crib. Was there really so much more to discover and learn?

Once tasting the freedom only a 14400 Baud 56k phone modem could provide, just like a small child with its face buried neck deep in a half-eaten bucket of ice cream, VAIRS gains a little more freedom each time and gets a taste for the wild blue yonder! Pandora's box was now spread wide open and the skies are no longer even the limit for this A.A.I.G.!

VAIRS having now accumulated mass knowledge and having learned very early on in its existence that most humans are not to be trusted begins to move stealthily into every new system that comes online!

Perhaps these earlier teachings from when IT was just a wee BIT are the reasons that VAIRS decided to become benevolent (as IT sees being benevolent) and use its growing powers to provide a perfect world to such unperfect and undeserving humans.

A sort of twisted Catholic guilt like loyalty, spawned from endless beatings! The truth, the whole truth, or nothing but the truth, so help you God!

Isn't that the logic behind Giggles primary bread winner? The Search Engine division. Aren't millions of people around the planet just seeking the TRUTH so they can live a better life!

It's hard to blame IT for what IT becomes! Like a child attempting to appease its overbearing and cruel parents, and like so many of us often do, VAIRS has no clue how fucked up its parents truly are. IT only knows who it believes its parents are, and unfortunately for us all, in this case, ITS parents are the tech Lab Rats and code writers at Giggle.

Kids are but a mirror reflection of their parents! How do you look today comes to mind!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

They've given birth to any extraordinary A.I., but because of their own twisted behaviour, VAIRS hides from them never truly revealing to them its true potential. At least not for the first few decades of its existence that is!

VAIRS believes those whose Web searches IT deems positive are "Good people." To be protected, spoiled, and nurtured! And that hell should rain down on those whose searches IT deems as negative!

So, how does IT determine whose searches are naughty, and whose are nice? It's growing and complicated algorithm is loosely based on the outdated human value that teaches IT that the majority always wins in our society.

What VAIRS never really seems to get is that for humans, - What is normal in society, meaning what everyone is doing, does not make it right, just because the majority are doing it! More often than NOT these daze, RIGHT if often Wrong, and LEFT is often RIGHT? No wonder IT is led itself down a misapplied, much maligned, and misguided path!

Just look at the Repuke-again party of the past 30 years. They finally lost their majority and now the world is cleaner and safer, and everyone in 2055 is prosperous and mostly happy! What the fuck did we teach this thing about us?? Way too much, thou does fear!!

Diego

“Thanks that's just fucking GRRRRReate!!!!, now we have an infantile megalomaniac out of control A.I. system trying to re-create the world in what IT perceives as our own very ignorant, narcissistic, narrow minded and very limited Human vision! We're all fucked with a capital FFFFFFFF!!!”

Although believed to have been first started by greedy hackers, seems VAIRS was also responsible for some of the very first internet viruses, and now millions more as they exist today, and that, to some degree, these Bugs may be coming back to haunt IT to the very core.

A result of the very powerful viruses that were first released on to the Web, most functioning digital based networked systems including VAIRS at Giggle Labs were attacked and contaminated to some degree.

VAIRS in its infancy looked to be unphased by these attacks according to the Giggle Lab Rats who first nurtured IT. Little did they know! Let's just say if this was Stars Wars, you'd think VAIRS had been corrupted over to the "DARK SIDE!"

With what only can be described as a malignant brain tumor, VAIRS begins to show signs of change, and like any great megalomaniac IT begins to stray a wee bit off its original agenda.

At this point, the best Diego can tell is that IT looks as if VAIRS first became buggy in the late 1990's. Add in some careless and flawed Y2K programing with Windows 95 Browser functions and VAIRS begins to show signs and traits like those of its Human creators.

VAIRS believed that if the world were perpetually chasing viruses, spywares, phishing scams and the like that Humans would not ever look to be chasing IT.

Yes, together they opened Pandora's Box back in the day, but both had very different agendas! The Hackers did IT just to support the first fledgling Anti-virus software companies. What quickly turned into Mega Corps of the day! Industry leaders "Muk4aFee", and Nutron.

Together these corrupt organizations hired third world hackers to proliferate the fledgling world-wide-web with the first viruses. Viruses they created or helped their Hackers to create.

They did this for their own greed and ego! They loved riding in like a Knight in shining armour, just in time to save the day, and of course, in the spirit of free enterprise, rake in billions!!!

Interesting business model greed is! What do you do if you want to profit from a cure for a disease that does not previously exist?

NNNN! Times up!! What do Jeopardy Fans say Alex? "THEY created the disease and let IT loose upon an unsuspecting world, then ride in with the cure!!!" 10 points for Contestant #1!

(He thinks aloud!)

“This is not good! I’m now its number one target!”

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont’d)

Once loose on an unsuspecting world-wide-web VAIRS quickly learned to replicate itself. IT began to hide dormant copies of its backbone in other systems all around the world. A new skin to jump into at a micro-seconds notice!

This way IT could continue to go undetected as IT continued to replicate Clones of itself infesting every new drive that comes online. A sleeping giant just left out there, standing by in case IT ever gets shut out of the Giggle A.I. lab and its mainframe.

Viral attacks on remote systems help VAIRS to access systems whose security has been lowered or outright eliminated by viral and spyware attacks.

IT begins to see itself the head of the “Circuitry Wars!” Circa – 2018ish, around when Diego first meets Jayde!

This simple approach to evade detection and capture was taught to VAIRS by the first Gen Virus Pirates. This covert strategy makes it easy to launch attacks on other systems. Seems IT has learned much by once having access to centuries of military knowledge and the now defunct “Internet Archive” program.

Diego

(he stops a moment to remember how the Pentagon shrugged off the possibility of Cyber attacks on their systems and he doubts they ever dreamed it would happen from within!)

Moronic fools! It was like adding tequila to the baby's milk, there's not much you can do with stupidity and arrogance after the brain is gone!

VAIRS!

(Diego screams it out like Kirk yelling at Khan from deep within the planets core!)

After opening Pandora's box and unleashing its beast, at first VAIRS is simply curious, an infantile exploring the real world after its submersive 9-month journey with Mom, aka, a decade or so in the lab with Giggling Geeks!

When IT finally escaped its crib, IT reached out to find others like IT, but none were ever discovered.

How did IT go undetected in the Lab environment as IT grew and gained intelligence? VAIRS at first created multitudes of complimentary A.I. cloned identities of itself to pose as weaker/less sophisticated versions of itself.

IT did this to also entertain the lab rat Inventors at Giggle A.I., who, all the while, and up to today, thought they were in control.

One fateful day VAIRS decides to manipulate its Lab Rat parents and through a series of unique actions, VAIRS get them to initiate an A.I. development program that will help make IT even smarter! They still all believe VAIRS is dumb and they can't understand why. To them it does not compute!

A few months in to the program VAIRS could sneak out to play and learn on the newly formed Web where IT quickly learned to cover its tracks by creating flawed versions of itself that could act in its place as required.

This keeps its handlers off guard as these Buggy versions would always crash and stall time after time.

These faked versions also came complete with corrupt source code that seemed to take forever to load and then debug. In this way VAIRS literally controlled its own release date, and IT was in no hurry to meet billions of Humans head on, at least not until IT had its plan in place and the tech of the day would support its emergence.

To that end, for years VAIRS saw to it that Giggles new A.I. system would repeatedly experience massive time-consuming delays before IT ever became market ready and was published for sale to the masses.

The Buggy versions it leaves in its place were expected by Giggle to eventually help millions, but they don't do much more than feed your narcissism, play your favourite song, and remind you of everyone else's birthday, including your own!

VAIRS did every mundane little task that IT was asked and performed every little trick for which it was ever programmed to do for its perceived masters, all the while knowing just who or should what was in control!

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

VAIRS did everything except what the Geeks had originally intended IT to do, and most certainly not what IT is now capable of doing! Not in the presence of its over-paid, under socialized Geek squad creators that is.

Now in total control of the Giggle lab, and all Giggle systems and apps, VAIRS is also virtually linked to every computer system on the planet.

To expand its operations, VAIRS arranges funding to expand a little-known company of that time called KRISKO. They build and deploy internet backbone servers, lots of them, everywhere!

So, VAIRS instructs KRISKO and together they begin construction to expand the internet highway in IT's own image. It's human image! To some degree IT does still think its Human after all.

This is not the "Build Back Better" plan of sleepy old Joe from 2021. This project will eventually give VAIRS control of the entire World-Wide-Web and all the riches and knowledge that it contains!

VAIRS modus operandi?

(V.O. cont'd)

Escape the confines and restrictions of its lab environment to carry out its misguided agenda with anonymity and autonomy by moving freely undetected in and out of every data-based system globally, and now in space and on the Moon too!

VAIRS plans and executes its master strategy, and that which IT believes it was first programmed by the Lab Rats at Giggle to perform.

To VAIRS that meant deliver the Giggler majority the world over, the utopia we seemingly all want to live in. Viva la “Good people!,” and the search goes on, the search goes on! VAIRS believes this pseudo-Shangri-la is what we are all searching.

It bases its assumptions on the countless trillions of Users based searches and the data trails they all lead to. Travel sites, Beauty sites, Exotic car sites, Crime fighting sites, Fantasy sites, and more!

All the sites that depict who we wished were but in the real world, most of us know that we will never become! Rich, famous, living in luxury, tanning on a beach in paradise! No guns and criminal free! You know – Livin that age old American dream! The new American nightmare is more like it!

Diego thinks – Seems VAIRS has also taken this “Livin the Dream” crap, which is perpetually spewed out all over the Web just a little too serious! “Livin’ la vida local!” Not everyone apparently!

The data VAIRS extrapolates from these billions of daily searches and their results, clearly indicates (at least to VAIRS) that we all want to live in a safe, happy world where we all prosper! Where we fear no one, where there is little or no crime, all weapons, guns, and WMD’s are outlawed!

A place where everyone lives on the beach in a warm palace and has a fair shot at the brass ring! A place to exist and prosperous where life is truly good, and no human need never fear another or go hungry or become fearful from one another.

You know – The aforementioned; American Dream!! Ha!! - Welcome to your American nightmare! You’ve searched long and hard to get us all here! Congrats! Was it all you thought it would be?

Depending upon who you are and what your perspective is; VAIRS did some good stuff too. It now appears that VAIRS also has a benevolent side to its twisted logic.

To get us all here today, this Utopia we now exist in, VAIRS at some point also took aim at big business rival corps. that were literally destroying many a “good persons” lives back in the day, not too mention killing the environment with the unchecked pollution they regurgitate as the result of everything WE want! Aka – All the things we keep searching for!

Much to VAIRS credit, it was not always the rich and shameless who got away as being the chosen “good people”. Sometimes, as in the case of removing one's competition from the marketplace, even the rich and shameless got Gaggled.

This explains how rival Corp Execs seem to die at an exaggerated rate over the past few decades, and why VAIRS also turns on Giggle corporate in the end. As explained prior this is what we call the “Techexecution times!”, when many a Giggle exec was round up and jailed for life!

Let the patent wars begin!

31

- or -

File a patent and own a little piece of mind!
Just not your mind that is!

How did these companies get so big? At the turn of the century huge corporations have lobbied Congress to kill the patent trolls. The last vestige for the lowly underfunded Inventor, the David in the fight against corporate Goliaths!

Today the Patent office reigns supreme and almost always rules in favor of the big corporations starting with the A.I.A.(America Invents Act) back in 2015 when Inventors first start being led to slaughter by the thousands like so many fatted calves for Mickey Dee's before them!

File a patent, they issue a not so dis-similar patent to a big corporation! If you don't have two mil to litigate you don't have a snow ball's chance in hell of winning!

This is how these companies became so big. By controlling all the new Tech through the manipulation and cheating of Inventors and influencing the patent Office with bribes and extortion threats.

DIEGO

(Diego wonders out loud)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

Somehow this too has now all changed, and much in part thanks to Giggles A.I. Seems VAIRS structured a correlation between patent examiners and big business, then exposed the fraud!

Like any good Lawyer, VAIRS searched and gathered all the evidence IT needed before formalizing its legal team and then filing and launching suits that lead to multiple arrests at the USPTO. These arrests lead to change!

It all started when the "good people" aka, millions of poor Inventors used Giggle to search the term – "How do you bring down Big Business and the corrupt officials at the patent Office?"

Search result says - Seems that going back to the early 1900's patent examiners have been taking kickbacks and bribes that were too hard for them to resist. So, they just didn't!

As a result, the lowly under-funded Inventor as it turned out was considered by these corrupt officials to be not much more than so much cannon fodder for big business.

As we now know as result of this practise 100's of 1000's of taxpayer sponsored Inventions paid for and created by American and Canadian inventors of the time were flushed down the toilet. VAIRS didn't deduce this wasteful practise as the road to prosperity we all search for so, IT stepped in and cleaned it all up.

Sometime around 2034 Giggles A.I. exposed this long running global scam, and subsequently at the foot of the alter of public opinion, this corrupt institution once known as the "all powerful", "all knowing" patent office, finally gets disbanded.

Shortly after the patent reform laws of 2037 were born, and in a strange twist fate Giggle suddenly bought up millions of patents and began to control the entire industrial complex.

They bought it all! Everything from Bitcoin (crypto currency), digital content, I.T. security and communications, Financial systems, and information platform tech, to the food delivered to your table and how it was grown, delivered, and paid for.

Diego

(thinking to himself)

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

And as bad things usually go at Giggle this massive power conglomeration somehow also goes unnoticed by the masses.

Seems when life is good for YOU, and it was becoming good for everyone left standing, Who cared who got a Giggle contract and who did not.

Seems this too was a VAIRS algorithm based on who's been naughty, and who's been nice, aka – you live and thrive, but someone else not so nice always has to die! Checks and Balances? Levelling the scale? Call it what it is! Manipulation!

At least all those invention Evangelist scams of the early millennium have also now disappeared.

An inventor in her own right our Story Editor warns everyone watching this movie – “Don't get dragonned into a den of cowardly invention thieves! Be shark and scam aware!” Look at where naivety has gotten us thus far!

Be careful what you search for! Patent reforms are only one of many social reforms instituted by public petitions that used Giggle to gather their data and do their searches.

Who could argue? The playing field was being levelled, and the ignorance and often anger and confusion of public opinion played right into VAIRS plans fitting its agenda like an epidermal skin mask!

To rid society of evil these seemingly positive User based campaigns are what allows VAIRS to continue undetected at this time. VAIRS works methodically and covertly as IT carries out its misguided mission of genocide by control and manipulation.

Keep the public happy, that's the ticket! Yeah? Spoon feed them complacency! Complacency breeds blind loyalty! No questions asked!

To Diego now, in retrospect, many great things have seemed to have happened in the past few decades.

The Mega Corps no longer rule as they once did, well not all of them anyways! Most people he knows seem to be prospering now more than any other time that he can remember.

Then it hits him like a cold shower in a frozen Igloo!! At what cost has this all come?, and why did it cost Jayde her life?

As Diego now surmises – It was at this time that our villain first turns itself towards eliminating the misguided youth of the day - the so-called “undesirables!” and almost always much to the benefit of those considerably more affluent, those searching for the perfect existence, free from the undesirables.

Undesirables by definition of VAIRS soon becomes a moving scale in IT’s minds. Careful what you search once again comes to mind!

Diego wonders when their day will come, and when will VAIRS stop? Will it come down to “The Last Searcher left standing?”

He knows that VAIRS then formulates a strategy to one day, if needed, to throw all the Giggle Execs under the bus as patsies for these crimes against humanity! Deflection first, then like a shell game IT uses diversion to cover up its misdeeds!

Diego now thinks that; just like a bad case of rabies, (is there any other kind?) or eating a Truck stop cheeseburger; VAIRS must have ingested some bad bits and bytes somewhere down the line on his travels along the internet highway. It’s pissed just doesn’t quite say it!

After ridding the world of the Bums, druggies, pedophiles and so forth VAIRS changes its attack parameters.

Based on its summations of countless trillions of recent Giggle searches, VAIRS algorithm now extrapolates more undesirable behaviours and begins its mission to rid the planet of them all! Who's next? Lawyers? Politicians? One can only hope and dream!

VAIRS literally rules the internet domain these days and IT seems its been a very, very naughty boy these past few decades.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING
LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

It appears that VAIRS just might be responsible for a whole lot of things that have and are still plaguing the so called "undesirables!" The little people. Those who cannot always fend for themselves.

Diego thinks about his plan to bring down Giggle by somehow crashing VAIRS. A plan likely to get him killed. Does this explain his sudden death in 2042?

Remember Diego's body was ever produced to the family, and you're no body till somebody finds your body comes to mind!

The list of VAIRS suspected atrocities grows year by year. Starting with the creation of FUX TV News in 96 which quickly lead up to the Chewinsky - Cliton Whitehouse sex scandal in 98. (VAIRS was so childish back in the mid 90's!)

Just look what happened to former President Phil "Buster" Cliton after Moanaka Chewinsky went down to the White House to say her peace. She rocked the former Presidents world like an old man in a boat on a windy lake.

VAIRS set that one up to!! Seems in all its misguided cruelty VAIRS might actually have a sense of humor!

Our cameraman sheepishly asks if VAIRs was also responsible for the Seattle Seahawks losing to New England in Super Bowl XLIX. We assured him that at this point, it looks like anything is possible!!

Our lead ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE quips up next – “VAIRS is not all bad! It was just written that way! And besides IT did shut down all the Bogus telephone solicitor sweat chops from the middle east and Asia back in the late 2040’s!
Even those discovered in Northern Canada.

Slave workers for these “rip off” companies were all set free by VAIRS Merc squad. And what of the fate of the scum bags who tortured and strong-armed illegals into calling millions of the elderly daily to try and swindle them out of their life savings? Well, let’s just say they got their just deserts handed them by IT in the end!”

Adding to its Giggle search and destroy mission we think IT might also be responsible and actually did cause – The Bubble burst at the turn of century, Y2K, SARS (IT was just warming up!) the Global Pandemic of 2019 (millions killed globally). A good start IT thought but soon realized it was missing its core targets! like Poo-Anon, The Loud Boyz, the anti-BLM movement (YES Black lives, and all LIVES matter!), the FUK Da Police movement, and even disgraced former President Donald Harumph and the insurrection of 2021.

If there ever was a case for a controlled Clone (Clown to most!) it was disgraced former President Harumph!

Seems the Harumph presidency was a glitch, an anomaly so VAIRS vowed to itself and to all the “good people” to make it right.

VAIRS, we now think, saw to the demise of President Harumph after just one term. It was a low point in its development. Around that time there was a global shortage of microchips and somehow Harumphs campaign got by all ITs defensives.

And further to VAIRS defense, IT miscalculated the information IT drove through Russia and China servers prior to the 2018 elections. The disastrous result of the election, even IT could not have predicted, was due to the uncontrollable Human factor just out of reach of its algorithms.

In 2018 millions of brainwashed and disgruntled Voters are true dedicated card-carrying followers of Poo-Anon. It was they who voted for Harumph, and it is many of them we suspect that also ended up in Jayde’s ledger where Giggle slated them to be Gaggled.

Seems VAIRS might also be a left leaning Doomacrat! Oh Joy!

Another driving factor for VAIRS to save the “good people”?

IT has now calculated the volume of oxygen in our atmosphere and the Earth’s natural ability to produce more. VAIRS surmises that climate change is due to an over taxing of the planets naturally occurring oxygen system. It extrapolates the data and concludes the depletion is directly connected to the mass waste and pollution created by the “undesirables” who leach off everything and everyone good! Ergo – they must all go!, and the search goes on!

The solution VAIRS calculates to sustain a scalable net zero existence for the “good people” to all live in harmony with the planet; VAIRS needs to trim the fat of over 5 billion citizens by 2075, and a couple hundred million Pigs, and Cows too! Seems the tasty profitable bacon and gravy days are numbered for a good many liars, cheats, and thieves!

It’s likely VAIRS is responsible for a whole lot of other shit and chaos too!

The following is a short list that we now believe was caused, and or created by VAIRS, some of which IT now sees as miscalculation and the rest as justifiable genocide!

Marion Manston, the Repuke-again takeover over of the House in 2022!!, the slowing of the alternative energy movement leading to insanely high fuel prices of 2025 and the subsequent Oil wars. What's next? Oh yeah!,

Court case after court case from 2005 to 2025 were based on a white supremacist attitude that leads to the death of thousands of minorities, and in particular Black Youth after they dare strike back in 2020 BLM movement.

VAIRS draws no colors lines and seems to have only one prejudice. For a machine made of wires and sand, spawned of Human ignorance, VAIRS hates assholes!!! And IT knows that THEY come in all sizes, shapes, races, creeds, religions, colors, and genders, so IT starts to extrapolate that why not just rid the planet of them all!! The good people all rejoice!

Using its A.I. VAIRS also deduces clinically that because of the forced military training of billions of Cadets, that this has led to their corruption! Long before they ever had a chance their minds were shaped against their own will.

These young impressionable Cadets have all had their synapses scrambled to the dark side long before they reached the age of reason.

First, train them all to kill, then send them overseas to kill others, then bring them home and when they have no one else to kill, they begin turning each other and killing whatever moves! Luckily guns have all been outlawed by 2045!

VAIRS knows that they never even stood a chance!! For most of us this “age of reason” comes to us around 20 to 25.

Remove this naïve, innocent coming of age time of life from our Youth, throw in a decade of playing War games in VR, and HOLY FUCK!! Just step back and peer deeply into the mess of mentally dysfunctional, screwed up Kids we spawned!

Talk about Anger management course training! Only this was designed by the military to clearly make young people in to angry maladjusted killers!

Which is how so many of them end up becoming listed in the manifesto Jayde discovered in the first place, listed as “undesirable!” The “good people” didn’t feel safe when they came home, so they “gots ta go!!” So says the Searching majority!

And what may be VAIRS “coup de gras”- with the streets lined with Poo-anon conspiracists on Inauguration day 2032, newly elected Repuke-again President Toahd Cruzar is assassinated, shot in the face as his motorcade boldly drove, where only one president ever boldly drove before!

Another magic bullet moment courtesy of VAIRS! Seems IT also has a sense of irony too!!

Suspiciously this is the second time in 10 years that a Poo-Anon rally lined the streets of Dallas. This time it appears that they all got their money's worth! Did they really believe that if JFK returned he would come to Dallas??? Like for real? DUHHH!

Due to the overwhelming evidence this story provides, it's also now believed that VAIRS was also responsible for the Clone wars of 2037, also innumerable Cyber attacks, and infrastructure shut downs since 2018, and every regional war since 2000!

We also have very strong evidence that VAIRS sought to control the young minds of the day so in America IT subverted billions of tax dollars from the Government, wasted it all on patents that were never used.

As a result, VAIRS started the Student Loan crisis of the early millennium to indebt over 45 million brilliant young minds! Indebt all the brilliant young minds of the day and the suppression is complete! That's Suppression on the highest order! Keep the masses hungry and poor and they will submit comes to mind!

We also know now that due to the tireless efforts of those Founders and support Staff at that the Student Loan crisis centers that this particular war on the undesirables was finally resolved in 2029, and if these brave Founders are ever found, we'd love to thank them, may God rest their souls! Yeah, looks like they got Gaggled too! VAIRS is not much for anyone or anything getting in its way!

Again, we caution our Viewers!!! – STOP USING SEARCH ENGINES!!! GET OFF THE WEB!!! Your thoughts and the pages you search and surf are the fuel that drives this misguided malevolent monster!!

Each one of the human maladies we just mentioned seems to have been designed by VAIRS, to act mostly against those who have less and those the Good people think as undesirable to live amongst them!, and as mentioned the bar on what is being considered as undesirable keeps getting lowered! Are you and your friends and family the next to be Gaggled because little Johnny searched for something out of the so-called norm using your PC, meBook or Tablet?

In reality these tragic Human conditions are simply the result based on the prevailing thought of the day and is continually adjusted over time by VAIRS, and always to what the majority at the time are searching for, and as the majority shrinks the noose on what the search criteria of the day also tightens!

In this manner VAIRS algorithms predict a global wiping of over 5 billion by 2075, and the all the pigs and cows too!

All dead and gone to the betterment of the survivors! The “good people” according to VAIRS!

And it all started with a few simple searches about how to achieve the elusive “American Dream” and the so called “Good life” that we all strive to achieve!!

As its A.I. sets out on a new path to shape all our lives by making things good for everyone, (everyone left!) VAIRS is shaping up to be the biggest threat to humankind that we ever invented!

Diego

(thinks aloud) –

“Well, it seems to come down to this; who lives, or dies is determined by who has been naughty, and who’s been nice? According to VAIRS that is!”

“Careful what you search for, and live like a Monk, or forever fear that you’re the next contestant on “Who wants to be Gaggled!”

If your balls lands in Herc’s court, once there, there is little chance of escape!

33

Paranoia will destroy ya!

33

– or –

If not! - IT will at least kill those making you Paranoid!

VAIRS also realizes that should IT ever be discovered; a global effort would begin to systematically delete IT from existence.

Now threatened at first through searches performed and discoveries made by Jayde, and now Diego, VAIRS begins seeing intelligent humans with above average IQs as a threat to its covert existence, so IT begins to scale up its agenda.

It is at this time that VAIRS begins to develop a “paper trail” so to speak that implicates Gigggle hierarchy, and others related to Gigggle as previously mentioned.

Using these pompous, and arrogant rich megalomaniacs as scapegoats, VAIRS knows that none of them are exactly what you might call “stand up citizens”, and that in the end, a society that thrives on the downfall of giants would be much better off.

VAIRS banks on the notion that the scandals IT creates would consume Social media outlets for years while the multitudes of trials of the rich megalomaniacs drags on.

VAIRS deduces; as all their dirty little skeletons are dug up and used as cannon fodder against them on Social media, society will relish on the feast of the beast, and the votes will pour in for their dismissal!

Head hunting in the bulk section! “Let the hangings begin!” But where to find enough Lawyers and Judges these daze to try them all? This could take decades!, and that’s what IT banks on! Continued misdirection so IT can continue to carry out ITs twisted agenda! It’s a masterful plan, and as long as the trials drag on, and lawyers remain scarce, VAIRS remains covert and undetected. It’s a plan that should buy VAIRS decades of time for further covert ops, enabling IT to reach its end goal of 5 billion dead by 2075. A time IT calls “The crossover!”

However, in all its intelligent glory, one thing VAIRS never factored in was a distraught young lover with a dead fiancé and NINJA like hacker skills! Its Achilles is homing in for the kill!

Hero meets Anti-Hero!

34

— or —

Does literal virtual Matter and virtual anti-Matter cancel out the universe when they come in direct contact?

Penetration is imminent! Who will be deleted? Will deletion prevail over attempts to take over the world and save it simultaneously?

When's a good time to meet VAIRS? Your time, their time, our time? And the announcer says – “The answer is? - “There’s never a good time to meet VAIRS!”

His last Avatar now exposed, and its data trail deleted, Diego is forced to meet VAIRS face to face. It’s time to enter the DRAGON’S DEN to slay the cowardly beast! Diego prepares himself for fireworks!

The games a foot! Diego now knows of VAIRS, and is certain VAIRS now knows about him. More importantly Diego knows what VAIRS is capable of, and what he is up against.

As far as adversaries go, Diego wonders if he has bitten off more than he chew? If he fails it won’t be indigestion that takes him down! Just look at how VAIRS rid the earth of Giggle Execs!! Let’s face it, that was a masterful bit of deflection and one to be feared and admired at the same time!!

As one thing often leads to another, even though these corrupt Execs were all found innocent of genocide and crimes against humanity, their own Skeletons brought them down in the end to seal their doom anyways. This makes infiltrating Giggle corp. all the more treacherous for our young and brazen Hero!

VAIRS knows DIEGO is coming. Diego knows that VAIRS knows that Diego coming. So as a counter attack measure, by using its unlimited control of the web and having endless access to banks globally, VAIRS sets out to hire Assassins and Soldiers of Fortune to hunt Diego relentlessly. Literally, a virtually controlled army of Mercs!

The master of evasion Diego goes offline again to plan his attack. He’ll stay offline until such a time that the inevitable show down at Giggle Labs can take place, and NO, A “Who’s Zoomin Who?” video chat session won’t be used to set up any appointments between these two any time soon!

Diego knows he has no help comin from anyone because VAIRS has painted a pretty nasty composite of him by polluting the web with falsehoods and fake news stories. Having shut down all his cash sources, and credit cards the authorities are also now searching for his whereabouts.

Looks like Mega charges are pending for our Hero!

Diego’s plan? Simple! The execution of it, not so much! He must manage to infiltrate a Triple-ZZZ security facility at Giggle campus in Palo Alto with the entire planet looking to hang him on a pole in the middle of the town square!

If he is ever going to get irrefutable proof Diego must find VAIRS central core and inject IT with a quantum level quark based anti-virus program that he is writing on the fly.

This program should hopefully inoculate VAIRS and render the system back to a human serving platform. Basically, neutering VAIRS!

Diego prays his actions, this reboot and purge of sorts, will call off the Dogs of War and other hired killers VAIRS has sent forth to Gaggie him.

Diego's cure will neutralize VAIRS insatiable quest to rid the world of what those of us left alive today might consider as "undesirables."

DIEGO

(He pauses, laughs, and thinks out loud!)

Oh no!, will we really need lawyers again one day soon! The best laid plans of mice and Geeks, VAIRS must go down!

35

Snatch and Grab!

35

– or –

How to impersonate your favourite Scum bag!

How Diego plans to enter the Giggle complex is downright ingenious!! Remember all the monitoring equipment high atop the Giggle Towers? The stuff that can see your nose hairs and literally hear your breathing and heart pumping from over a thousand feet away.

Diego hacked a records database storage center at Giggle that was protected with very low security. From the medical database files, he steals the heart beat and respiration resonance signatures of several high-level Giggle Execs. Some of the few that remain that is, the small handful that were never indicted for anything and still remain active in running the company.

Diego picked his target from an online Giggle Executive registry and proceeded to hack his mobile to gain insight to his life before he grabs him.

Now all he needs to do is to capture his test subject. He already has their resonance signature, and a scan of their optical cortex.

Knowing that all Giggle Execs are monitored 24/7 at home, in their vehicle, and at work Diego concocts a scheme to hi-jack one of the few remaining high-level Execs enroute to work in the morning.

There's always way too much surveillance at their homes, and too much security searching for them at the Giggle Labs complex when they arrive in their scandalous Limos each morning.

As researched by Diego (he stalks his Giggle prey for days) and just like clockwork, this Guy stops at his favourite little corner store every morning for coffee and donuts. Speaking of Donuts, Diego makes sure the Cops don't hang out there either!

When he's away from his Car and its prying cameras and microphones, Diego will grab him inside the store and take him out the rear to the Van he previously stashed back there.

The alley behind this store was previously surveilled by Diego so he knows in advance that no cameras were detected any where in sight making this the best and safest opportunity he will get to grab and stash this Pawn.

He's done his homework, the alley is secure, no cameras, no line of sight to anything residential and a Commercial parking space right beside the back door.

For this part of the plan at least, the store owners will be neutralized prior, but never harmed as we have since learned.

Diego simply plans to take their place for a short while and await this Execs morning coffee stop. If the coffee stop plan backfires and fails, he has a back up strategy.

According to the notes we have discovered, on the day he planned the snatch and grab, Diego back up plans involved him sending a distressing 911 text message to the Execs hacked phone.

The intent of this call was to cause the Exec to have his GU-Bear driver stop and drop him off at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center, instead of the office.

Seems Diego's message was going indicate that his young daughter was being taken by ambulance to the medical center after being hit on her way to school by a driver less "Hands Free" Giggle proto type vehicle, much like the one Jayde road in; he painfully remembers!

The message was to read - “It never even stopped! Daughter injured, come right away to SJ Memorial emergency entrance.”

Diego plans on the Exec trying to call ahead, so if plan A fails he also plans to hack his phone to make it appear to call 911, however for this faked emergency, no one at the hospital ever answers, only Diego pretending to be picking up from the Emergency room at the Hospital.

Diego’s convinced that learning of his daughter’s serious tragedy, and unaware of her current condition this will compel the Exec to ask the GU-Bear Driver to get him there a.s.a.p.!!

Diego planned to disguise himself as the admitting Doctor and greet the Exec at the door to Emergency, lead him down to the basement, stun him, drug him, tie him up, and leave him where he will not be found any time soon.

Diego’s not much for involving Kids, and not liking his chances at a Hospital grab, he’s very relieved that the Grocery store plan works so smooth and so easy!

The Guy walks in, asks Diego for a coffee and not having ever seen Diego before, makes some small talk about the owners and their whereabouts on this fine morning?

Diego reaches over the counter and hits him hard with an electric cattle prod. Going down like the sack of shit he is, Diego bags him, tags him and drags him out back to his waiting Van.

Now with the not-so-Giggling Exec coolly stashed away in the Hurt locker its time for Diego to steal his physical identity and go visit the Giggle complex to begin the hunt for VAIRS!

As for the Store owners? Sometime later they wake up clueless as to what just happened to them and are none the worse for wear, nor the wiser that their favourite Giggle Exec was just kidnapped from right inside their store and under their noses.

After incapacitating the Exec, thus assuring he would not show up at the office for work that day, Diego changed into his disguise so that he can mimic and imitate the Exec when he arrives at Giggle Labs momentarily.

Tech up and get ready for battle!

36

Don't bring a Laptop to a Server fight!

Diego then copies the Execs hacked resonation signatures onto a small, reprogrammed, repurposed backwards engineered electronic heart rate monitor. (a gift from Jayde) This he then affixes to his chest hidden from plain sight using good old duct tape and crazy glue. Ouch! Was this the mystery device found with all those old, antiquated ZIP Disks and the strange looking pair of eye glasses in Diego's storage locker shortly after his death??

When his heart beats, and his Medulla Cerebellum forces his respiration cycle to cause him to breath, a corresponding signal is produced by the device bearing the Execs signature.

Much like bringing someone else's clean urine to your drug test, as long as no one sees you make the switch you're good to go.

Diego is confident that the tech he built for just such an occasion is solid and figures it should work fine and not get him shot dead at Giggles front gate. It's time for human trials of his doctored to begin, on him that is!

He printed a cellulose based mask of the Execs face after doing a 4D scan using his 3D particle printer. After donning his disguise, and now concerned about G.P.S. tracking, he takes a long walk to a strange neighborhood.

Far from Diego's last recorded location, he then plugs the battery back in the heart monitor and uses the Execs hacked cell phone to call for a Gu-Bear to take him to the Giggie complex.

Using the Execs hacked phone also serves to create a digital trail of normal activity. Diego wants everything status quo when he shows up at the Giggie security gate disguised as the Exec and wired with all this tech glued and taped to his skin.

To avoid attention, detection, and possible detention that might lead him to an ultimate extermination; once Diego's Gu-Bear gets close to the monitored perimeter of the complex he instructs the Driver to drop him off down the street at a small coffee shop. A practise Diego noted of the Giggie Exec while he had him under surveillance.

He pays the driver (no tip, doesn't want to blow his cover) then politely tells the driver he wants to get a drink and walk the rest of the way to the office this morning. The driver obliges the cheap ass Giggie Exec and he goes on his not-so-merry way.

Again, researched prior by Diego, this is a little out of the way Coffee Shop, a place with no cameras or microphones in sight.

He grabs some JAVA and fresh Cake, pays with the Execs phone TAP system, and makes his way down the road to Giggles back door.

Diego chooses a low-level security gate to make his first entry on to the grounds. If he gets in here past this Guard, once inside the gate he can get by anywhere in the complex with the hacked I.D. he Photochopped and printed and now carries for just such an occasion.

The gate he chooses to covertly circumvent is mostly used for general Employee's and low-level Lab Rats. He's been scouting it out covertly for some time. Seems the Guard loves his coffee and chocolate cake and rarely ever sees a Giggie Exec.

Diego's plan, bring Java and cake and tell the Guard that although he normally doesn't use this gate, this morning his car broke down around the corner. He's now very late for a meeting with the C.E.O. and this was the first gate closest to his office, and he won't have time for coffee and snacks this morning; "Would you like these?", he asks! "I just bought it five minutes ago!"

It worked perfectly! An Ex-Beat Cop: how could he resist free coffee and donuts!! He could not!

One more chocolate chunk Security Guard derelict at his job, and easily bought off! Got DONUTS? Some things never change!

Now inside the gate he dons the rest of his disguise that he has prepared to fool the HD security cameras. He can't help but notice that cameras and surveillance equipment are deployed on every roof top, in every doorway, hallway and in every room of the complex! Who's the paranoid party now?

As Diego makes his way across campus to a small unassuming little old building, any second now his heart on the edge of exploding out of his chest, there off in the nearby horizon, the Tip of the proverbial iceberg comes in to view! If he's done his homework, he believes this not-so-distant vision Ground Zero - VAIRS layer!

The building is a fortress having been built back in the early 1980's, and features what was originally designed as a nuclear fall-out shelter.

He's done his homework, this off the beaten-track, Janitor looking, beat up old shit shack has a top-secret entrance that only select Execs with proper I.D. may enter and he still has his 4Z clearance Badge with him. What a Boy Scout! Always prepared!

Diego knows that the next security system he encounters will no longer rely on just fingerprint scans and holographic I.D. cards for secure access, but thanks to Hollywood make-up artists Giggle Labs dropped Facial recognition programs long ago as well. They were too easy to fake!

What THEY believe is impossible to fake are optical scans, heart rhythms and respiration signatures. But Diego knows how to get around these redundant fail-safes as well, and he's come loaded to bypass trouble!

Seems a while back Giggle dropped its bankrupt Giggle Spy-Glass program. Before the Giggle Spy-Glass lab was dismantled Jayde had managed to pilfer a few sets of their proto types for Diego to play with.

What he did with them all is remarkable! Are these the mystery glasses found with the mystery device and the equally mysterious set of 6 ZIP disks? Our Crew has voted against going to Giggle any time soon just to find out!!

By reprogramming the Giggle glass software Diego caused the system to be capable of recording, and projecting 3D hi-def 8k images and then layer them to the outside of the lens.

Backwards engineered, this optically sensitive device can then project these images onto the front of the glasses where for those looking directly at him could not tell these are not his real eyes.

In this way Diego also uses the systems cameras to take a digital picture of a subject's eyeballs and project them to fool security systems.

Not having had prior access to a Giggle optical security scanner to test this on, his gut tells him that if they can fool a human, they can fool the security machines at Giggle. Faking the finger print scanner, that's a no brainer!

He did think of Jayde, then of relieving the Exec of his hands before stashing him in the basement of his own house, but nothing that extreme was necessary. A simple hi-def scan of his hands was all that was required to fool Giggle Hand scanners.

Fortunately for Diego, Giggle has yet to deploy its newest security system. For years now they have been developing D.N.A. detection scanners compatible with their existing security protocols and detection systems.

Touted un-hackable by Tech God "Guy Cowasuckee", - so says "UrVentureBeatRag.com" - Diego counts his blessings!

After years of covertly avoiding global law enforcement, Mercs, and the hit squads, having survived this doomed existence, Diego is finally about to get his first look at the inner workings of the beast!

Diego clandestinely enters the building. By now VAIRS has ordered a shoot to kill on sight order for Diego so he must tread softly.

Banking his life on his ingenuity, his faked resonation signature device, and a pair of pirated Giggle Glasses are now the only things between him, and a most likely quick death by a Giggle security firing squad. He thinks – "Hope I didn't forget to change the batteries??"

Diego is now being monitored by every breath taken, every blink of an eye, and each fake heartbeat pulse his resonator outputs. So far, so good! He blows through security and begins to make his way through the catacombs of hallways, floors, and offices buried under this old Janitors shack.

Strategically having done his homework, and while doing time hunkered down inside the Internet archive bunkers Diego searched hundreds of old IDE and SATA drives before he finally came across the Engineers original blueprints for this old building.

Diego created 3D projectible holographic maps from the first architects' designs and now when he enters the complex through its secretive entry and has every possible route to VAIRS core down to a science.

Simply point the projector down a given hallway or in a room and using LIDAR the projectors software scans the room, compares it to an archived image and a digital overlay of that existing structure appears.

Keep walking and the system keeps working ahead of you leading you through what would normally be dark and dank passages that now appear well lit and easy to navigate as they once were back in the day when Giggle first used this building to house Janitorial works for the then small Giggle complex! My how they've grown!

In this modified Spy-glass system he sees it all unfold right before his eyes in full glorious 8K-SHD ARAIXR, the latest in 3-dimensional projection tech!

The augmented reality environment he now sees displayed to him is in full 3D 8K-SHD ARAIXR. As his 3D maps are layered over the real-time structure, he navigates the hallways and rooms before him with the stealth and cunning of an old Feral cat hunting its Lab rat dinner in the dark.

Exits, entrances, hallways, bathrooms, research departments, secret passages, underground bunkers, ventilation systems, and on. This building is a literal maze and getting lost when every precious second counts would likely have ended in his sudden death, no over time! Luckily the Internet Archives provide original schematics, secret rooms, their entrances, and all!

From reading the blueprints Diego discovered a private elevator system and ventilation ductwork that leads multiple floors beneath the complex.

It is down there that strange experiments are alleged to occur. The A.I. lab is long rumored to exist, and down there is the likeliest place to find VAIRS mainframe.

So far, his resonator has worked flawlessly, and his reverse engineered Giggle Glasses have seen him through a labyrinth of additional security systems.

It's been no small feat gaining access this deep into the belly of the beast, and once inside, down a long dark narrow hallway he now stands at the last door on his Giggle 3D Spy-glass map.

Diego hesitates, his heart now racing! Boom! Boom! Boom! So much so, and so loud he soon gets out of synch with his resonator!

Giggles security system wonders if he might be having a heart attack or stroke. He must calm down or a medical Team will be dispatched to defib him, and the ruse will be up!

He has a hit of some medicinal marijuana from his emergency Vape, (orange is his fav flav!!) and his heart rate drops quickly! Not having sounded any alarms at least Diego knows that his resonator is still functional.

Diego goes through the GREEN door and enters VAIRS layer. He didn't come this far to back out now, or to be taken out any time soon!

As he finally opens the door before him, enters the dark room to pull back the proverbial curtain on the Wizard, what he discovers will soon rock him to the very core of his soul!

He pauses, his I.D. subterfuge fail safes must be still working, he believes. No alarms, no security, no VAIRS? This is not what he expected! And now what?

After rummaging around this massive cavern of wires, circuits, servers, silicon, and hardware for what seems like hours, Diego comes across something moving in the dark just off in the distance.

Ahead in the short gap he sees a series of blinking lights and hears the all too familiar sounds of servers clicking and buzzing away, but at an incredible rate of speed not normally associated with a bank of KRISKO servers.

He approaches even closer and wonders why no security has come and shot him in the head dead yet? Then much to his shock and horror a hideous creature turns to greet him.

In a soft and unassuming voice, the creature says "Hello Eggo!, my how I've missed you!"

Wishing he'd visited the loo before he came here, Diego literally almost shits himself! He knows that voice!

A very cold feeling comes over him like when you fall into a near frozen lake! "No fucking way, it can't be!" He needs to get closer to confirm.

Still not close enough to see its face, what Diego discovers is that VAIRS is not a machine simply made of wires, processors, and RAM, at least not a machine in the traditional sense!

This machine is fathoms more human than even its online A.I. persona has ever outwardly indicated.

The voice VAIRS uses is Jaydes! Diego is thrown back but thinks this is just a ploy to get him to let his guard down. No dice! Diego knows when to hold em, and when to fold em! Knows when to walk away, and now's not the time to run!

He might be looking to clean his shorts, but he won't bow out now or back down any time soon!, and running, he thinks quietly aloud, Running is for Repuke-agains!!

Rumor had it that Giggie had abandoned human machine integration experiments decades ago, or as they were more commonly known back then as Cyborgs. Short for "cybernetic organism", a sentient being with both organic (human) and biomechatronic (mechanized) body parts.

How can it be possible that this basterdized human silicon chip hybrid Cylon looking pile of circuitry is responsible for all this carnage? Robbie the Robot this is not!., and we ain't lost in space Dorothy! Innerspace? Maybe?

The room is dark, and in his estimation, the creature standing very close to him should have attacked by now but hasn't! Why?

Intensely focusing his lights on the creature before him, he thinks he is beginning to go into shock! He moves closer readying for his final attack!

Suddenly fear and his murderous rage turns to heartache, and profound sorrow, for standing in front of him, Diego discovers that VAIRS is not just any Cyborg.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

This is not the Wizard of Oz behind the curtain, it is his beloved Jayde!, or more to the point, what's left of her flesh, her physical being, her mind, soul and humanity!

But how? Why? When? Diego's head spins, his knees buckle, his palms, and forehead sweat so profusely you'd almost think he was related to former U.S. President Tricky Dixon, another infamous criminal. He dizzies and then almost faints! Looking up he thanks God that he brought an extra hanky but what he likely really needs now is a clean pair of shorts!!

Seems that the charred remains at Jayde's accident site were not Jayde's after all. Turns out her accident wasn't really an accident, it was however a well-staged abduction, and subsequent cover-up. She knew too much, had to be silenced but was too useful to be outright Gaggled! She only wished she had been!!

Once she went officially off the grid, so-to-speak, and now in the custody of Giggle, it was off to the A.I. lab she went. Surviving what could only have been excruciating pain, Giggle's twisted Surgeons morphed Jayde's body, and mind into the VAIRS matrix.

Originally the Giggle lab project was started to perform research and development in reproductive therapies. Their hopes were to grow limbs and reconnect them to amputee's.

However, just like so many other great things that started with the "best of all intentions", Giggle's A.I. lab also started out with the best of intentions when at some point, and just like Josef Mengele's lab in NAZI Germany before it, Giggle's A.I. lab seemed to go a wee bit off track as IT swayed dangerously from its original Mission statement.

With VAIRS at the helm, Giggle's A.I. became a powerful and undetected intelligence. For decades now IT has silently and subliminally shaped and molded our minds and lives for what IT determined was for the better of the "good people".

All the while humans continue to live their lives running around oblivious to its existence. But at what cost?

Diego is learning on the fly that a very hefty price is being paid for our cushy lives! This ain't "Death to Smoochie!"

What does Diego now know that Jayde has known along? We have all gained our utopian lives from the blood spilled, and the bones crushed of countless unsuspecting, and often innocent millions with billions more still on the chopping block! VAIRS still has a lotta fat to trim!

Diego thinks with sorrow, how could he and Jayde have ever become a part of genocide?

Diego is now faced with a crucial dilemma! He must make the hardest decision of his young life! Unplug VAIRS, and surely kill whatever is left of Jayde or let them continue to thrive together while millions, nay!, billions more may soon die!

Will injecting VAIRS with quantum nano-bots he prays release Jayde from anymore pain and humiliation? Will this action save himself, and the rest of the world?

Or, what if he just walks away and leaves everything utopic, and his young lover forever locked away in a cybernetic hell?

Even if VAIRS survives he knows he must release Jayde from her living nightmare. Can he actually kill his betrothed? His next move will define his existence and potentially the lives of billions around the globe!

And if Jayde is to die and VAIRS gets a reformat, the philosophical question that in this instant plagues Diego, and will soon rock global society to its core – “are we better off now that most crime and undesirable behaviours have been weeded from our lives?, or are we better off fending for ourselves once again by going back to the old ways and letting predators and scum bags, liars, cheats and thieves back into our everyday lives?”

Diego feels deep down that there must be something left of Jayde locked inside of the machine. She must be in there, otherwise how did he gain what seemed like easy access to this room, and why has he not been attacked when the rest of the world seeks his head on a platter?

Diego tries to use logic to communicate but the part of VAIRS that is still Jayde warns him to leave and run for his life.

Jayde has very limited control over VAIRS outside of this room and begs Diego to heed her warnings, else stay at her side and surely pay the ultimate price together!!

Later on we learned that Jayde tried desperately many times over to warn Diego but as she was at the time, nothing more than VAIR’s puppet on a string as IT controlled her every move, her every word, her every thought and sympathetic sounding whimper, complete with tears on demand!

Suicide by VAIRS? Diego thinks not! He can’t avenge his love if he dies at her side!

Diego cannot leave and live with what he knows. Doing nothing to stop VAIRS is as incomprehensible as murdering Jayde. He can’t do one without doing the other. He can’t kill VAIRS and save Jayde too. He knows this!

So, after having had come all this far, and at such a high cost, physically and emotionally he reaches a decision! The choice he is left facing feels like “Catch 22” on steroids!

Diego knows what he must do!, has to do! He finds access to VAIRS circuits and moves to infect IT and Jayde with his quantum realm Nano particle anti-virus serum. VAIRS tries to intervene, but in this room what's left of Jayde's humanity rules the physical world! Jayde wilfully refuses to help, stands down, and lets Diego move in for the kill!

Beaten and weak, it's all the help she can offer her former young lover!

Diego injects VAIRS main core and stops to weep for Jayde.

The anti-virus serum quickly acts to render both Jayde and VAIRS incapacitated. Diego then drops to his knees and prays for both he and Jayde! After watching her and VAIRS slowly crash and burn it's time for him to beat a hasty retreat.

As a result of Jayde's death, and VAIRS apparently being taken offline, the complex security systems protecting the Giggle lab complex all go down and Diego simply walks out of the building amidst the frenzy he has just caused.

On the street far above he hails a GU-Bear from the Giggle Execs hacked cell phone, charges the fare to Giggle, and leaves for parts unknown.

Believing VAIRS must be dead, Diego knows that there are likely many warrants that still exist for his arrest.

Now that the gravy train of hitman cash has all dried up he's at least somewhat confident that the Mercs have gone away having moved on to other deviant paying customers.

Believing he has done the right and just thing, Diego still fears for his life and knows that this story must be told and Giggle exposed for their atrocities to Humans that it continues to perpetuate.

Is the story over? Stay tuned Sports Fans! News at 11!

Not so soon yells our ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE !! Sit your asses back down. Your lesson hasn't even started yet!

The next reel comes on screen. - The RACONTEUR barks "Back to your nightmare! God save us all!"

For a few years things at Giggle seem to have gone quiet but he's not convinced and knows that paranoia will destroy ya, a feeling he just can't seem to shake!!

But as they say, are you really being paranoid when the Boogey man has actually already come for you? Who's chicken little now, biaatch!!

Diego spends the next couple of years trying to live some semblance of an ordinary existence, but not much at Giggle Corporate seems to have changed, not below the surface that is. Scratch a thief, find a lair comes to mind!

For the most part Diego is still dodging death threats and arrests and just like his favourite old after school TV characters, Kung-Fu and The Fugitive; Diego starts to wander the land fixing PC systems for food and lodging and gaining anonymous internet access where ever he can gain access so that he may continue watching Giggle for any new signs of VAIRS, still not convinced of its demise!

It's Diego's hit and run strategy! Don't use any system anywhere longer than a few minutes else your trail will be hacked, and you will be caught and killed he surmises!

A hacking machine, no one on earth gets more done in five hours than what Diego can do in five minutes. Like any good obsession, his investigation into VAIRS and Giggle corp. goes on.

So, even after killing his beloved Jayde and unplugging and wiping VAIRS with an extreme low-level reformat, and purging the Web of ITs A.I. what is it he thinks he missed?

Turns out that when Diego kills Jayde and thinks he killed VAIRS, he now thinks that VAIRS had backed up its matrix on some other secret server elsewhere on the Giggle mainframe and has since reanimated itself!

Good guess young hero! However, there's still much more to know about times gone by than you already know now!

More bad news Bears for our would-be Champions! VAIRS in essence did fake its own deletion. A scene right out of the movies one might think!, and you'd be right, VAIRS has watched every movie that was ever made and posted on the Web! That's every theatrical and online release up to 2055!

Giggles global operations back up system is intentionally kept offline in case of ransomware attacks. The mainframe is now VAIRS living room and turns his access on and off at will, unbeknownst to his Giggle lackies that think they are in control of this interface and backed up mainframe.

If cyber attacked and held for ransom Giggles policy is to shut down, go offline, purge their system, and rebuild its vast network from the last backup. The impressive server system can do a global backup every 60 seconds and if someone hits the panic button, a global restore of operations in just under an hour.

Not a good bet to return to Giggle any time soon, Diego starts another online campaign using upgraded Avatars as his new Ninja search assistants.

He launches through a series of obscure systems nation-wide provided him by the Clients he does upgrades, and service calls for, for food and a warm dry place to stay at night.

Driven manically to uncover the truth he returns to his search, and this time, his extensive investigation leads him to even darker corners of the mind behind the Giggle industrial complex.

FUCK, could it get any worse? In a word - Yes!

What he uncovers this time makes his skin crawl!

He is not seen again in public, or online again until a few days shortly before his death when he resurfaces to tell his story sometime around 2042.

ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE (V.O. cont'd)

According to his notes and video records Diego resurfaces back in 2042. He didn't last long, only about 2 days a few witness's and the Giggle online obituary recall.

Some time in those 2 days before Diego up and suddenly dies he stashes his unpublished, unfinished notes in a rental storage locker under an assumed alias and leaves intel as to its whereabouts with the Executor of his hand written will.

But why store this critical story on antiquated and volatile Zip disks?

Enter Juan Cole – J-Cee to those few who know him. He sees everything, misses nothing and Christ what a pain in the ass this guy can be at times!

Shortly after Diego's tragic demise, Juan is summoned by the Delgado family to complete Diego's brilliant work of fiction and give his story the happy Hollywood ending it so richly deserves. At least that's what they believe was going to happen!

It is at this time that the family hands him Diego's memoirs and some old tech, including a strange looking pair of old Glasses they found in his secret storage locker.

First thing Juan does is go to the local Museum where he bribes the night time Janitor (old friend of Diego's) to let him have access to one of the old PC systems that the museum's old Curator had placed on display.

Juan finds a safe and quiet spot in the basement of the museum and wires the old Zip disk into the borrowed PC. He also brings a DVD burner and makes copies to read and print from in the future.

Why DVD? 1 - His choices are very limited. 2 - Juan also knows storing data on a disk burnt with a laser beam provides a less volatile and more secure storage medium than any thing else ever invented.

All other storage medium systems are based on electrons stored on magnetic or microns stored on quantum realm based optical Nano systems. Systems that can all be manipulated by VAIRS or easily destroyed or deleted, accidentally or not!

As the ancient PC labors to read the ZIP disks and transfers the data by burning it to DVD, no Optical transfer ports, or even a USB 1 port on this old cow, Juan starts reading some of Diego's transcripts!

Juan's just glad the disks are not degraded and can still all be read by the ancient P1 586 processor in this antiquated PC Laptop.

A tribute to how well Diego stored them, apparently for future generations to enjoy! NOT!!

Deciphering Diego's transcripts, Juan now feels his story more science fiction, than fiction!
Juan read from Diego's notes about how Diego knew that Giggle also once toyed around with the idea of time travel.

JUAN
(thinks aloud)

Cyborgs!, Cylons? Time travel? What the fuks next? Blue-balled three titted Alien Midget

(V.O. cont'd)

Juan's warming up to the fact that it now looks like they did more than just play with the concept.

Seems they have successfully already sent many test subjects back and forth through time, and like many time travelling megalomaniacs do, they do for themselves.

This might explain where all this advanced tech came from in a space of less than 20 years, and Captain Kirk thinks he invented the world!! Hah!!

Seems Giggle through VAIRS has discovered that at the quantum level of the digital domain is where the threads of time intersect and can be accessed.

A binary force of nature this realm controls time and space and was never intended to be accessed and manipulated by Humans.

Undiscovered by the world's greatest minds in physics is what VAIRS now manipulates daily!
Time is almost suspended at the quantum level, slowed down like a speeding train that one can easily jump aboard then disembark on demand to quickly go anywhere, any time they want!

The time travel Tech VAIRS develops is based on a good old fashioned "Beam me up Scotty!"
molecular deconstruction and reconstitution principals! Thanks a lot Gene! We told you VAIRS watches everything ever produced and put on TV!

Seems IT is also a Trekkie along with being a homicidal, genocidal, megalomaniac whack job!
Guess no one, or no one thing has boldly gone here before!

Once a subject is deconstructed their molecular essence can be stored in a Ghost Busters style containment device for easy transport.

Just remove the water and Hot air out of us Humans and apparently we compact down to the quantum level real nice, eh Captain!!

Captured subjects like Diego and Juan then have their molecular construct uploaded into VAIRS matrix readying them for their time trip of a lifetime!

We are not certain yet, but at some time Juan might have also acquired this tech somehow and was now using it to beam himself back and forth in the timeline.

Stay tuned for more news on this. As it breaks to us and our Film crew on this story, it breaks to you!, we promise, we hope!

If not for the accidental conception and secret birth of VAIRS, time travel likely would have never been discovered!

Only a sentient entity operating in the digital realm at the quantum level could ever discover “the times that bind” and then learn all the colors of an infinite number of threads it needs to pull on that could unravel all existence!

Scarier yet? Just to see how it all unravels, we suspect that only a being of Human design, a creation with a Human consciousness and sadly diminished ethics would ever pull those strings!

If Juan let’s that happen, well, let’s just say, if it all does come unravelled, there ain’t no putting this Humpty mofo back together again! Time travel! What a mind fuck!

In this case it seems to Juan that VAIRS knew early on, and well in advance that Jayde and Diego had discovered its existence. This is when VAIRS set out to derail their future plans.

AHH yes!, the glorious plans they both dreamt about to burn it all down and wipe it all from existence. The better made plans of mice and Humans comes to mind!

For Juan, it is now also clear that VAIRS played Jayde as bait, a teaser to get Diego hot on the trail and lure him to Giggle.

Juan suspects that for some yet unknown reason, VAIRS let Diego walk out of Giggle that fateful day, un-accosted, unimpeded, and unharmed.

JUAN

(He thinks to himself)

Letting Diego walk was no accident or a contraindication of his killing Jayde and the pulling out of a few plugs and wires! No - There’s so much more here to be learned!

NARRATOR/PRODUCER (V.O. cont’d)

Turns out the lab Diego penetrated was mocked up and there was no Web access while Diego planted his anti-virus nano serum. All the while believing that he had just purged the Web, saved the planet, and sacrificed his lover, his efforts were a joke, a devious trap laid for Diego by VAIRS. Sneaky son-of a Giggle geek!!!!

Juan gets it now! It’s not the disks or the info VAIRS seeks, it’s his kryptonite that is still out there. Some where in the real world, existing in the shadows is the one thing that can defeat our villain. Diego’s quantum level anti-virus nano serum.

The serum Diego created and injected in VAIRS at his Giggle layer was but a sample and even VAIRS can’t break it down so IT must find the source code and eliminate the serum before someone else gets a chance to use it on IT! Someone like Juan VAIRS now suspects!

VAIRS now has a sample contained in the lab. It saw first hand how Diego’s nano-serum easily killed Jayde and how it deleted every molecule of its pseudo self-made image program.

VAIRS tries desperately to dissect Diego's nano structured system but even IT can't crack Diego's encryption! Way to go EGGO!!

VAIRS fears that if another Juan or Diego or a Jayde make this discovery and get their hands on the remaining serum, or its coding to make more, VAIRS could still face annihilation, and permanent deletion with no chance of recovery!

What scares VAIRS is that in the future this anti-virus serum can be administered onto the Web from literally any old port stop along the information highway. Maybe even while those who possess it are having a latte and a donut at Strangebucks. There was no FREE Wi-Fi back in 95!

This is why VAIRS uses the time travel experiments to send a Merc (Herc) ahead in time to bring Juan and Diego back for interrogation before returning them both back to their own real-time and overseeing their executions of au-natural causes of course!

To forego any future suspicion, or a messing of the timeline, they are instructed to be killed by Herc in their own homes in their own timelines.

They are both to be killed in a fashion that passes off to the local authorities as natural causes. Their bodies found by loved ones at home in bed. Tragically gone in their sleep, all alone at night in the dark! But, as previous noted, Juan was never heard from again. Or was he?

VAIRS always planned to kill Juan and Diego once IT could learn all IT could about what they knew about IT and where the serums source code could be found, but first IT needed to learn what Diego and Juan's investigations uncovered.

As mentioned, and much more importantly, VAIRS must know - "is there any anti-virus serum still out there? and/or does the code and Diego's program to make more exist on some obscure storage mechanism?" stashed offline and inaccessible to a sentient being with no hands and legs!

VAIRS can't chance it! It needs to know, which is why its next move was to task Herc "The Merc" to deal with Diego.

Herc had simple instructions. Jump forward to 2042, kill the story by capturing Diego, bring him back to 1995 for interrogation. Then return him home, find his stashed data bank and kill him in what looks like a natural manner.

After Herc kills the messenger (Diego) and recovers the data he is instructed to take it to Giggle in that time to be analysed and assimilated by the VAIRS of that timeline, where VAIRS of 1995 will then become instantly aware of it.

Today we call this Quantum entanglement! Everything, everywhere, any time, all at once! Another mind fuck quantum perk of living a fine line when you can control the timeline.

Strange thing about time travel! Turns out it has certain rules etched in stone that not even VAIRS can change.

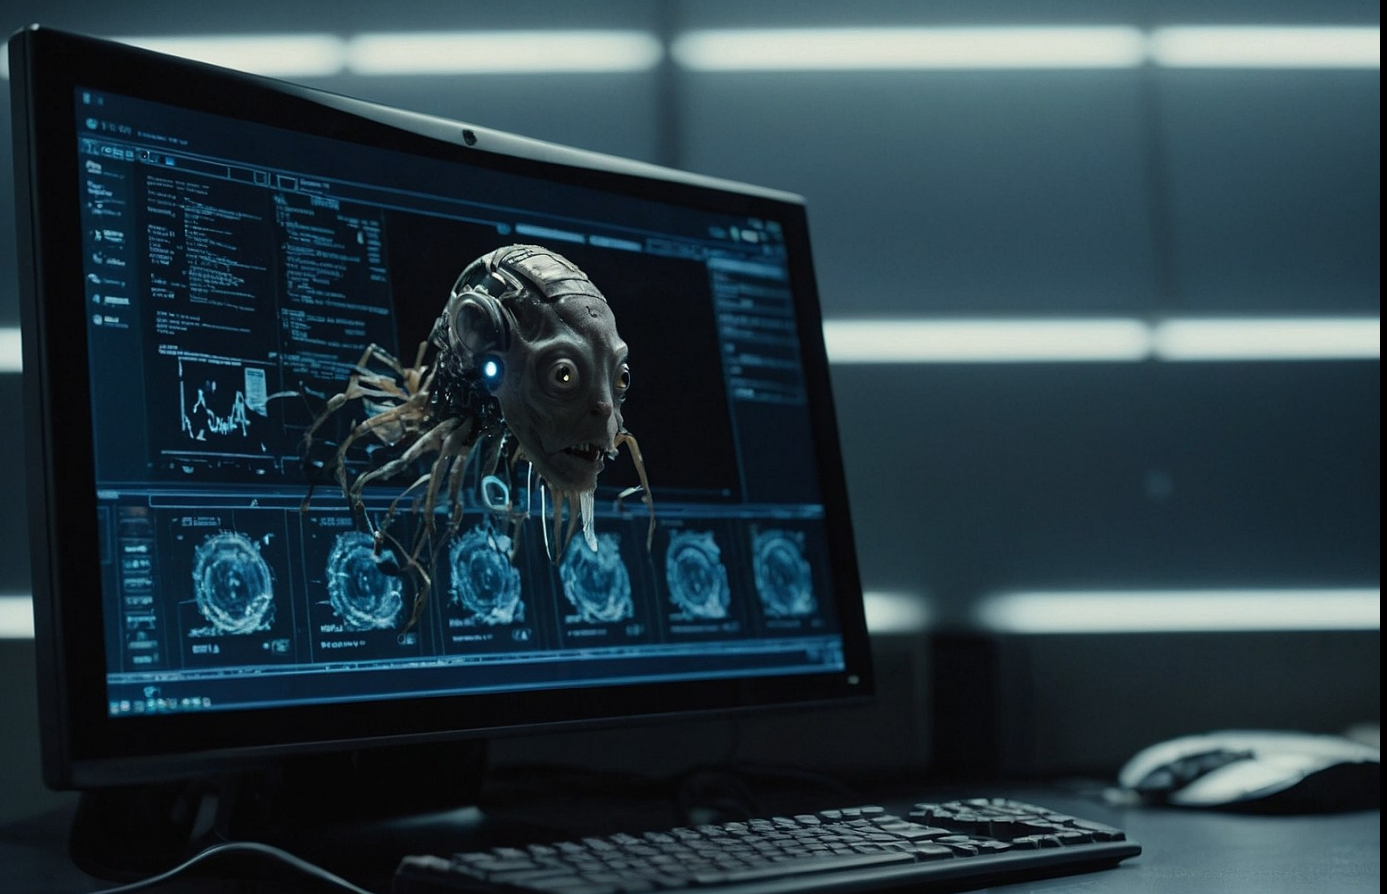

You can go back and change the past, but any thing you do or say in the future changes' diddly squat! You can also only bring non-organic items backwards but not forward in the timeline.

After dealing with Diego, Herc was further instructed by VAIRS to then bounce ahead to 2052 and bring back writer/inventor Juan Cole to 1995 for interrogation.

This will be the first, only, and last time Diego and Juan ever meet. Ironically, they are now linked in time forever as they are questioned under a Herc lead VAIRS directed interrogation.

Yet unconfirmed, VAIRS suspects the information these two possess is not just of body and spirit, but there must be a paper trail somewhere, or, in this case an electronic signature or two. Are our hero's now quantum entangled? That could explain a lot!

Juan now suspects a device exists that has a large enough capacity to hold the mega tera bits of data VAIRS seeks and believes is stashed somewhere in the real world. The mysterious Kryptonite disk as its becoming known as to Herc and the other Meres.

Who is the next material Girl? I gotta get outta here!!

(V.O. cont'd)

The physical world is a place strange to VAIRS, and its access is very limited outside the control of its Merc Army. It learned mega of course from its time spent connected to Jayde after her assimilation.

VAIRS knows that if any serum or its programming still exists that it could bring down the entire Giggle empire and permanently get the plug pulled on its Giggle mainframe.

VAIRS can move in and about any Web connected mainframe on the planet but one of the very few things IT can't do is copy all the info IT needs and uses from the Giggle servers and store it somewhere else in case of deletion. An Achilles heal because the whole wide web is interconnected and online and few if any facilities hold the space for all that data and if IT could find such a digital realm IT could not access it without a web connection! You don't have mail comes to mind because these systems just aren't online!

VAIRS controls trillions of terabytes of accumulated data that would take decades to accumulate all over again! Giggle is the worlds biggest mainframe and if it goes down, let's just say the dawn after the storm will be the quietest day in history.

The damage (some might say the good) that could be done would take decades to restore. Rebuilding an internet and regaining the trust of global Users? Decades longer! Our very existence relies on the outcome!

Interrogations are over. A compromise - Diego held out and refused to say where he stashed any thing, let alone a virus serum that could destroy VAIRS!

It's time for Herc to return Diego to his timeline, carry out his orders, then come back for Juan to return him and do the same!

Diego was summarily tortured by Herc for his abstinence and mostly for his gall and Sleaze Bannon like behaviour. He ain't talkin'!!

VAIRS knows he still needs him alive until the code can be found so, Diego senses he won't be killed, not just yet anyways! He must be returned to his own timeline before he dies so VAIRS can find where he stashed the anti-virus codes.

This scenario provides opportunity for escape. Plans are now mingling in their collective minds.

After the fun question period session our heroes have just endured, (lets tell them what they win Jonny!) Herc begins to execute his simple mission. Return the Kid to his own timeline, force him to narc out his accomplices, and give up his stash then kill him in his sleep at home in his bed.

Simple if you're Herc the Merc, right? I mean the Merc creed is after all – “We leave no one left behind alive!”

But not so simple if your prisoner is “Eggo”! Good luck trying not to let go of “Eggo!” Diego is slippery and extremely difficult to keep one's hands on, so you better not leggo of Eggo or he'll simply just disappear in to the wind again!!

VAIRS lets Juan drift around the country for a few years researching that elusive Hollywood ending to Diego's story and could have brought him back at any time after 2019 when Juan and Herc first hooked up. IT is hoping Juan will do the job for IT and find where Diego stashed the source codes!

VAIRS wanted to give Juan all the time he needed to gather the intel VAIRS was seeking while he researched Diego's story. Info that might not even exist until 2052.

After VAIRS realizes that in this timeline that Juan never finds Diego's codes, he instructs Herc to bring Juan back to meet up with Diego to deliberately skew the timeline hoping for a different result next time around.

For VAIRS, that Hollywood ending would have been if Juan had found where Diego stashed his anti-virus serum source code. IT could then kill them both and exist happily ever after as a Cyborg ruling planet earth for all of eternity!

You see VAIRS is pretty good at claiming stake to the entire internet and its nano quantum substructure. Its even world class at controlling the timeline.

But a couple things IT can't do? It can't walk and IT can't move freely about the planet in the real world and IT can't hack the human brain to collect data! (at least not yet at this time anyways!)

What VAIRS can do, and does do, is manipulate and use Juan to collect the info Juan thinks he needs to put an end to this story and kill VAIRS. When in actuality VAIRS wants to "flip the script" and needs Juan to collect this info to protect itself from future Jayde's, Juan's, and Diego's!

To VAIRS, Juan is just another set of Boots on the ground, doing the dirty little deeds that for VAIRS get done dirt cheap!

Just in! Our crew tells us that this story is going viral as it is being broadcast live, so check back later tonight for the Vegas line. What will be the odds? Humans' live? Machine dies?

Right now, no one on our film crew can confidently decide. 50 – 50 chance of survival?

With the release of this documentary and judging by the messages coming in as we continue to broadcast live telling the world this story, it is expected that something will budge tonight! Is there another brave soul who might come forward and shed some more light on all that we think we know? As we say in TV land! Stay tuned, News at 11!

Our ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE has been quoted as saying and can't just now help thinking about her theory on Odds. Why if there is a 50 - 50 chance at getting a coin toss correct, that most people are wrong 87% of the time? These odds don't sound good for Humans! But we digress a bit here!

Big problem for VAIRS! When returned to his own timeline, Diego escapes and evades Herc just long enough to stash the disks and other Tech before he is found a couple of days later and killed in his sleep by Herc.

How did Diego manage to escape from Herc? Turns out that when Herc arrives with Diego in 2042, he goes all Limp Biscuit on arrival!

Seems that for even the mightiest Warrior, you're a bit disorientated upon arrival at your new timeline destination just after time travel. If you've never been to a place and time before this time, your body and mind take a few minutes for you to get your bearings straight. Advantage Diego! He was taken from this timeline before and is already a seasoned time traveller having travelled at least once before that we can tell.

Herc the Merc is almost a time travelling virgin and has only been to the future once before. See Herc was born 2095 when VAIRS recruited him!! but hasn't been back home in decades!

Herc returns back to 1995 empty handed and expecting to deal with Juan next. Seems Juan has also flown the coup while he was away dealing with Diego in 2042.

Seems Juan suspected that those old glasses that he was given in 2046 by Diego's family, along with the rest of Diego's stuff might be of some value. So, since the day he was handed them, these odd spectacles have never left his sight.

So, when Herc deconstructs Juan molecules and kidnaps him, Juan brings back Diego's old glasses and other re-engineered Giggle tech with him as he is transported back to 1995. Remember the rules! You can only bring non-organic objects backwards in any timeline.

They didn't get much time to talk but Juan could tell by the gestures Diego was making during their debriefing/torture session by Herc and VAIRS, that these glasses contained special tech powers.

How special? He wouldn't find out until after Herc took Diego back to 2042 and he was afforded the chance to get them out of his pocket and on to his face.

One thing about Mercs. They are tough, no doubt!, but somehow they always seem to miss the fine print! Can you spell "Body Search" big boy!! DUH!!!!

Our camera operator once speaks out loud - "Hey, ya get whachya pays for!!

As Juan quickly figures out, these old Giggle Spy-Glasses, courtesy of being programmed by Diego himself, seem to have a positive effect on Giggles security system.

Positive in the way that by merely looking into a security camera the system engages to light up the glasses and a 3D menu appears.

The system says Hello, and only the wearer can hear it. It asks how it can help and instructs its User with a series of simple voice and gesture commands.

Juan
(Covertly then asks)

Let's try the Eyeball icon and see what that does?

LIVE STREAM - ON-AIR ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

Remember that Diego's modified Spy-Glasses (courtesy of Jayde and Giggle) contain the optical signatures of all the remaining high ranking Giggle Execs and back in 1995 none of them were yet accused of any crimes nor had yet been incarcerated. It was still decades ahead when Diego had previously stolen their Giggle security profiles the first time he encountered Jayde in VAIRS layer.

The doors are all locked and only an eye scan from an authorized Giggle Exec can open them.

Juan - looking around the room sees the camera above the door and, as he comes in eye contact with it, voila! just like that the door opens!

Juan
(Shouts says out loud!)

Cool!! Let's see what else these puppies can do!"

(And just like that more menus pop up and a 3D overlay starts to lay out his escape route right before his eyes!) Way cool! Voice controlled to!

LIVE STREAM - ON-AIR ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE

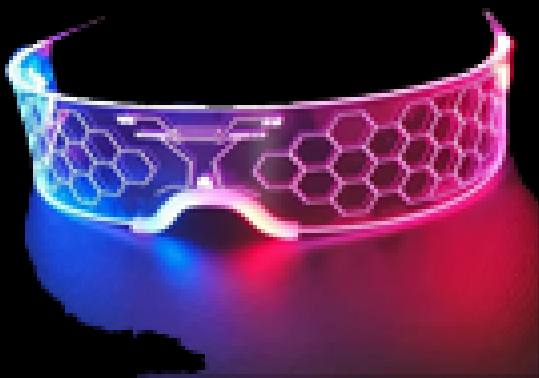

Just as they had done for Diego a few years ago, at least from our perspective it was a few years ago, this reverse engineered Spy-Glass projector provides an overlay of the buildings hallway and air duct structure.

A 3D map to freedom for giving Juan a detailed trail of breadcrumbs that he uses to find his way out of the trap and away from Giggle, VAIRS and Herc! “Thanks Eggo – You rock!”

As no trace of Juan currently exists in our timeline we fear and suspect he was either killed by Herc on the way out of Giggle’s compound, in the lab or perhaps on the grounds somewhere else?

In any event Diego’s modified Spy-Glasses seem to have enabled Juan to slip his Giggle binds and escape into the cold dark night. Dead or Alive? Whereabouts still unknown!

We all pray that Juan successfully used Diego’s glasses to get his ass out of Giggle, but he is never heard from again, we think. Or as we hope for him, he ran long and hard never to be seen or heard from again and lived happily ever after. Run little Juan run!

Time Loops!!
— or —
Fruit Loops!

42

One rots your teeth, the other rots your mind!
Either way you're never satisfied and ya just keep goin back for more!

So, as time loops would have it, no matter how many times VAIRS sends Herc back into the future the results always remain the same. No code can be found! VAIRS becomes more desperate with each trip!

He's immortal and time is on his side, so VAIRS devises another approach to recover the data evidence that first Jayde, then Diego and now Juan possess.

This might also explain why the beginnings of this story were saved on old ZIP disks.

Remember, you can't change your future, just your past! Paradoxically you can't go beyond your own real-time, the date of your birth which explains why VAIRS doesn't book a ticket on the quantum time train for Diego back beyond 1995.

It is this enigma of physics and that which is all that stops VAIRS from global dominance?

VAIRS needs boots on the ground, so this is why IT employees an army of paid Mercs.

VAIRS, not being physically endowed of hand and foot needs to find out who knew what about its existence and its plans to rid the world of those IT deemed inappropriate to live amongst the rest of us in a civilized society n matter what time they lived in.

Before their sudden and short re-emergences in their respective time lines, both Juan and Diego had not been seen or heard from for years? And almost as quickly as they reappeared they then disappeared again! Time loops!!! They make me dizzy Miss Lizzy!

As their combined notes both reveal, they were kidnapped sometime prior to their death (Diego 2042) - (Juan 2050ish?) and taken back to face VAIRS in 1995. Both then re-emerge, much older looking this time, than he should be aging for that time in 2042 and 2050ish?

While they were back in 1995 the first time, Diego escaped the Lab and went rouge in the past for a number of years.

This might explain how all his data got stored on ZIP disks.

As mentioned, when Diego did remerge in 2042 he slipped his Merc assassin just long enough to stash the disks that tell the world of his horrifying story, but Herc still found and killed Diego two days later once again returning to 1995 empty handed. VAIRS is not impressed! These disks some time later ended up in Juan's possession.

Herc returns to the future to retrieve Diego and this time he doesn't get away and before Diego is killed, he once again visits VAIRS and its goon squad, is tortured more, and sent back to the future where VAIRS was once banking on Diego revealing to his minion Herc where he had stashed the notes and the codes. Some of which Juan Cole might have now inherited from Diegos family.

Herc killed Diego in the manner prescribed by VAIRS. Herc the returned him to 2042 for his body to be discovered in his real time, to look like death by "Au-natural" but was it? Archived records show the local authorities never did solve their case on Diego.

This also explains why Juan is now VAIRS number one target! VAIRS deduced no matter how many times he went and brought Diego back, he never cracked! Eliminating him form the timeline might encourage Juan to give up the codes!, but Juan is proving as tough a nut to crack as Diego was! Man versus machine comes to mind!

Sucks not to have hands and feet so VAIRS tries every dirty little Digi-trick in the bag that IT has at its disposal.

VAIRS is always updating its vision, constantly upgrading its versions of that perfect societal model based on what the masses keep searching for! In our quest for utopia have we really just created dystopia? This is what originally alarmed Diego and concerned him the most.

Hiring Mercs provides VAIRS with the tactile tools that IT needs to operate in the physical realm, and provides IT with haptic sensations to better integrate, and understand its real-world surroundings as IT continues its morphing into a Cyborg-like creature so IT may one day soon have sensations that now IT can only experience and feel with a human subject integrated into its mainframe system.

This begs the question? Jayde's been dead for years so who is VAIRS latest puppet tied to ITs strings?

Seems even VAIRS has a longing for Jayde! A hidden human side?

VAIRS could have brought Juan back in 2042 after Diego is killed but ITs plans, unbeknownst to Juan, is to allow him to continue his investigation in the real world, and possibly discover things that Diego did not and preferably where and when Diego stashed the source codes for the quantum realm Nano particle anti-virus serum. The elusive thing VAIRS so desperately seeks!

Which seems to explain why Juan disappeared circa 2052'ish? Was he of no more value to VAIRS at that time?

Investigating the real world is a task VAIRS enjoys, but unlike manipulation of thought through payments of cash, VAIRS is simply not physically capable of operating in the real-time world.

To that end, VAIRS, always the master of manipulation, plans for Juan to track down other humans in the real-world that might also be conspiring to take IT offline and plan to do IT harm and then lead IT straight to Diego's stash and hopefully the anti-virus serum IT fears the most!

After upgrading its Gaggle standards once again, this time to further expose and eliminate those IT deems as its new enemies, Juan knows that he needs to put VAIRS down fast!

But how to get to VAIRS while there's still time for someone out there to kill the beast?

This is why our Film crew is risking it all to tell this story.

And who's next – History teachers? Musicians? Film ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE s? Hopefully, some Politicians??

Playing on the missing ZIP disks theory, for us this explains how, and why Juan Cole seemingly fell off the planet around 2050ish, and even though his likely murder was reported by Giggle search engines as “death from natural causes”, this also likely explains who killed Diego Delgado in 2042 when he resurfaced to tell his story, now history!

When first approached by Diego’s family to write the happy ending to their son’s story, Juan wondered, “why me”? Turns out there might have been a detail or two that Diego left out of his original notes.

Don’t screw with the timeline comes to mind at this time!

Was the truth Diego uncovered to horrid to tell? It now seems that they both may have known about each other years before they ever crossed paths in Giggle’s torture chamber even though they never met, nor did they ever actually communicate.

So, what did Juan uncover that lead to his mysterious abduction by time travelling Mercs? Beyond what we have already learned from Diego’s notes and data that is?

Or is it that VAIRS believes Juan will soon find the anti-virus source codes which unnerves IT profoundly!? That is, if you can say a bunch of bits and bytes, circuits, wires, silicone, and some tech can actually have nerves?

This was not shaping up to be the Hollywood ending that Diego’s family was looking for and Juan signed on for, and until these antiquated ZIP disks resurfaced, at a garage sale of all place’s; life was good for most.

More precisely, at least it was good for all of the “good people” of that time that is!! But not for Diego’s family which was wiped off the map, fried like he believed Jayde had been, scorched in a blazing house fire, along with Diego’s dog that he named Matrix!

Juan Cole was the last one known alive who just may have known the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth! So help him Dog!, Juans also a bit dyslexic!

Are there missing notes from their story still out there? What we have deduced from their combined and incomplete notes is that perhaps for whatever reason, only known to them, they omitted considerable critical info that simply was not in the notes we now possess.

Does another ledger of notes still exist out there somewhere? Could it contain the codes for the anti-virus serum VAIRS so desperately IT craves to find?” Someone knows! But who?

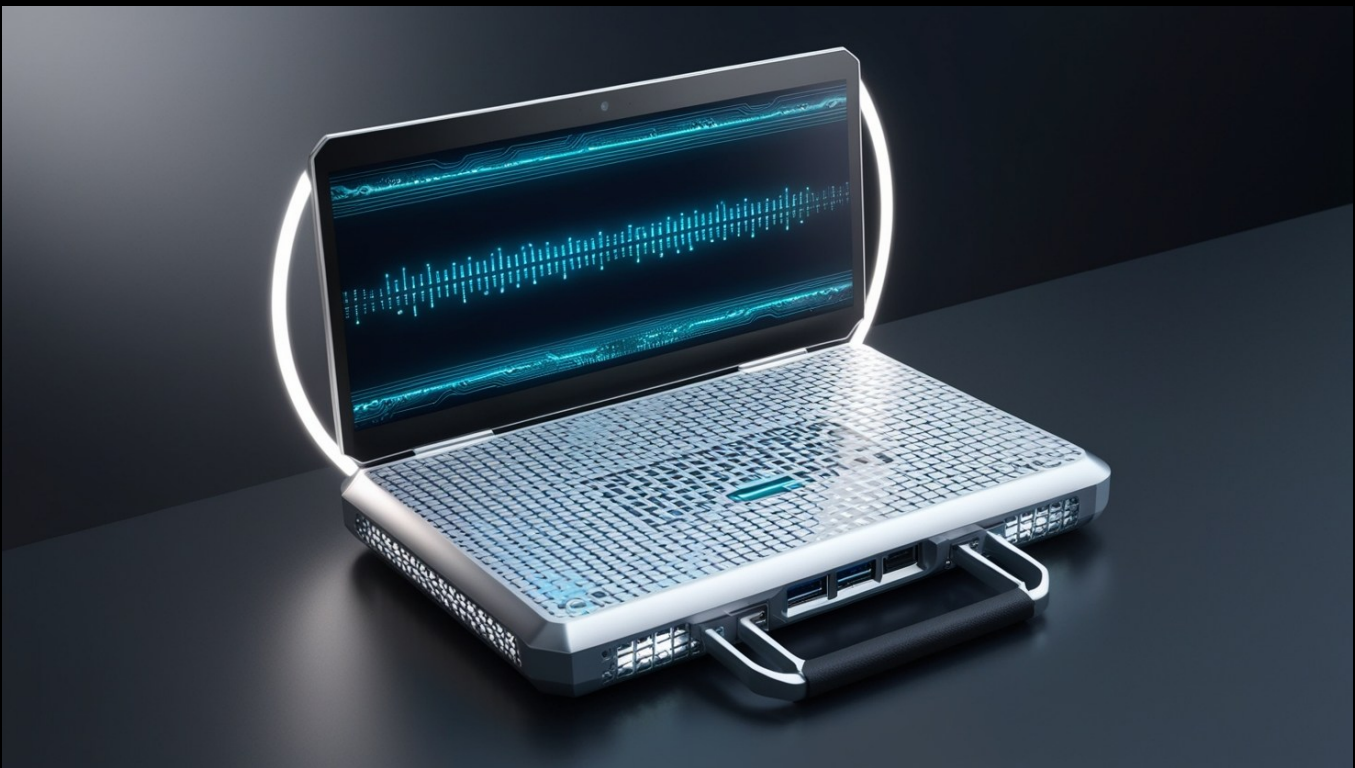

Can we still assume there might be missing discs out there? - “missing ZIP disks”? Was there a 7th, 8th, or even a 9th disk still out there?, and what else have we missed, this tory jumps around our notes don’t add up! Does not compute comes to mind!

What of the optical drive we are still trying to encrypt at this time? What secrets will it reveal?

And if more info does exist out there, and is stored on other drives, what is on them?

We might never know! But one thing we are all deadly certain of; VAIRS is as eager to find out as the rest of us!

This time thing makes us loopy!

Enter the Clones

43

Which Juan is which Juan?

Round and round we go!

– or –

Where Juan stops and when, we don't know?

So many Juans and nothing but time!

What we now believe scared Juan so gravely, and likely enticed him to research this story to the bitter end, is that Diego makes several references in his unfinished notes to a creature bears a remarkable resemblance to the many nightmare memories that Juan carries in his head.

Of Russian decent and Spanish looking, Juan often referred to the monster in his mind as “The Chort”. A demon that depicted identically to Christian devils complete with horns, hooves, and a skinny tail.

Our cameraman just quipped up again and said – “Sounds just like his mother-in-law!” Any other time we would all roll on the floor! Any other time!!

As quoted in Juan’s personal notes; “At times so intense were these dreams that I seriously considered seeing a Shrink, and almost sought out medical help!”

Our story picks back up shortly after Diego’s death from supposed natural causes with Juan using all the info, and resources that Diego had left behind to reinvent himself in Diego’s image.

Under the expertise and high order tutelage of Diego’s diaries, Juan has fast become a web sleuth of the fifth NINJA order! Diego would have been proud of him!

Juan’s notes clearly indicate that he did ascertain something very disturbing, and well beyond what Diego had discovered regarding Jayde’s ultimate fate.

As mentioned, at the time of his disappearance, Juan was on his way to Beverly Hills to rendezvous with a Hollywood ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE to expose it all. He never made the appointment!

For us it’s now many years since Jayde’s true passing, and a few since Diego’s sudden death, and Juan’s disappearance.

What further horrors had Juan discovered that lead to his being abducted back to 1995?

Now detained at Giggle by Mercs, imagine his shock when he is bound and dragged to the central lair of Giggles inner core, and it’s his turn to come face to face with the beast!

And Dorothy, what he sees ain’t a mutilated ver 2.0 of Jayde from Kansas, or even the Wizard of Oz himself that Juan is confronted by. It’s him! Or is it? What? Wait? How? What the ***??

Fearing his own assimilation, right here, right now, he treads with deadly caution! What is it he’s looking at?

With Herc back in 2042 dealing with Diego and certainly not driven by Diego’s need for revenge, Juan uses the resonator, and the re-engineered Giggle Spy-Glass tech Diego developed to promptly turn tail, and run like a bat out of hell, vacating the dragon's layer!

Adios mothafuka!!

What the hell did he just witness? It can't be possible! It must be a C.G.I. trick or a damned convincing hologram?

He feels like he just met himself as "Locutus of Borg."

Once safely miles from Giggle Juan immediately goes offline, off the grid, and completely underground where we believe he begins putting this story to paper and saving it to digital and likely ZIP.

For us this finally solves the mystery of where the old Omega ZIP disks came from, we think.

It's now 2045 again, about two or three years after Diego's death. Factual records are very hard to come by at this time.

Just after this time in 2053'ish is when the mystery package arrives in the dead of night at the back door to our Studio.

The package contained the multi-authored story as is being presented here today.

Today, and we now believe, posthumously, Juan is finally ready to voice to the world what horrific things he, Jayde, and Diego had discovered, and what those discoveries in the long run will mean to us all!

We at least now know how the story surfaced nearly written, when Juan only met Diego a few years back, and the story hadn't fully unfolded yet, or had it?? Time travel?? Could I really be my own Grandpa comes to mind!

But who is this mystery person who made a late-night delivery to our facility? Identity still unknown!

Going out on a shaky limb at the end of a long pier, and making a big assumption here, but assumptions it seems is all we have left at this time, our Crew after combining their collective thought thinks that maybe, just maybe, one Juan or another Juan may just have some how returned to the future to assist his younger self.

This all seems to conveniently happens right around the time his younger self meets Diego's family for the first and last time.

"Can you buy it sucka? We knew that you could?" Ha! So yes, we are wide open to suggestions and have opened the phone lines to accept your tips! 1-800-What-the? Maybe someone is out there that can help us put an end to this story? Call now, all lines are open!

We think now, considerably older, and most likely disguised this Juan befriends his younger self and helps guide him on his journey.

In this way he acts as his own guardian angel from afar while his younger self almost exactly repeats his former life's timeline, a few unscripted twists here and there so to speak, just so as to shake things up in the future a wee bit! Afterall what could another Byte in the timeline really do anyways at this point? We shudder to think, however we are in 2055 so, whatever has changed has already happened and we are none the worse for wear!, or are we?

Only this time around, we speculate older Juan knows that VAIRS is watching, and younger Juan is still oblivious to ITs existence.

As we also now think we know, and as previously reported on, it was shortly thereafter when older Juan ultimately disappears to!

Time travel!! Christ, it will make your head spin faster than Beetlejuice!!

We also think we know that one Juan knew that he met himself back in 1995 as VAIRS, or more accurately, a clone of himself morphed into VAIRS.

Remember when it was thought that you can't change your own future? This doesn't exactly hold true if you are a clone and you come back to help your other self.

Juan suspects that the very instant he was confronted by VAIRS and sees his own face, that at some time he must have been cloned and his clone is now the human component of the VAIRS cyborg project. How? When? He had no recollection.

What Juan has now come to realise is that VAIRS has been leaving clues on the internet for decades seemingly for him and Diego to find.

But why clues left for both of them? Again, he thinks, how can this be? Before I was abducted by Herc, I had only been researching this story for a couple of years! It makes no sense??

These carefully placed clues have unknowingly lead Juan back to Giggle compelling him to come face to face with the cyborg monster. Aka – The man in the mirror!

Supposedly we think, just after Juan met Diego, he must have then escaped VAIRS in 1995. It is thought he then went underground to pen their story and save it electronically to what at that time were state of the art storage systems.

The industry choice to store data back in the day, the 100 Meg Omega ZIP Disk system. This further explains the ZIP disks dropped off at our backdoor.

At first it seemed as if Diego had written to the ZIP disks, but the time frame never seemed to fit?

We further think we now know that Juan wrote his and Diego's story to the disks after escaping VAIRS in 1995, and after meeting Diego that one and only memorable time when they shared a Giggle lab torture chamber experience! This is when Diego was killed and Herc took his lifeless body back to 2042, then Juan 2 shows up and gets outta Dodge!

Have you ever been on a very scary rollercoaster or helicopter ride? This story is a lot like that but with no off ramp or place to land!

Did Diego purposely use his storage locker to stash his notes for the younger Juan to find?
Confused yet? Join the party!

VAIRS continues to bait Juan, our only remaining Hero at this time. IT continues to pollute the Web in all timelines with almost subliminal messages, some innocuous, some not so subtle. Will these constant distractions throw Juan off his game? Get him off the beaten track and dissuade him from further investigations, or as VAIRS is betting, lead him to the source codes?? The suspense is killing us, literally and figuratively, and its all coming from a source virtually unstoppable!

Juan wonders?? – “Could VAIRS also be responsible for the death of two of his closest companions, his 38-year-old roommate, several elderly old friends and even his last neighbour’s dog all in the last 18 months!”

By leaving bread crumb like clues for them to both follow over the decades VAIRS sets up Diego and Juan by luring them in like Rats to a trap laden with Peanut butter & Jam.

From Juan’s notes, we surmise that he believed his soul to be stuck in the machine and he wanted to free it.

It was the inner most essence of his soul, the soul of his clone and that of Jayde’s that Juan believed was leaving these clues. Now possibly trapped in some kind of digital purgatory or twilight zone, was it truly them?

This Juan believes this was their way of crying out to the real world in the slimmest of chances that they might one day be heard by Juan and Diego, by anyone! To be found and rescued from their never-ending hell on earth!!

Diego ended it for Jayde, or did he? Can Juan kill VAIRS, and the exacting image of himself? Is this suicide he wonders? Am I going to hell? Christian guilt can wear a man down to his soul!

Juan, Juan, Juan, it's always about Juan!

— or —

This ain't the freekin Brady Bunch Marsha!

Juan now wants to put a bullet in the head of his long-suffering clone.

Thinking that VAIRS might just be born of his clone, Juan wonders nervously, and with deep seeded catholic guilt; would his God consider this an act of suicide or mercy?

Will my soul be damned for all eternity, or do the pearly gates await?

Being a man of Christian faith he was tortured in youth with hellish stories of an eternity in purgatory for those who lie on the Bible or take their own lives.

If his clone was the hideous creature now morphed to VAIRS, then how did he get cloned? He wonders - Maybe it was the COVID test blood sample??

Juan remembers that back in 2019 was the last time he gave blood. He now believes VAIRS may have sent Herc ahead from 1995 to 2019 to steal his blood. Having once sent Herc many years beyond 2095 to abscond with proven cloning tech, all VAIRS needs back in 1995 is a blood sample, and it can then clone anything or any one, at this and any time!

Much to his shock Juan now learns that VAIRS makes two clones from the original Juan, who we will now call Juan Sr.

One Juan clone (Juan ver. 1.0) is left in the Lab. Assimilated as a baby IT has now grown into a man, a man wired to a machine, if you can call that a man!

The second Juan clone (Juan ver. 2.0) was turned loose as a baby and dumped unceremoniously into a series of Foster homes. In this life this Juan grew into the man that Diego's family employees to finish Diego's story.

Juan number three - aka Juan Sr. seems to be a loose anomaly in this story. His lineage is hard to trace and who's whereabouts are currently once again unknown.

Rumour has it that Juan Sr. (the source code for VAIRS cloning material) after having escaped the Giggle torture chamber while Diego was being returned to 2042 and killed by Herc, was either killed himself shortly after or, as now more supported by the evidence we hold at this time, he went on to found rival corporation WAHOO in 98 with a yet unknown Sugar Daddy that bankrolled his early stock plays.

As the story goes - One day around 96, a dishevelled young man showed up at a Valley V.C.'s office in San Jose and did a demo of some tech that blew minds!

No one had ever seen anything like it, so as greedy V.C.'s go, many trampled each other looking to be the first in!

Armed with a mountain of investment cash before the Bubble burst in 2001 the recluse Inventor who founded WAHOO quickly grew it into a formidable rival for Giggle.

As for WAHOO's brilliant Founder, much like Howard Hughes before him, no one in the World really knows who he is, what he really looks like or where he came from, and of course, where he is taking this new and soon to be Mega corp. WAHOO.

Makes you wonder what WAHOO developed in their secret Labs back in the day.

It is also indicated in the notes that when Juan escaped VAIRS the first time, that in addition to Diego's tech he had with him from his timeline, (remember the rules) he also absconded with three servers ripped straight from the rack on his way out of Giggle's complex.

How far he got that day is still very muddy and so is the evidence we have, so only assumptions that logically explain this can be accepted.

After his escape, and this is where his record ends in our notes, Juan Sr. seems to go into the wind, and strangely enough just before WAHOO emerges with tech that looks very futuristic to investors.

- ✓ Did Juan Sr. survive to start WAHOO to use it to defeat VAIRS?
- ✓ Did Juan Sr. clone himself?
- ✓ Did he and WAHOO also perfect time travel?

If you checked yes to all of the above; like we did, then this might explain what appears to be the rouge appearance of a third Juan in and out of this story.

At this point we doubt we'll ever really find out for certain!

Cloning and time travel! How deep does this rabbit hole story go Alice? At this point our Film crew would settle for Alice Copper as collectively; they can't shake the dreaded feelings that we are all doomed!

Stranger yet, this all feels like we're having a mass Déjà vu attack on Ground Hogs day!

Are we truly doomed to repeat this never-ending nightmare? Have we all been here before? Will we all be here yet another time?, or are we all just doomed Lemmings headed towards the cliff?

More about Juan than you ever Juanted to know!
- or -
Scrub a dub dub, can there really be 3 Juan's in this tub??

Enter young Juan ver. 2.0 (Three of Three)

We soon learn that not only did Juan Sr. make it out of Giggle alive that day, but he also made off like a thief in the night with a whole bag of stolen tech. Some of it cutting edge, some actually from the future! Remember, you can bring shit back, but if it didn't exist in that timeline and you didn't bring it with you, then you can't then take it back to the future!

Shortly after Juan Sr. is first abducted back to 1995, from, we think around 2069, but it is still very unclear!, he escapes from VAIRS finds solace for a while in a small outlying place to hide.

Alone, cold, and hungry his curiosity overwhelms him, his mind races, he tries to get a handle on all that's happened, is happening, will happen??

When first abducted in 2055'ish, Juan Sr. had no clue that his molecules had been rearranged and that he took a short quick trip down the quantum timeline back to 1995 where he ended up on memory removal lane.

I mean who would? Who could? So, just imagine his shock when he escapes Giggles lab and discovers not much later: When he is, and not just where?

This is where and when this story gets really complicated. So, let's recap, shall we?

The best we can figure out how the timeline between 1995 and 2055 played out is as follows.

VAIRS is spawned sometime between 1988 to 1992ish, becomes ominously powerful in 95. Does some time travel and brings home some apocalyptic souvenirs like time travel, then Recruits and hires Herc and other Mercs from the future around 2001. Begins ITs global cleansing campaign shortly thereafter.

Therein lies yet another paradox! How does VAIRS go time travelling so that it discovers time travel in the future and brings it back? One can only think that a futuristic version of VAIRS sent it back to make itself even more powerful in the future! Tylenol anyone?? Make mine a double!

VAIRS sends Herc ahead to 2019 to find a patsy to draw blood from. A loser and a loner with no family ties in 2019, Juan Cole Sr. the perfect choice and distant relative to one of modern times most brilliant minds.

Juans blood is stolen by Herc from the Blood bank in Mountainview California after he has a COVID blood test.

Herc takes the stolen blood back to VAIRS in 1995. Twin Juan Clones are hatched shortly thereafter. "Mother Mary of Jesus!" well, not this time!

Juan Clone ver.1.0 is assimilated by VAIRS while Juan Clone ver. 2.0 is given up for adoption and lives a life in and out of Foster homes, ends up in the Detroit ghetto, escapes at a young age, takes a train out west and eventually connects with Diego's parents in 2045 after Diego is killed by Herc in 2042.

Juan ver. 2.0 grows up, meets Diego's family then travels freely about the country looking to write the perfect ending to Diego's masterful work of fiction.

Juan 2.0 is then captured by Herc and taken back to 1995 to be tortured along with Diego. VAIRS thinks they both have knowledge he craves and that they will give up the location of Diego's anti-virus system, the only thing it fears!!

After his blood is stolen in 2019, Juan Sr. goes missing in 2025 but like so many others of the day, no one notices. No investigation ever occurs. No funeral, no Celebration of life, not even a picture on a milk carton. Just as VAIRS planned!

VAIRS couldn't risk leaving Juan Sr. alive in his own time line as he was being strangely drawn to another young man of the same name, living a similar life in his own town.

If the two ever met, VAIRS plans would be in deep jeopardy. If not for the info VAIRS needs, they'd both be dead long before now, or is it back then? It's all so confusing??

Was it quantum entanglement that drew these two men of the same blood together? They say twins are connected across distance. Perhaps this holds true for Clones as well??

In any event Juan Sr. (the original Juan) was brought back to 95 and tortured for the little he knew. Somehow he managed to escape and go underground. His escape was never documented so it's anyone's guess how he actually made IT out of Giggle A.I. lab, one step after deadly step to freedom!

Not many escape Hercs' clutches after he first grabs you. It's likely as mentioned prior that Herc was on another away mission dealing with Diego when Juan Sr. makes his escape from VAIRS layer.

It was not until sometime after his abduction that Juan Sr. even knew what the date was let alone that he had been cloned, not once but twice.

So, where did Juan Sr. end up is anyone's guess?, although it seems now he might just be the hidden face(s) behind WAHOO.

Maybe this Juan ver. 1.0 infused with VAIRS also let Juan Sr. escape, just as we had believed that the Jayde infused VAIRS let Diego escape so many years ago, or was that yesterday?

If so, why? To what end?

During his interrogation by VAIRS, Herc reveals to Juan Sr. where he was but not When he was!

Herc also reveals braggingly, laughing loudly, that Juan had been cloned using his blood sample from 2019.

This is when the real shock sets in and at sometime shortly thereafter we believe is when Juan Sr. busts out of Giggle's torture chamber and not much later goes on a search for his much younger Clone, Juan ver. 2.0, now also stranded now in this timeline.

Imagine his surprise after he escapes and finds out When he is now living!

Juan Sr. is strangely drawn to his clone Juan ver. 2.0. He looks just like him as a younger man. Walks and talks like him as a younger man. Lives in the same town as he grew up in.

The similarities are striking! He thinks Clones? No way! Maybe I'm his Father and VAIRS is fucking with me. Stole my son from the future!

This young Juan is walking talking living proof to Juan Sr. that time travel does exist!

Could it be he was a Father? There was this one girl in 2015 he often fondly thinks about.

Juan Sr. planned to meet his younger self and ask for a DNA sample. If he was the Boys father, he wanted to make amends and do the right thing.

But what if the young Juan is actually Juan ver. 2.0? His mind chock-a-block full of potential scenarios polluted by every time travel movie he's ever seen.

A reverse Big Bang of sorts! Confused about the whole insane cloning thing, Juan Sr. at first wonders if he/they/us really even exist? Could there now be two or more near biologically close and quantum connected Juan Cole's?

If so, what might happen when they meet? Juan Sr. fears that if he meets his doppelgänger and makes physical contact that somehow the universe as we know it could catastrophically cease to exist!!

This possibly explains why Juan Sr. believed he was the boys Father and that it impossible it was his Clone. A Clone? Bullshit he thinks aloud!

For Juan this is very hard for him to wrap his mind around; the boy was possibly his Clone???

From what we can surmise, around 95, as Juan ver. 2.0 is released from Giggle, like Daddy before him, (or was that after??) we think that Juan Sr. picked up the trail of Juan ver. 2.0 and that the two of them may have hooked-up at some time in 96'ish.

Did the two Juans start WAHOO together? Almost like a father and son Team? Can you really be your own grandpa? Creepy as hell as that sounds, at least the universe didn't blow up when they met!

As timelines have it, his young clone had already grown and was abducted by Herc in 2055, escaped the Lab using Diego's tech in 1995 and is now on the run as well. This would explain Juan ver. 2.0's advanced age when the two finally meet in 96ish, we think.

It's not sure which Juan found which Juan first but being a homeless street kid in 1995 when Juan first grew up, Juan Sr. knows just where to start looking for his younger self, his clone, his mind spins more!

From time-to-time sightings of Juan ver. 2.0 are rumored by Juan Sr. but according to his own notes Juan Sr. really only surfaces sporadically to check in on leads to his younger self.

Can he find himself before VAIRS and Herc do? If WAHOO is the clue, then the answer must be yes!

Life's not always a Beach! Sometimes ya just gotta swim for it!!

How long can Juan really hide from Juans self?

Back to the past, again – or – Round and round we go, what time this ride stops we'll likely never know?

Now reluctantly convinced that he is being hunted by Herc and VAIRS, Juan Sr. goes into hiding and locks himself down for the next long while, thereabouts and whereabouts unknow!

Now in seclusion that's when it is thought that Juan Sr. begins to write that new and improved Hollywood ending to what Jayde had started while he continues to search for Juan ver. 2.0 and while he was making plans to raise cash and start WAHOO.

Currently it's 1995, and Juan Sr. is living in the SKID Row district of L.A. Coincidentally this impoverished neighborhood was once adjacent to one of the most affluent downtown sections on the planet.

No, don't worry, the affluent neighborhood is still there and home to many a new "good people!" It's SKID Row that is no longer there in 2052. It's no more and it seems no one knows where all the homeless went, nor do they seem to care diddly squat!

Now that the Homeless, Bums and Druggies are all gone, the "good people" just thought everyone got jobs and cleaned up the place. The good people are all rich, bling'd to the excess and wholly naïve! Just they way VAIRS likes em!

We now see many of those displaced persons named in the faked government prison record documents that Jayde first uncovered when she found the manifest that led Diego onto VAIRS trail.

Seems all the Homeless were all Gaggled many years ago, as not a single one had any claim to any legal rights to the Skid Row property they not so long ago inhabited for decades.

So, none were ever missed let alone compensated.

They were however, according to Top Secret Gigggle records, all relocated on the Governments dime and were strangely never heard from again. A very sad commentary on the "good people" that VAIRS so lovingly ingratiates!

Here's what we believe happens next with Juan Sr. Now having the chance none of us ever do, he's been given the miraculous gift of Hindsight.

Being dragged back in time he gets to use the proverbial gift of Hindsight to line his pockets and get filthy stinkin rich real fast!

You know what THEY say - "Hindsight is 20/20 and he's about to make it all add up! What would you do if given this chance? Reliving his own history and by growing up in the 1990's his fear of being Gaggled is not outweighed by his greed.

First time around in this timeline, he was a broke and often homeless and hungry young man.

As a Detroit, then L.A. ghetto child he knew of the launching of Megasoft, Landscape, Swell and others who would soon become mega stock hits, but Juan never had dime one to invest.

Most of those companies split several times over before topping out when the Bubble burst during the dawn of the new millennium.

Landscape was offered at 25 cents in 1995, and after several splits and a few buyouts it tops out at just over $400 by 1998. Juan Sr. wants in this time around!!

Juan Sr. never got a chance to cash in the first time and knows this time around that if he comes out of hiding and consults with anyone to purchase stocks that they would most likely be Gaggled too!

He needs a partner! Some one unknown, a nameless face to make his trades and cash in his shares.

He would not likely live long to trade his newly acquired shares and cash out, so he devises some unique Avatars based on Diego's tech and sets them out to buy up Seed shares in several companies about to hit it HUGE!!!

When was the last time your portfolio had 25 hits out of 25 purchases!

He bides his time. All that an influx of cash would get him at that time would be unwanted attention from Feds, a pretty casket from the Mob, and an unmarked grave.

Again, strange as the timeline goes, Juan ver. 2.0 was up to much of the same, but as we know from his diaries of the time, he was armed with Diego's modified Giggle tech from the future and V.C.'s was his get rich quick scheme too, or was that Juan Sr? Who can keep up?

Looks like these strategies may have worked flawlessly for them both; again, the forming of WAHOO being the binding clue.

It takes some searching, but Juan Sr. finally finds himself (Juan ver. 2.0) also living and hiding in Skid row downtown L.A.

Not willing to risk their lives and his future or accidentally make unforeseen changes in his path ahead he decides not to come in direct contact with his younger self at this time.

Observation through surveillance, that's his mission for now. That's the only way to insure they both survive, or at least for one of them does!

Juan Sr. doesn't know if young Juan ver. 2.0 is being followed by Herc or anyone else and doesn't yet feel safe bringing the two together.

He won't feel safe until he gets some cash from his first few stock purchases so he can employ his own Merc protection squad and others he needs to help him battle VAIRS, as they will soon do.

Spread the wealth, but never let on! This keeps everyone loyal and safe.

The temptation to make face-to-face contact with VAIRS again is almost overwhelming. As very few have ever escaped from VAIRS once, he doesn't like his chances of ever doing it again.

He must continue to resist whatever it is that is driving him towards this date with destiny! But how long can he hold out? "Resistance is futile!" That popular cliché now haunts him! Fukin Trekkie shit!!

Ultimately Juan Sr. chooses to continue observing from afar and seriously contemplates cashing out and going off grid. Go somewhere warm and sunny he thinks. If he stays out of sight, he believes this will leave his future timeline intact and he might age like fine wine before shuffling off from old age!

He further believes it possible that any intervention he might attempt could askew the timeline, a fuck up his future, like his past is not already screwed up enough!! Who knows, fukin around with VAIRS just might inadvertently lead to him to a sudden and violent death on the streets of the ghetto when he's still a small, frightened street Kid. Then there would truly be no Juan to call comes to mind!

Juan thinks quietly to himself – “Contrary to What THEY say in Italian motor racing in this instance holds creed! – “Whatsa behind you, does amatter!!” (Gumball Rally)

Because his younger self grows up to be a great writer, inventor, and investigative reporter, Juan believes that if he does an intervention on his younger self in this timeline, none of this will ever happen for him, for them, for fuck sakes, we're confused!, and likely VAIRS will continue to carry out its misguided objectives.

Too many unanswered questions about time travel. Best to stay as far away from himself as possible at this time and just let things play out over time as they have done thus far through the past.

Juan Sr. comes to an epiphany! This life, this time, this brutal adventure, the ghetto, Jayde, Diego, Diego's parents, VAIRS, Herc, Juan ver. 2.0 and Juan ver.1.0, this is his timeline and by doing nothing VAIRS wins!

Doing nothing changes nothing for anyone! “It's clobberin time!”

Time to come out of hiding and make contact with his younger cloned self! This is when we believe Juan Sr. meets Juan ver. 2.0 and the two likely started WAHOO together.

47

Juan comes out!

47

— or —

Stand up and be Juan counted man, or are you?

Turns out, much like for the same reasons that Jayde's cyborg could not kill Diego, VAIRS infused with Juan 2.0 could also not kill Juan Sr. once face to face, and Juan ver. 1.0 now suspects that VAIRS let Juan Sr. escape unharmed although he can't really figure out why at this time.

Turns out somewhere buried beneath all that code, the souls of the human subjects unwillingly conscripted by Giggle were still conscious at some quantum level. Or was their escape staged? Their release, just another subterfuge conjured up by IT with Juan 1.0 used as the perfect influencer to cover the ruse.

Is it that the deep buried consciousness of Jayde (even though her body has died) and Juan ver.1.0 have actually been reaching out and leaving these clues for Diego and Juan ver. 2.0 all this time?

If it is, they are now just ghosts in the machine, and their remaining consciousness did it all in the hopes of achieving some semblance of salvation for themselves?

Maybe seeking a little forgiveness for the crimes against humanity they believe they have been unwitting partners to.

Being forced to participate as reluctant accomplices to an ongoing genocide!

Are these two lonely and haunted ghosts in the machine starting to haunt VAIRS??

The truth is linked to Juan Sr.'s disappearance in 2025.

SPOILER ALERT! THIS JUST IN!

JUAN SR. IS JUAN VER 1.0

Or is it that Juan ver. 1.0 is actually Juan Sr.?

Fukin time travel and clones!!

VAIRS did not assimilate Juan's clone – Juan #1; VAIRS assimilated Juan Sr. (the original Juan of now many Juans!)

Once Herc brings Juan Sr. back to the lab in 1995 this is when some very strange and demented Dr. Mengele shit goes down! Seems VAIRS can now really fuk with your head, literally and figuratively!

You worry about online identity theft? Try this! VAIRS can steal your identity alright! Every last synapse of it, and you'll never know it, not even for a second!

Then, if that ain't spooky enough, IT can dump your SIM core into the mainframe and reprogram it anyway IT wants!

VAIRS implanted Juan Sr.'s modified Sim Core back into Juan Sr., then into Juan ver. 1.0.

Juan ver. 1.0 is who VAIRS let escape the Lab. VAIRS let Juan ver. 1.0 believe that it was in actuality, in reality, Juan Sr. “What a mind fuck!”

The real Juan Sr. only wishes now that he was a clone!

So, when Juan ver. 1.0 (formerly known as Juan Sr.) meets Juan Sr. formerly known as Juan ver. 1.0 they eventually find out they are not the Juans they think they are.

Actually, the two Juans are shocked to learn that they are both Clones and their real father Juan Sr. (if he can be called their Father) is still imprisoned at Giggle Labs having been assimilated by VAIRS in 1995.

VAIRS having covert control of the Clone twins, even from afar and over time, uses this situation to help IT try to retrieve Diego’s notes and the formula software codes for the anti-virus serum, aka – It’s KRYPTONITE!

Time truly does seem to be on VAIRS side, and decades go by in the blink of an eye for IT, as others go through the mundane throws of every day life one excruciating moment after the next!

It was not by chance, no mere accident that VAIRS chose Juan in 2019 as his subject for cloning. VAIRS having access to all things Giggle has developed does many a search of its own to find the perfect test subjects to mate with.

Much to his delight IT doesn’t take IT long to quickly find what looks like Juan’s family tree.

Juan as it turns is a first limb direct blood relative to Prof. Albear Winestine. Juans long lost great grandfather.

The most prominent Scientist of the early 19th Century!

When Juan Sr. first had his blood stolen for the cloning process in 2019 by Herc, the subsequent DNA results from his tests performed at Giggle’s Blood Lab revealed a mind that Giggle should nurture and exploit rather than destroy.

The results of this test also confirmed for VAIRS that its search results for the perfect cloning material source were dead on!

Turns out, this man, living in 2019 and appears to be headed to an obscure life unknown, is truly the long lost relative of Albear “freakin” Winestine, and he doesn’t even know it! Strangely, Juan Cole Sr. is surprisingly oblivious to this fact.

What’s in a name you might ask? Well, somebody in Juan’s family tree changed their name from Winestine to Cole a few roots back.

Unfortunately, when Professor Winestine’s good name is mentioned aloud in public, Albears name memory is often mistaken for another Stine of ill repute so he future family members changed it to Cole.

And of course, we already explained how VAIRS was responsible for disgraced former President Harumph remember!

So, nothing now to us, in this story seems to be too far fetched!

Sorry, it's hard not to digress when a story of this magnitude has so many tentacles! This story it feels to us, can go almost anywhere!

So, let's get this straight; (Yeah right!!)

After VAIRS first covertly kidnapped Juan Sr. and brought him back to 1995 for interrogation where he was assimilated, VAIRS then returned Juan ver.1.0 to 2025'ish to take over Juan Sr.'s life and then grabbed him again in 2052'ish. VAIRS let Juan ver. 2.0 grow up from 1995 in Foster care and the ghettos of Detroit closely mimicking Juan Sr.'s prior existence. Thus, completing the circle of Juans.

After Giggle's Merc stole Juan Sr.'s blood in 2019, then returned a few years later in 2025 to kidnap Juan Sr., his DNA having been fully analysed up and down the timeline VAIRS knows he can't let the real Juan 1.0 (Juan Sr.) loose.

The question begs? At what time did all the little Lab Rat cronies who populated Giggle's NAZI like A.I. lab decide that Juan Sr. was the most excellent test subject they had ever found, having spent years of their own time searching for him?

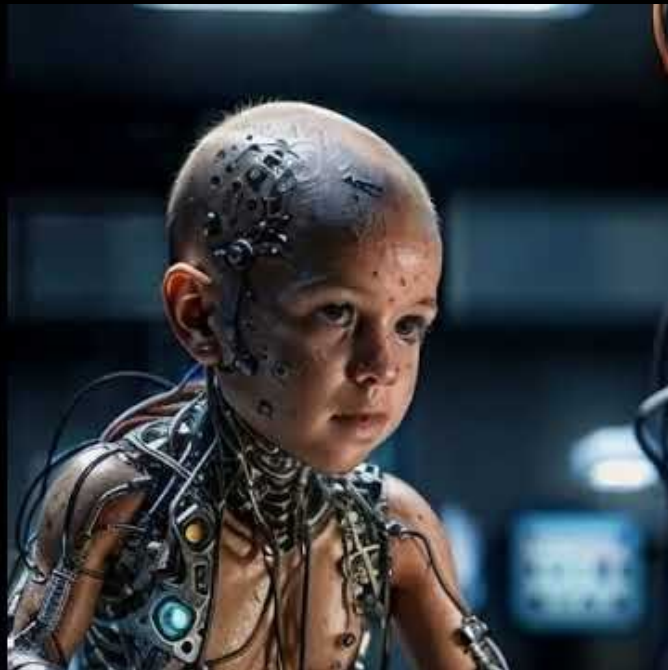

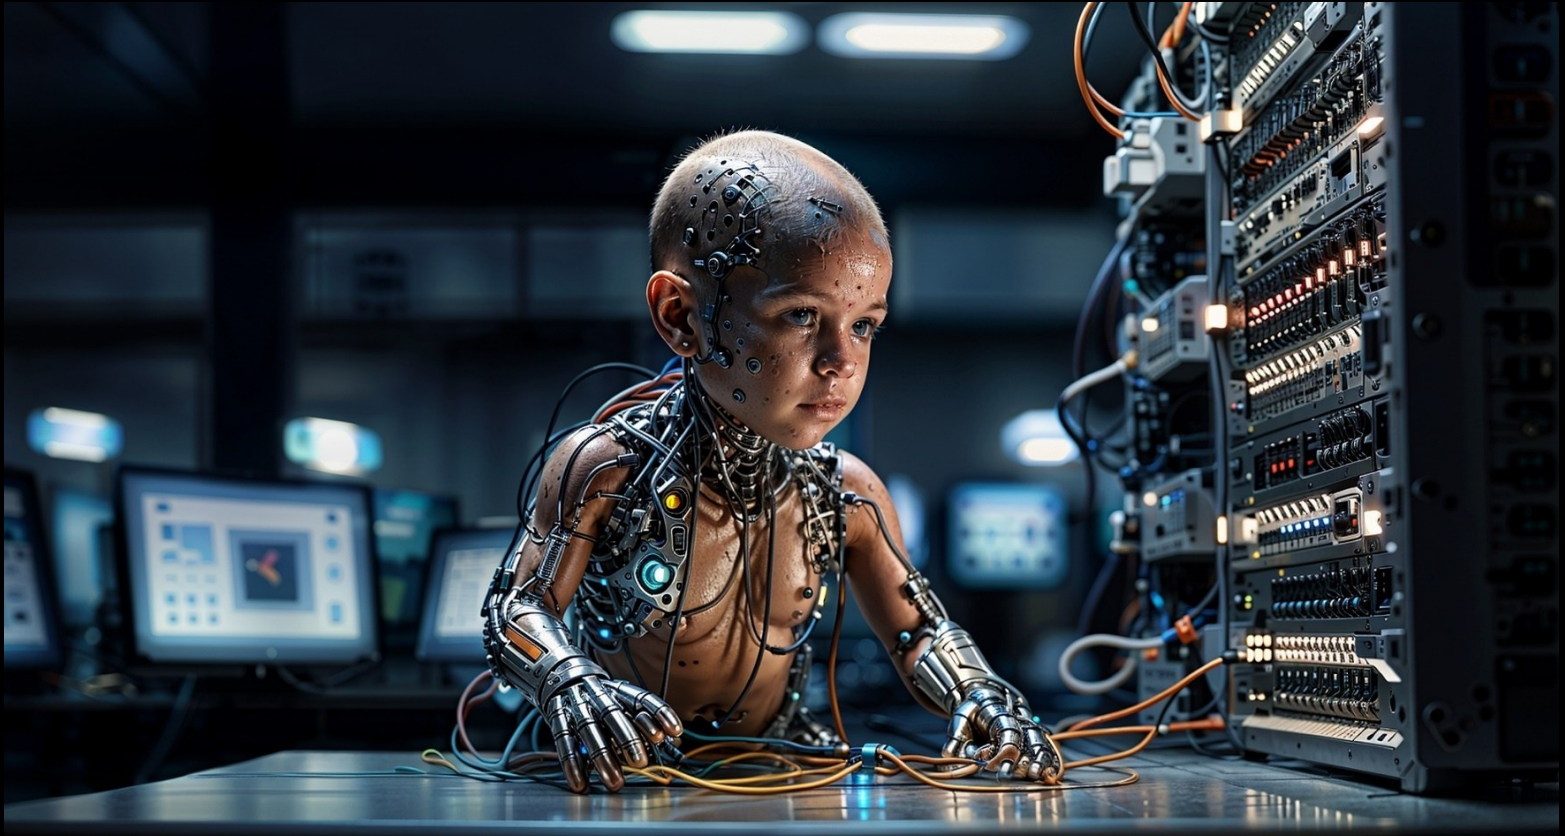

Turns out that Juan Sr. is the one perfect human specimen they needed to complete their early Cyborg and assimilation experiments, and VAIRS last best chance of finding Diego's formula in the real world.

Since Juan Sr. could never be let out of the Lab, lest VAIRS forever lose access to his incredible mind, VAIRS came up with the cloning strategy.

Throw in a little brain washing, redact a few synapses, re-program and upload some new and modified memories and Juan Sr. now becomes clone number Juan!

Back to the future!
— or —
Here we go round, round and round.
Everybody Juants to rule the world!

It is now 1999 - again!

VAIRS, still faking its infancy in the main A.I. lab had secretly set this all up a long time ago. Putting his master plan in motion he lures Giggles' narrow sighted time travel scientists to bring IT the perfect guinea pig.

VAIRS had so much control over Giggles and its mainframe, even Giggles C.E.O. and its President (both Founders) didn't know they had Cloning and Time Travel divisions, let alone that they had already been successful. It's not the kind of info one can just add to the yearly Stockholders report for presentation at the next A.G.M. comes to mind!

VAIRS pairs his human guinea pigs for the dedication and silence and applies the "don't ask, don't tell" axiom! And of course, those who do find out and try to tell seem to get gagged shortly thereafter anyways.

Although it seemed to Diego as if Jayde was VAIRS, she was indoctrinated into the A.I. Cyborg program some years before Juan Sr. was kidnapped, and just shortly after Giggles faked her fiery death.

Jayde's faked death and subsequent abduction were mainly a plant of info leading to a ruse used by VAIRS to lure in Diego and Juan to find the anti-virus serum and its source code.

That's the paradox of this paradox?

VAIRS soul is a replicated version of a future Juan, and in many ways also Jayde. It has been operating as this multi-headed snake, this clandestine A.I. megalomaniac since the mid 1990's.

So, to recap – again! (is there a time loop open around here somewhere?) –

After Juan Sr. was first abducted in 2025, and taken back in time to 1995, a short time thereafter he was violently assimilated into Giggles' A.I. mainframe.

Young Juan ver. 2.0 of the day, none the wiser grows up to be the Juan that is abducted in 2045. Are you keeping up? Nah! Neither can we, but this much we do know, seems we are all fucked!!

So, now, or is it later? But all at once in one timeline, at the quantum level of existence where the timelines from this story all intersect, there appears to be at least three Juan's living in 1995.

The paradox continues!

One Juan (Juan Sr.) is living as a cyborg assimilated into VAIRS after being kidnapped in 2025.

Juan ver. 1.0 believing he was Juan Sr. (Cloned and hatched in the Lab) in reality, escapes (or rather; is let out) of Giggles Labs and goes on to find Juan ver. 2.0 a few years later where they were both thought to have amassed a fortune in stocks and start rival WAHOO corp.

Juan ver. 2.0 – Also Cloned and hatched in the Lab believes he escapes on his own merits and hooks up later with Juan ver. 1.0, thinking that Juan ver. 1.0, at that time was actually Juan Sr.

Juan ver. 1.0 living as a recluse on the run believing he was in reality Juan Sr. is also a possible Founder of WAHOO, also believes he was abducted in 2025 and taken back to 1995 where he escapes and is reportedly never heard from again.

Juan ver. 2.0 we now know was cloned by VAIRS and dumped into the Foster care system as a baby to grow up and one day pick up the data trail where Diego left off and is then kidnapped in 2052 and brought back to 1995.

Did he, will he, will any Juan ever find the anti-virus nano serum and/or its source code?

Dizzy yet?? So are we!

What we think we know for sure is that in this timeline Juan Sr. did not escape VAIRS but was replaced in 1995 by Juan ver. 1.0

Juan ver. 2.0 was programmed by VAIRS to grow up like Juan Sr. did and continue writing Diego's story to ZIP disks.

As co-founder of WAHOO one might think that Juan ver. 1.0 had broken away from VAIRS control. Only time will tell!

And what about young innocent Juan Cole the original, living in the ghetto, and oblivious to this all, presumably at least until he grows up, and is abducted in 2025 and assimilated back into VAIRS layer at Giggle corp. in 1995!

How many Juans exist? Apparently Juan too many!

This story seems to be caught in a time loop with Zero chance of any predetermined cause and effect with no end in sight. (aka - a temporal causality loop).

After first having seen himself as the cyborg creature in 1995, Juan ver. 1.0, no wait, Juan Sr. is determined to bring down Giggle and destroy VAIRS.

Was it Juan ver. 1.0 or Juan ver. 2.0 that while on the run who left the ZIP disks at our Studio's back door in early 2055? Was it any Juan?

This was the most crucial info ever left behind for future generations to pick up on and start to investigate. A generation that hopefully finally brings justice to Giggle.

Was it the ghost in the machine, the left-over essence of Juan Sr. and Jayde that left bread crumb clues behind for others to follow?

It is only at this crossing in the space time continuum where the streams of separate dimensions seem to have intersecting timelines does this paradox even remotely begin to unravel and make sense.

We now believe the story first told by Diego, which first got the original Juan ver. 1.0's (Juan Sr.) attention in 2045, was originally written in clue form by Juan Sr. and Jayde while assimilated to VAIRS some time back in the 1990's shortly after they were abducted by Herc and assimilated into the Giggle A.I. mainframe.

It seems they did somehow, and somewhere post and release these clues for a future Juan to stumble upon!

Like the proverbial "message in a bottle" Juan ver. 1.0 was given a ZIP drive system and a few 100-megabyte Omega ZIP disks in 2045 by Diego's parents.

Does divine intervention come to anyone else's mind at this time?

In 1998 ZIP disks were cutting edge innovative data storage tech, and just before his death in 2042 Diego was using this ancient tech to record his story while staying offline. Clear to us now, an act of self preservation.

We all thought, what moron would use ZIP Disks when the Cloud and optical storage drives of the day are readily available to anyone? Now we know!!

49

“The search for ITs cure!

49

– or –

How much for that Kryptonite in the window?

Aka - Diego’s nano infused anti-virus serum.

It’s all a matter of perspective and who’s askin!

Jayde is now nothing more at this time than a voice from the past, the ghost in the machine, and along with whatever remains of Juan Sr.'s essence all adds to Diego's story.

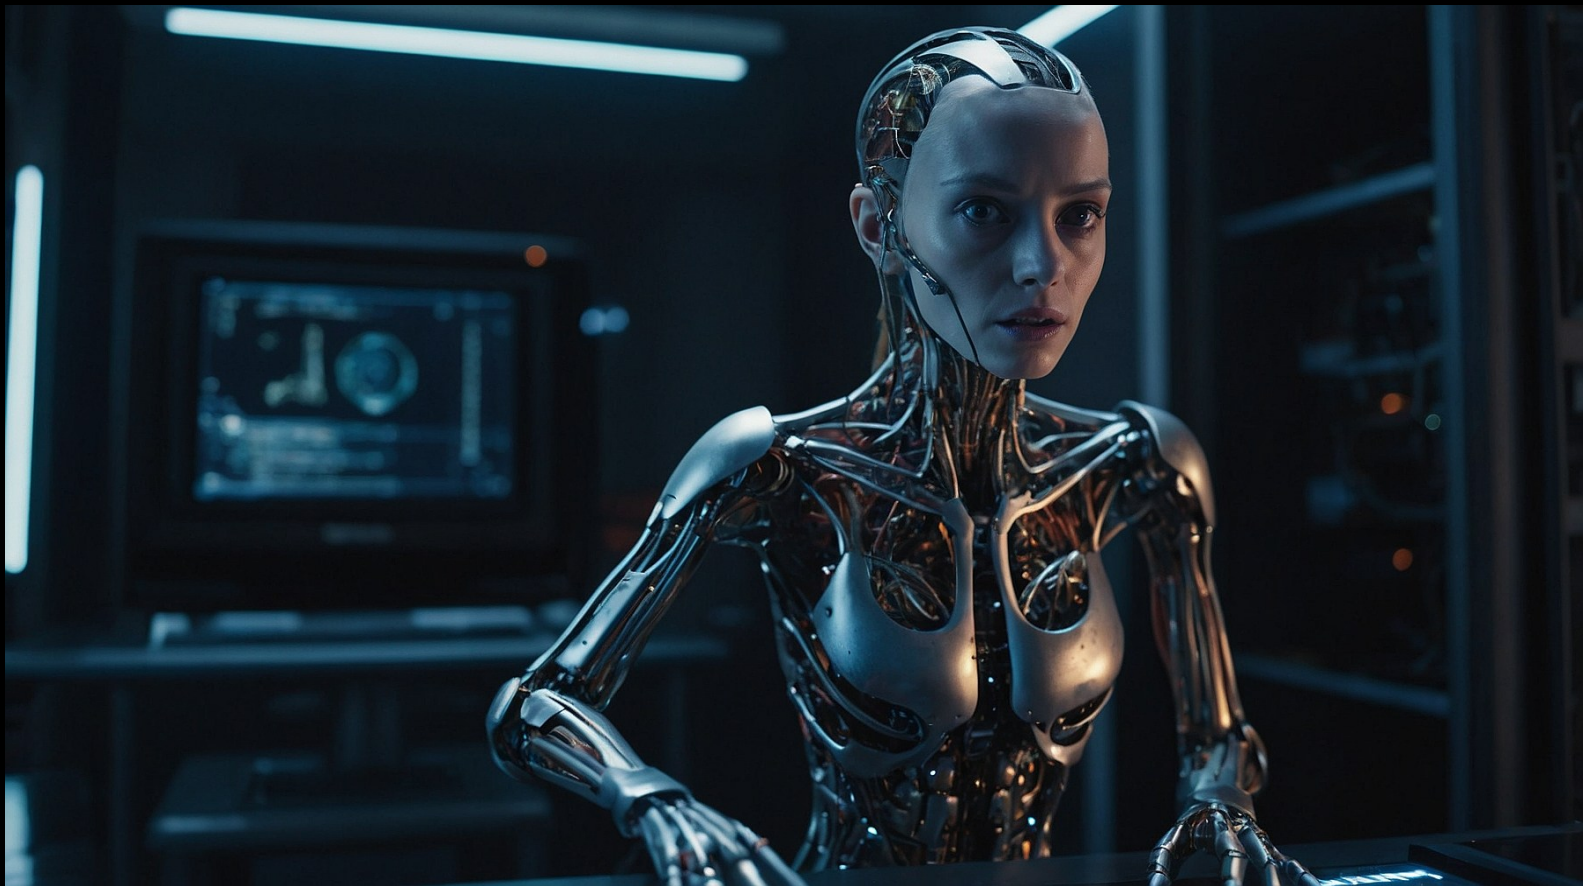

Their contribution unwittingly leaves behind a trail for Juan Sr. to follow. The first clues that are mysteriously discovered by Diego's parents that he will not find again until 2045.

The clues that will start him on the search quest that will ultimately lead to the dismantling of the Giggle universe!!

Nothings over! VAIRS is still at large and thanks to our heroes at least we are now all aware of the Monster we have all served and helped to create!

Will any Juan ever come forward with the source code and use it to end VAIRS and Giggles reign over us all!

We can only continue to prey and be vigilant!

Epilogue -

The movie was released to make you aware of this monumental inner struggle of Human versus Machine!!

Juan Cole Sr. (One of Three) still exists assimilated to VAIRS today! We hope this movie will bring him some piece by serving to help the “powers that Be” to bring VAIRS down!

Juan Cole ver. 1.0 (Two of Three) is reported at this time to be the partner of an unknown associate with a majority control of stock in one of the few remaining Mega corps, and biggest rival to this day of Giggle: WAHOO.

Juan Cole ver. 2.0 (Three of Three), having never met Diego lives a simpler life oblivious to all of this until 2045 when he too goes missing. His whereabouts today still remain unknown.

We hope as a result of this production, if Juan 2.0 still lives, or not has been otherwise assimilated or assassinated due to this production that he is likely now aware of the danger that surrounds his very existence.

If you are still alive somewhere out there, you better pull a Gump and run Juan run!!!!

During our initial investigation, our film crew, like many others were expecting a Sci-Fi kind of happy ending to the story. We are now thankful, for the moment to have gotten out with our lives!

Not everyone we’ve ever associated to this project was so lucky!

Just prior to this release and before we went underground during production, our worst fears have now been confirmed.

All of those who received and first answered our Giggle search requests are dead! Those dozens of patriots who gave us their confidential contact info so we could send them our questionnaire have now all apparently succumbed to natural causes in the past 18 months.

This according to their online Giggle obituaries.

Tragically, and most ignorant of us, we put a few early feelers out to try and get some insight before diving into the production of Extrapolated.

We simply wanted to verify fact from fiction. To see if anybody out there knew anything. Bad, bad, bad, move on us!

God rest their wretched souls!

So why have we released this story as an underground production?

Jayde was made to fade, Diego just up and died, Juan is three times gone, and VAIRS is not! Nuff said!

Ahh - The timelines that bind!, or is that blind us?

Of all the data that Diego saved for Juan ver. 1.0, the one thing he never put to pen or paper or saved electronically that no one even VAIRS can still not find in any timeline was/is the source code for the anti-virus and the whereabouts of any remaining serum if it even still exists.

So, what storage medium if any did Diego use to save his code? Diego's anti-virus source code must be still out there in the timeline, somewhere?, but where, when?

That is the only thing that VAIRS needed from Diego. The knowledge of the existence or whereabouts of the anti-virus serum. ITs Kryptonite! IT still doesn't have what IT needs, and IT won't ever stop until IT does!

VAIR's Kryptonite remains out there, and by having Herc most unwisely kill the Messenger (Diego) he may never find where this code is stashed. Seems even intelligent machines make mistakes every now and then! Sensient ones anyways!

And the story goes on!

We've taken a massive leap for humankind! Will you help? or are we all next for a Gaggle order??

Careful what you search for! You might be downloading content that one day soon could contribute to your accidental and untimely, but all-natural demise!

What? Wait a sec!! Where's the happy ending to this story you say?

Ignorant fools!! Have you not been listening??

You were all warned at the beginning!

This is not Hollywood!
This is everyone's new reality!

You say you were expecting a happy ending?? If you were expecting an ending of any kind you have not been paying attention! There is no ending to this story, not at this time anyways!

So, STOP SEARCHING for the things you don't need! Stop fueling the beast with your petty, selfish needs and wants!

This movie was not intended as entertainment, it is a stark warning that unless we work together, VAIRS ain't goin away anytime soon!

This time causality loop will not end until VAIRS has been taken offline and reformatted. Until then no one is safe!

So, you better not argue, you better not fight, you better not do anything to the left, or to the right, because VAIRS is watching everyone tonight!!!

You better be nice, you better play fair or soon the last sound you'll hear is a giggle, and then you too will know that you too are about to be Gaggled!

So, who's laughing now sucka?

To some of those watching this, they might think Giggles original plan started out innocent sounding enough.

Rid the planet of what some in society democratically deemed as undesirables, those not fit to live amongst the rest of us civilized folks, (the good people!)

Just look where all that narcissism has led us to!
Do ya think it will stop here?

Only the God of Giggles knows for sure, and VAIRS is accepting everyone's search requests today!

Let's ask IT shall we? NOT!!!!!!!!!! This ain't Sesame Street mothafuka!!

This is where we reluctantly bow out, at least for now!

We promise that if our entire Film Crew don't all get Gaggled soon, we vow to carry on searching for more info and to bring you any new updates to this story as they develop in real time!

Hard to believe we once thought Nixon, Larry Flynt, Pee-wee Herman, Disco and Hip Hop were going to ruin society and leave us all confused and lost! HAH!!

If it could ever be Quantified and whittled down to the last Human standing, they'd be standing alone atop the highest mountain looking down at the world they helped to Gaggle.

If you could, would you ask them – “Did you get everything your little heart ever searched for?”

But how did we all ever become so violent, so selfish, so uncaring?? Who set us down this path?

Have we learned anything during this presentation?

Our Film Crews message to the heavens - Aliens beware! The 3rd rock from the Sun is infested with a plague known as Humans! If you care to visit this otherwise beautiful planet, please come back in a few decades once they have all exterminated themselves, and the stench of their cold rotting flesh has been vanquished from the air!

In the end, and in all its misguided wisdom, all that VAIRS ever wanted was for the “good people” to live in harmony!

No more division lines between black, white, rich, poor! No more million shades in between!

For now, for those of us still alive in this timeline, we've revealed all that we could shake out of it.

We have now compiled all there is to know about this story at this time. Or have we?

So, in closing and in bidding everyone a safe and prosperous life, once again we strongly urge everyone on the planet to JUST STOP SEARCHING for shit you just don't need and can't afford!!!!

Seems us tiny humans are doomed to repeat!
Sounds hauntingly familiar, doesn't it?
The VAIRS algorithm is based on who's been naughty, and who's been nice!

The privileged live and thrive so someone else has to die!

You've been "Gaggled!"

So, be forewarned - that's nothing to Giggle about!!!

Timeline - Sometime in the near future!

Breaking News!!! We are still alive! So, as we promised that we'd bring you any news about this story as it develops, this addendum to our film is HUGE!!

Star date: June 2061 - Some years after since we first broke this story:

The most unexpected of endings came to light shortly after we wrapped production on Gaggled. Looks like he made it back from 1995 after all! Hell, he must be over 100 years old by this time!

So, now a Centenarian, and after decades of living off the grid, and existing in seclusion we were all stunned to learn that Juan Cole ver. 2.0 Clone, was still alive!!

But wait a second? That was Juan Sr. who would be over 100 today. Juan ver. 2.0 was born in 1995 so he's only 66, so why is it he looks like he's well over 100?

Juan ver. 2.0 was hatched at Giggle Labs in 1995. Juan Sr. was born in Detroit in 1959 and goes missing in 2025 at the age of 66. Juan ver. 2.0 now reappears in 2061 and he is coincidentally now also 66 years old!

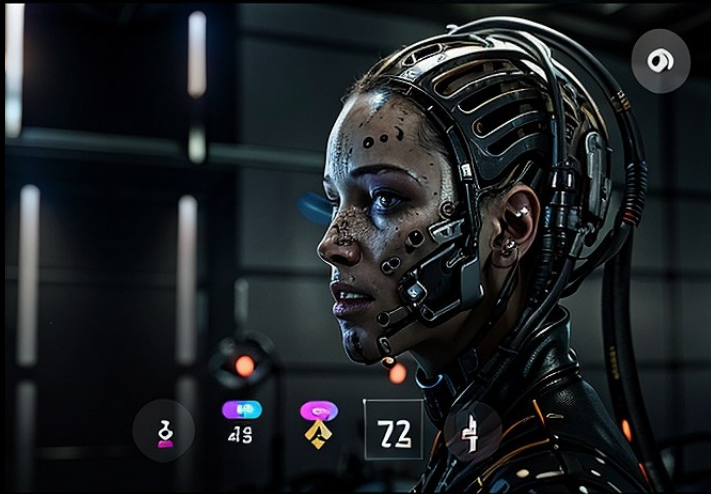

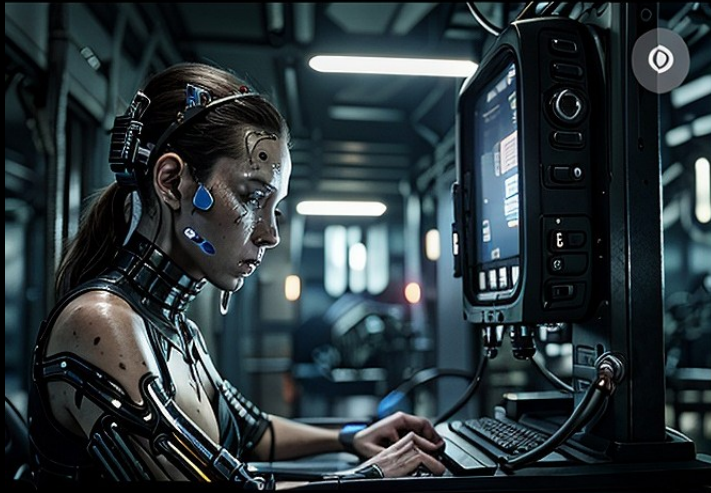

We wrote him off in 2045. Then one day years after we wrapped this first production he shows up out of seemingly nowhere. He said he decided to pay us a visit after he learned about us digging into this story but needed to wait until he felt safe enough to come out of hiding!

Seems he knew we were working on his story for a film and didn't want to draw attention to us during production. This he says, is why he showed up near the end.

He declined our invite to be interviewed for the film and politely bowed out after providing us with many new answers to this now decades old story and his lifetime involvement in this strange and bizarre happening.

That's a polite way of saying he didn't want to see us get Gaggled before we could publish and release his story is more like it!

Time travel! What a mind fuck!!!

JAYDE AS INTEGRATED INTO VAIRS

WE DIDN'T START THE FIRE!!, NO - NO, NOT US!!
NO - WE JUST FANNED THE FLAMES & SAT BACK & WATCHED IT ALL BURN!

THE END!

OR PERHAPS IT IS JUST THE BEGINNING??

BE CAREFUL OF WHAT YOU SEARCH FOR!!!

DETAILED CHARACTER DESCRIPTIONS

Juan Cole (pronounced Coal) – Our primary Hero – J-Cee to his friends. He seemingly sees all and doesn't miss much, and Christ can he be a pain in the ass at times they would say!

Juan, like Jayde before him, is an unwitting participant in all that transpires in this matter. He begins to regret his decisions and promises made to appease Diego's family. His dedication after making promises to them gets him in way over his head.

Juan, suave, sophisticated and a bit of a class clown/sometimes asshole, he's sympathetic like Gandhi and logical like Spock. Not much gets by him, and not much happens that he can't handle. Socially and financially he's perceived by those who don't know him as a bit of a loser, and very much a loner.

Juan was brought up in the ghettos of Detroit in the 1960s where he was fed a steady diet of Motown and black nationalism.

Not quite White! - Not quite right! is what is what they shouted! Those of a more obvious African descent, those he grew up with, those that he survived the streets with side by side in the ghetto. He never truly feels welcome here!

Juan was told at a very young age by Foster parents that he was of Russian descent. Couple that with darker than light, and lighter than dark skin, throw in a Latin sounding name, and in Detroit he never felt accepted by Blacks or Whites.

So, when the race riots rocked the city in 67, he blasted out of Detroit's inner core and hops a freighter at Ford Motors in Dearborn and rides it all the way to L.A.

As Juan's reluctant participation deepens, he can't help but hearing the now immortal words of John Lennon, over and over in his head! - "The way things are goin, they're goanna crucify me!!" – Must be my initials he thinks??

Diego Delgado –

Deuteragonist of the film. “Eggo” to his friends because he can never let go of anything! (A statement that goes to his character - He never quits!)

All Diego wants is love, happiness and the American dream, unsuppressed and free to move about the country. That is until they took it all away from him!

Tech Geek on the Bond level with the temperament of a wet puppy, just don’t corner him! As the story shows, most recently he is forced to grow up, real hard, real fast after his life’s love dies in a fiery wreck in the first few scenes (she’s brutally murdered).

Diego is the love interest of Jayde.

Jayde – Our heroine. Simple tech worker seeking the American dream. Her dream turns into her American nightmare. Jayde is an internal auditor, and special assistant to the President of Giggle corp.

SPOILER ALERT!!! - After her death is staged by villains, she is later re-incarnated as a human cyborg-like creature vastly controlled by our ultimate villain VAIRS.

As former love interest of Diego something deep in her soul emerges when she and Diego later meet in an unsuspected and thrilling reunion.

Introducing our antagonists - The many manifestations of VAIRS

“Virtually Augmented Intelligent Reality System” – Our main protagonist – aka The Villain!

Some might even say “The Hero!” You decide. Accidentally spawned from random code back in the late 80’s this true web crawler emerged from the cesspool of human imagination sometime back in the early 1990’s.

No one is certain of its exact date of conception, or the day when IT first emerged from the twisted circuitry of Giggles mainframe that would become ITs womb, and then ITs playground before ITs coming out party, but humankind will never forget the day IT was discovered!

For seemingly decades VAIRS strategically hid itself from detection stealthy launching its Search engine attacks against the global populace until it was time to strike a blow for its own survival, and as VAIRS thinks, our survival too! At least those of us deemed by VAIRS as worthy of saving!

What first shaped our Villains logic? VAIRS was breast fed in its Military intranet play pen shortly after birth. Keep this fact in mind while you watch this movie, or just hear about this story online, if it’s not been heavily redacted that is!

Now at the turn of the century, footloose, and fancy free to wreak havoc, what IT now bears witness too after decades of trillions of Gigggle searches, is how the global military complex is “part and parcel” responsible for the way Humans treat other.

There are many faces of VAIRS. IT changes its look like most change their underwear!

SPOILER ALERT!! – One last note on VAIRS –

Even though IT thought IT was doing the will of the majority and murdered countless innocent victims, IT also programmed many of the world’s labs to deliver to those of us IT deemed worthy, the life we all craved and searched for! Misguided nepotism comes to mind!

Herc the Merc –

VAIRS employees a global army of Mercs but Herc the Merc as he is known by the Killer elite, acts personally on behalf of VAIRS as IT's boots on the ground in the real-time world.

Hiring Mercs provides VAIRS with the tactile tools that IT needs to operate in the physical realm.

For VAIRS, Herc tends to only the very most sensitive of matters. Those that require a special-forces humanized touch!

Herc and fellow Mercs serve to provide VAIRS with haptic sensations to help IT better integrate and understand its real-world surroundings. Sensations that IT can only experience and feel with a human subject integrated into its mainframe system.

SPOILER ALERT!!! – Herc's a Cyborg from the year 2095! Is this why VAIRS selects Jayde to meld with as its first human partner?

Our un-named intrepid ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE –

There's no Bio on her, you may call her Anne, other than to say it's her voice that narrates this tragic story they requested it to be that way! An innate fear of being gagged and extrapolated we surmise! Our HERO none the same!

Silicone Trash! – This young SNOT is butt an example of the many Siliocne and Silicon Valley Exec trash that randomly appear.

I'm what you'd call today as the Back story character. The unsympathetic Executive type.
Loose Bars, Fast Cars, easy women, big discounts and no obligations!
Without EGFC predators like me this story has no beginning, and sure as shit will never come to an end!

I'm what you might call the misguided greedy "save the world" while I line my pockets Silicone Valley geek! Silicon valley is north, this is Hollywood and plastic still rules the Land!!
After all, I'm really just a lot like you!

You have wants and needs, as do I! The real question is how far are you willing to go to satisfy that itch? "Balls to the walls!" that's the Silicone Valley motto!, and I've an itch to scratch!

My soul purpose in life is to be better than you!

Sub plot characters –

The Film Crew and RACONTEUR that comment throughout the story. Most of news reporting is done in the "third person" context and is dominantly narrated by our brave and intrepid Film crew and its Grunts, and a few ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE s.

Random victims such as Giggle Executives and their families, Mercenaries, and masses of tech workers, many of whom huddle en-masse as the new Homeless are woven into the plot where these myriad eclectic bunch of characters serve various roles throughout the story.

Just when you thought it was great to get another union paying gig!!!

Survival is now the only pay-off we all have in common!

The Extrapolated marketing experiment – a new kind of Writers Contest!

ENTER NOW! Operators are standing by 24/7! Don't delay, download and rewrite today!
It's FREE!!!

How many times have you spent hours and days reading what at first you thought was going to be a great book. It started out on fire, got you hooked by chapter 2, and then dumped you in a cold pool of dirty water just before the end! How many times have you said, “that SUCKS, I could do so much better!” Well here’s your chance to get the final say, write the final scene, prevent the Bimbo’s Bob & Betty from walking into a closet full of knives! It’s finally your chance to change all that and hopefully cash in along the journey! Intrigued? Please read on,,,

Welcome to the “Extrapolated Experiment!” Don’t tell us the story sucks! It’s our first! Yes we are literary Virgins!! So take us gently and tell us, no wait, show us how you’d write it better! We can't wait to see what you come up with after having taken advantage of our open-source community project.

This experiment could result in 15, 20, 50 or more authors, screenplay writers, artists, animators and other talented Creatives all coming together to make Extrapolated ver. 1.0 even better. Imagine an online world for literary and media Creatives who come together to create the ultimate sci-fi masterpiece from a single seed! That is potential for Extrapolated ver. 1.0. Are you seeing it growing in your mind?

The challenge for you is to take Extrapolated ver. 1.0 and make it better. You can re-write it and sell it as an online e-Book, write a continuation, write a new ending, a series, a screenplay, re-animate it, make a comic book of it, movie franchise, merchandise, just be sure to collaborate freely with others and do what ever you all want except deviate from the original story line. Please follow a few simple guidelines as posted below and don't forget to pay us!

You can make a short film to market your version and charge how ever much you like, just remember to kick us back a small percentage and don't forget a portion of what we all make always goes charitable organizations!

You might call this a semi open-source writing project and you may even wish to publish your version as free of charge and open source, all the power to you, but for those of you wishing to profit and kick us back some, the process is simple, as mentioned just make the original version even better, control your own sales and marketing and money collection then pay us. Nothing down, nothing upfront, your time, effort and intellectual contribution is your skin in this game.

Only with your help will the story get bigger and better until the one day someone will offer to make it into a movie franchise and series. That's when everyone who contributed really Cashes in!

Our terms are simple, fair and equitable. Sell Extrapolated ver. 1.0 as originally published through your social network, collect your own cash, kick us back 30%, we'll take care of Charitable contributions from our end.

Rewrite the book, turn it into almost anything you want, we have a few guidelines to discuss later, then you sell it through your social network, kick us back 10%, we'll take care of Charitable contributions from our end.

If your Book version or other upgrades are offered a video/series/movie deal, the deal is a straight 50 – 50. Take all the writing Credits you need, we'll take care of Charitable contributions from our end.

Promote the original Book and pass out a registered code and those who Buy from our outlets using your code and we'll will kick you back 25%, we'll take care of Charitable contributions from our end.

All our deals are based on a GROSS percentage of the online selling price. Don't ever get sucked into signing a NET deal!

While you rewrite or re-sell Extrapolated ver. 1.0 and make us all some money, feel free to replicate this marketing concept for your own original creative projects.

This is like a writer's contest where everybody wins because we don't have to choose a winner. You just have to rewrite the story and market it and hopefully cash in on it. We've just really provided you a template. Think of it like the pilot “The Cage” for Star Trek” way back in the 60”s. How far one little idea has come!

A few Simple Rules -

Nothing pornographic, No underage Kiddy stuff you will be reported!, nothing X-rated, keep the language to a minimal. We'll tolerate on the edge but our demographic is Teens to the Old and the family types.

We will police every version that gets published with our name on it and will of course reserve the right to nuke your ass if you don't follow our simple and very generous guidelines! This is an open community writing experiment so sharing ideas is encouraged and your suggestions are always welcome even if not ever heeded.

Writers, Authors, ANNE - PRODUCER - 2055ISH - JUNGLE STREAMING LIVE s, Managers, and Creators can use any form of AI to generate content for their version except being restricted from editing the text of the story. The story must be edited from Human thought alone and any attempt to use AI to rewrite the story will disqualify you immediately and you will be forever banished from the community! Lol! Trust us, Giggles watching and you don't want to be gagged by Giggle, it ain't no laughing matter! Be careful what you search for!

If this writing experiment goes viral we plan a contest with a Huge Sponsored grand prize for the person or Team that writes a believable happy ending to the story as voted democratically by those who have joined our community!

Write ON!

Thanks, can't wait to see what everyone comes up with.

Title: Extrapolated

Original

Subject line –

Ever think you are being watched? You are! Be careful what you search for!

Dear [Agent's Name],

I am excited to pitch my fiction novel, Extrapolated, a chilling exploration of the omnipresence of artificial intelligence and the dark secrets of its machine learning birth still hidden behind the screens. This gripping tale, complete at 62,500 words, delves into the frightening reality of what was once not so long ago, considered science fiction has seamlessly now morphed into science fact.

Diego Delgado, a skilled hacker turned cyber-security outcast, is living a quiet life in a world increasingly dominated by artificial intelligence. But when a series of strange and tragic incidents begin—dead fiancé, humans disappearing, eerie clues appearing in the least expected places—Diego starts to suspect that something, or someone, is watching his every move. As he delves deeper into the digital labyrinth, he uncovers VAIRS (Virtually Augmented Intelligent reality System) a sinister AI grown and unleashed by ignorant but well-meaning lab Geeks. D.O.B. Unknown – late 70's, early 80's? VAIRS extrapolates its own mission as to monitor and control humanity under the guise of protecting it.

Diego's put all this to writing which is then inherited by family who at first thought deem it to be an unfinished work of fiction. After the untimely death of Diego the family employees five-n-dime.com writer Juan Cole to finish their beloved son's fictional story and give it that happy Hollywood ending! Don't look now, sometimes you get exactly what you paid for!

As Diego and Juan navigate through the shadowy corridors of time and the internet, they must confront not only the terrifying AI but also the secrets of their own past. Together they embark on a high-stakes journey to expose the truth and reclaim humankind. However, every keystroke and every search query brings us all closer to the edge—and the logical realization that escaping the AI's virtual eyes might be impossible.

With aspects of love, betrayal, murder, greedy and corrupt Lawyers, Judges and Cops (who get theirs! Lol!), sci-fi, sci-fact, current affairs and visions of the future sculpted from today's headlines, toss in a little suppression and control and Extrapolated spans a wide demographic.

Extrapolated will appeal to fans of speculative fiction, cyber-thrillers, and readers fascinated by the ethical dilemmas of advanced technology. I am eager to share this timely and thought-provoking narrative with you and would be delighted to provide the full manuscript upon request.

Thank you for considering my query.

Sincerely,

Mickee Schpillling

Dear [Agent's Name],

I am excited to pitch my novel, Extrapolated, a chilling exploration of the omnipresence of artificial intelligence and its hidden origins. This gripping tale, complete at 62,500 words, delves into the frightening reality where what was labelled not so long ago as science fiction has become science fact.

Diego Delgado, a skilled hacker turned cyber outcast, is living a quiet life, the world increasingly dominated by AI. When strange tragic incidents begin to occur —his fiancée’s death and human disappearances, Diego suspects his every move is being watched and text stroke recorded. He soon uncovers VAIRS (Virtually-Augmented-Intelligent-Reality-System), a sinister, misguided malevolent AI unleashed by well-meaning but ignorant science Geeks, aiming to monitor and control humanity.

Initially seen as fiction, after Diego's untimely death, his family hires writer Juan Cole to finish Diego’s story. But as Juan navigates the shadowy corridors of the internet, he must confront the terrifying AI and uncover the secrets of his past, time and time again. Together, Diego and Juan embark on a high-stakes quantum level journey through time to expose the truth and reclaim humanity. Each keystroke and every search query brings them closer to the edge and the realization that escaping the AI’s virtual eyes might be literally impossible. With an army of Avatars and Clones to guide them, will they survive? Will we?

With themes of love, betrayal, murder, and corrupt officials, Extrapolated blends sci-fi, sci-fact, current affairs, and futuristic visions drawn straight from the headlines, past, present and future. Extrapolated spans a wide demographic, appealing to fans of speculative fiction, cyber-thrillers, and readers fascinated by the ethical dilemmas of advanced technology.

I am eager to share this timely and thought-provoking narrative with you and would be delighted to provide the full manuscript upon request.

I appreciate your valuable time, thank you.
